SALEM'S TOP TEN SENIORS

An unprecedented seven students have tied as valedictorians among the top 10 graduates in Salem High School's Class of '86, all having earned 4.0 grade point averages for their four years of high school studies.

"As far as I know, this has never happened before," Principal Rob Delane says. "Students seem to realize more and more they are entering a highly competitive society and are taking more time to achieve academically."

He emphasizes the school is not watering down its courses, "It's just that students are realizing hard work yields rewards."

Delane notes 42 students in the class of 208 graduates have earned 3.2 grade point averages and will be eligible for scholarships from the Salem Alumni Association, as well as from other schools and organizations.

New Seat Belt Law

by Teresa Fisher

A recently passed "seatbelt" law has had many different effects on people. We asked some of the students here at SHS if they wear their seatbelts, and why/why not.

Eric Zines — No. I just don't think about it; it's not in my routine.

Mr. Pidgeon — No, I don't. The main reason is that I have no idea of the location of my seatbelts; the second reason is my truck never wrecks.

Jamie Lantz — Yes, I wear it when I remember, but it's a pain.

Troy Iler — No. Because I don't want to.

Beth Dickey — Sometimes, if I go far yes, but if I'm in town no way.

Kellie Mack — When I go out of town mom tells me to.

Mr. Lantz — Honestly . . . no, I don't. Forgetful, maybe lazy. I've never worn one.

Vicki Wellendorf — No. Because it's a pain in the rear.

Chris Abrams — Yeah, when I go out of town. I feel it's unnecessary in town although that's where most accidents happen.

Jenny Scott — No, it's a waste of time.

Mr. Esposito — Yes, I do, if I remember. I forget more now than I did before they passed the law.

Jim Bakondy — Yeah, I do because it's the law, even though my friends like Fonzi, Belushi, "E," and Huff don't.

Rich Elias III — Just on long trips because I saw a car accident one time and believe me, it was not a very pretty sight. Hey, a word from the wise. Rich Huffman drives his dad's "boat," he should know.

The majority of the students have negative attitudes towards the law, but it's something we should all get in the habit of doing. Hey it will save you twenty dollars if you get pulled over.

salutary neglect had been raging on too long and it was high time for these changes!" (quoted by Jeff Lynn and Julie Paumier) Lee Good said, "It's about time we had some discipline, but in some cases they went a little overboard." With a few exceptions, everyone can say this has been a great year. Mr. Rottenborn, as well as the rest of the administration and faculty, has done an excellent job with the high school. This is a year well done, and it ends with saying the class of "87" wishes next year to be just as good. Have a Great Summer Everyone!!

Blood Drive

by Michelle L. Yarwood

In regard to our recent blood drive, Mrs. Monteleone wishes to thank all of the committees for all the hard work and planning that they put into it. She is very appreciative and happy that the blood drive turned out to be a big success. She says, "I can't thank everyone enough, because without the cooperation of both students and teachers, we could not have had a successful blood drive." She also said that the Red Cross nursing staff complimented our senior high students on their professional attitude and behavior.

Mrs. Monteleone ended in saying, "Next year we are hoping to schedule during the latter part of February and the first part of March so it will not affect students participating in sports."

Thank you, Mrs. Monteleone, for organizing such a successful blood drive. Following is a list of all those who gave the gift of life on May 9, 1986. A big THANK YOU goes to all of you.

Farewell SHS

by Jeff Lynn

Soon her halls will be empty again, and old SHS will surely breathe a sigh of relief. Yet another year will have come and gone much like all the other years she has seen. However, this one will not be soon forgotten.

The year began with an atmosphere that was much changed from last year's. A new vice principal, Mr. Rottenborn, arrived on the scene and student discipline seemed to take an immediate turn for the better. However, it wasn't long before other major problems arose. The teachers and board of education couldn't reach an agreement on a contract, and Salem held its breath for a couple of weeks until a settlement was finally reached.

SHS withstood one near disaster early in the year as fire broke out in the auditorium. However, fast action was taken to douse the flames before too much damage was done. Again, recently folks were shaken up when a bomb threat was made to the high school.

On the lighter side, this school year saw a Salem football team give a sound beating to a heavily favored West Branch team on their own turf.

Seniors again had cause to rejoice when Governor Celeste signed a bill into law that allows all seniors to be dismissed 3 days early at the end of the year.

So, old SHS will return to dormancy until next year's crop of students bring her back to life.

The Pleasure Doom II

by Jennifer Booth

...Then the missile lifted off. When Mistress Grace yelled, "Now get to your battle stations," J.T. and Frankie ran to their fighter jets. They took to the air. Cyndi and some of the others went by Hover Craft. They went to DRY LAKE NO. 2. Andy and the rest went to the tracking out post. Then somewhere in the sky J.T. spotted the missile on his radar. His radio was on. He was talking to Frankie. He said, "We gotta get this babe back home with us." "No, it's my fault. Look, I had the key word punched in by mistake," Frankie said. "No, you are chasing death by its tail." Frankie went off to the missile. J.T. went back to the tracking out post. He

Saying Goodbye

by Lisa Buchanan

Well everyone, this is it. The school year is almost finished and everything will be over with.

To be perfectly honest, things have been over for the seniors for a long time. Once we saw the college acceptances, set the day for the wedding and decided on our leave dates for the service, we figured school didn't matter too much anymore.

Despite how surprised we all are, school is now almost officially over. Commencement is just around the corner, as are the graduation parties we are all eagerly awaiting for. Even now we dread the task of writing "thank you" notes, but although we grit our teeth and force ourselves to do it, we wouldn't have it any other way.

We'll all tell each other to write and keep in touch. We'll convince ourselves that life will never be complete without our friends, but I wonder how many of us will pick up that pen and write our old buddies about what we and our new friends are doing.

I wonder if those people we grew up with and who are now so important to us will continue to hold such a close place in our hearts as we spread out and go our separate ways.

When we get home for the holidays, everyone will head for the football and basketball games and later to Hendrons to renew old friendships and find out who has been up to what. Once we leave Salem, though, it will never be the same. Our interests will change and we will be too busy with the new to be concerned with the old.

It's too sad to want to admit, so before we leave when we see each other at the drive-in, at parties and around town, we'll all smile and laugh and admit our fears of what lies ahead of us. And then we will all reassure ourselves that of course we'll write and keep in touch. As we say this we cross our fingers and hope that we are the exceptions — we are the ones who will find time to write, but I wonder.

Cleveland Marathon

by Julie Paumier

On a humid Sunday afternoon hundreds of men and women met at the Cleveland State University Center. All gathered at 8:30 A.M. on May 18 for one reason — to compete in the '86 Revco Cleveland Marathon. Among those at the starting line of the 26.2 mile run, was Salem's Jeff Lynn.

Jeff received a runner's packet with a T-shirt and most importantly, a list of health conditions which indicate when the runner should drop-out of the race.

The starting line was broken into sections by paces. Those planning to run a 5 minute mile started in the front while the 9-minute milers filled the back. The gun shot rang and the long hours of training now came into play. At mile 13, Jeff was "feeling better" than he expected. However, fatigue set in at 17.5 miles and "everything hurt from the waist down." A doctor urged Jeff to quit at the mile 20 water station.

Jeff replied, "I'm just going down the road."

At this point Jeff had stopped sweating and "every step was laced with excruciating pain." He recalled this condition was at the top of the "danger list" he had received at the University Center. Jeff finally dropped-out at mile 21 "drained physically, mentally, and emotionally."

Although conditions did not permit Jeff to complete the 26.2 mile marathon, his running ability is not to be doubted. He ran an 8.5 minute mile pace throughout the event, which is quite impressive for a first-time marathoner.

Another marathon?

Jeff replied, "There's a possibility that I will take another shot in the fall. I've learned from this marathon so I'll be better prepared next time."

Summer Poll

by Amy Luttmers

Another school year is almost at an end leaving behind good and bad memories along with a farewell to the class of '86 and this year's freshmen making it through their first year at SHS. After this past school year the students must have many plans for the summer such as:

Mr. Pidgeon — "I plan on spending my whole summer dedicated to Mr. Kunar's football program."

Carmen Curtis — "Going to a party in North Carolina for the month of June and hope to recover."

Derek Tullis — "Going down the dirty trail."

Doug Kezelka — "Going down the dirty trail with Derek."

Lori Tasker — "Party with my friends all summer long."

Rules!

by Bill Dunn

After June 8th and all of the parties, the graduate has to think about his or her future. Since the teachers and staff have had a few years of the real world since their graduation, they were asked if they had any "rules-to-live-by" for this year's graduating class. Here are their responses:

Mr. Trough — "Always try to find a little humor in any situation and always be positive in your outlook on your life."

Mr. Esposito — "Always do the best you can in everything you attempt."

Miss Rafferty — "Live your life well."

Mrs. Cozza — "Live each day of your life as you will never have that day again. Be happy."

Mr. Headland — "Enjoy life."

Mr. Ross — "Be truthful to yourself and others. Makes life a lot simpler."

Mrs. Shivers — "The Golden Rule."

Mr. Tamati — "We have been lucky enough to receive each day. To be able to feel good about yourself, strive to be the best you can be in each one of those days."

Miss Santullo — "Try to help someone each day. You will both feel better."

Mr. Viencek — "Perhaps the best advice has been around for years: simply follow the golden rule."

Mr. Krivonak — "Nothing comes easy. If you want something, you have to work hard for it."

Mr. Rottenborn — "Work hard at whatever job you do and always strive for excellence."

Mr. Morris — "Be kind to everyone along the way. Remember to vote on election day."

Good Times

by Lee Good

Well it's that time already, time for the seniors to say good-by high school and hello to the real world. For many Seniors this time will be a real tear jerker. So many Seniors were asked, "What will you miss most about your high school years?"

Lisa Buchanan — "I remember the good times such as Pam and I sitting on the floor at McDonalds when there weren't any booths, and the laughs I've had at the lunch table with everyone. Although I won't mind getting out of here, I will miss some of the people I've gotten to know over the years."

Bill Dunn — "There really isn't much to remember except the friends that are left behind."

Julie Paumier — "I will remember all of my friends and the good times we've had through high school. (Chi-Chi evenings, lab fires and the Turner's research team, West Branch game, teachers strike (almost), and Slanker's after-prom.)"

Jeff Lynn — All of you beautiful people!"

Gina Knight — "I will remember the Senior Prom, attempting to decorate our Junior prom, Mike's after-prom, spaghetti party at Jeff Lynn's to prepare him for the Cleveland Marathon."

Ann Williams — I'm going to remember all the good times and all my friends. Also, all the lab experiments I messed up in Chemistry."

Mark McCartney — "I'll remember all my friends and all the good times I had with them. I'll also remember the fun times I had playing baseball."

Dena DiPasquale — "I'll remember all the fun times my friends and I had — like Florida and Cedar Point."

'86 School Year Wrap-up

by Donna Zorik

August 28, 1985, began a new school year for Salem students. A few changes had been made at the senior high, but overall it was a quiet year.

We started out with a new Vice-Principal, Mr. Joe Rottenborn, and 2 new teachers joined the staff. They were Mrs. Wendy Szackas as a teacher for the handicapped, and Mr. Louis Loibl as an earth science teacher. Mr. John McKee also joined the teaching staff as a health teacher. We also received 2 foreign exchange students for the year. They were Rafael Vargas from Costa Rica and Johan Erikson from Sweden. Both guys made many new friends during their year here and both seemed to like the U.S. Raf will be coming back to attend a junior college in Tennessee, but Johan will stay in Sweden.

A new lunchroom rule went into effect this year also. No student could leave the cafeteria unless they signed out for a 4 minute restroom run. Association tickets were not sold this year either.

Here is a run down of the months during the year:

February . . . Quaker Sam has facial surgery done

— Richard Huffman signs with the Ohio State Buckeyes

— "Pops" Concert was held

March . . . Seniors begin applying for scholarships

That just about raps up the school year. It wasn't a bad year and it wasn't an outstanding one either.

When things were getting dull, something usually arose to give students something to talk about.

Those are the things students remember and look forward to . . .

Graduating seniors, this is it. On behalf of the Quaker, Good Luck, and we hope you had a great last year!

Graduation Is June 8th

by Anne Williams

On June 8th at 2:00, 206 seniors will graduate during the 122nd annual Baccalaureate and Commencement ceremonies held in Salem High's gymnasium. Leading the ceremonies with the benediction will be the Reverend Mikstay from the St. Paul Catholic Church in Salem. The ceremonies will begin with the Processional and move on to the Invocation, which will be given by Dr. George Hazlett from the First Church of the Nazarene.

Next will be the singing of "God of Our Fathers" proceeding the scripture reading from the 23rd Psalm by Dr. Hazlett. Reverend Mikstay will then give a message in his "A Touch of Glass" speech with Dan Solmen welcoming everyone afterwards. The seven valedictorians will present the theme of "Past, Present, and Future." Each speech has been broken down into three parts. Cathy Francisco and John Barrette will begin first with the "Past" portion, Anne Medford and Kim Ricker will follow with their "Present" outlooks, and Kris Huzyak, Doug Morris, and Matt Settle will end the theme with their view on "Future" quests. Each individual speech will be approximately three minutes in length due to the large number of valedictorians this year. After the speeches are given, the senior choir members will sing their preparation of "A Time for Moving On." Mr. Delane will then present the Class of 1986 to the Board President. Vice-president Tracy Pizzino will give the reading of the roll while the Salem Board of Education's president, Mrs. McNicol, awards the diplomas with the assistance of class treasurer Sherri Hite. Sue Bailey, class secretary, will command the changing of the tassels before the Benediction and the final Recessional. The ceremony is expected to last around two hours.

Along with family and friends of the graduates will be Superintendent Mr. Pond, Assistant Superintendent Mr. Engle, the Board of Education members, and the High School Administrators. Also, Steve Pridon will be the guest organist this year.

Although this has been one of the smallest classes to graduate in many years, Mr. Delane feels it is the "most brilliant class." He commented, "It really has been a pleasure to have been associated with this senior class. In addition to being a very fine class academically, they also distinguished themselves in many extra-curricular areas as well as trying to make our school system and community better." He is proud of the participants in the school's clubs and sports, and especially in the newly developed activity TACT.

Mr. Delane wishes to remind seniors that they will be videotaped by MVP 2000 at the ceremonies for anyone who wishes to purchase a tape. Also, the practice on June 2nd at 11:00 will last as long as the seniors make it last. Mr. Deland estimates practice will last at least an hour and 45 minutes if everyone cooperates. He also suggests to parents to come early on the day of graduation to get better parking spaces as a large crowd is expected.

A YEAR OF SPORTS

Salem Students Further Athletic Careers

by Rich Elias

There are a few members of this year's senior class who are going to further their athletic careers. This kind of student should not go unnoticed so here is a little something on each of these 1986 athletes to honor them. They are Rich Huffman, Rich Elias, Sean Kirkland, Paul Bryant, Damian Roelen, Dan Solmen, Rafael Vargas, Lee Good, and Brad Capel.

RICH HUFFMAN is on his way to play football at OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY. He is leaving on July 29th. He will be studying Business Administration.

Rich led the MVC in receiving this season by catching 35 passes for 542 yards and 4 touchdowns. He registered 81 solo tackles, 3 sacks, and 2 fumble recoveries as a defensive end. He was all MVC, all County, all Area and all North Eastern OHIO. Rich or "Huff" to most people has played football for 4 years, lettering 3 of the 4 years. He has also played basketball and baseball for 3 years. He couldn't play his senior year because of a shoulder injury from football.

Coach Bruce has plans for this 6'3" 225-lb. tight end. He will be going into summer practice as a possible next year starter because the other two tight ends are seniors. He will be receiving the number 87 at OSU. Rich will be participating in the North-South All Star game this summer. I asked Rich how he feels about going to OSU and he said, "I am really excited about going to OSU and hopefully I can play some this year and someday start for them. I can't believe I am leaving so early. There is not much time for my friends left. I plan to work harder than I ever did before and I am glad that I have the opportunity to fulfill a dream."

DAN SOLMEN is on his way to wrestle at Kent State University. He will be wrestling heavyweight. Dan or known to his friends as "Chewy" wrestled his way to 22-7-1 record as a senior. He wrestled at a very tough 185 lbs. weight class this season. He made it to the regionals and was one match away from heading to the state tournament at Ohio State. He was Salem's finest wrestler as a junior and a senior. Dan has lettered three of his four wrestling seasons. He has also been a member of the Salem football team for three years. Dan is also this year's senior class President. Dan will be leaving this coming August. I asked Dan why he chose Kent State and he said, "I liked Kent because it was a division 1 school and because they have one of the best wrestling programs in the United States."

SEAN KIRKLAND is on his way to play football at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. He will be quarterbacking and will be studying Industrial Arts. Sean or better known as "Boots" will be leaving on August 15th. Sean only played three games his senior year because of being sidelined from a wrist injury. He still managed to pass for 671 yards and a 54 percent passing percentage. Sean was a two year letterman in his four years as a Quaker. He also played safety for Salem. Sean also played three years of baseball and one year of basketball. Sean will be playing in the Penn-Ohio Bowl this summer in which he will be playing safety. I asked Sean why he chose Edinboro and he said, "They are near the top of their division every year. They are a good division 2 school and are trying to play a division 1 schedule. I really think that in time, I can play here. The education and distance away from home also caught my eye."

DAMIAN ROELEN is on his way to play college baseball after catching many college coach's eyes during his fine pitching and hitting performance as a senior. Damian or known to most people as "Tubby" has not yet decided on which college he will play for, but it is between Youngstown, Akron, and Malone. Damian had a very fine senior year for Salem. He was second on the team with a batting average of .361. He was 4-4 in pitching and had a 2.43 earned run average of 361. He also played first base and left field. Damian has lettered in baseball for three years. He played football for two years and basketball for three years. Damian will be studying History Education in college.

BRAD CAPEL is on his way to play basketball for Otterbein College. Brad or "Bay Man" to most people will be studying Business Administration at Otterbein. Brad scored 14.3 points per game which was second best on the team and averaged about 5 rebounds per game. As a junior Brad moved from guard to forward and played well. He was a starter on last year's 19-3 team. Brad was an All MVC, All Area, and All County performer. He was chosen to play in the Columbiana County All Star Game and he played very well scoring 12 points. Brad has lettered three out of his four years on the basketball team. He has also been a very contributing member of the track team for four years. Brad, who is a very hard worker, at 6'3", was one of this year's finest rebounders. He was very good on defense and was the team's captain. I asked Brad why he chose Otterbein and he said, "It is a very nice school and it is small. The basketball is good and the education is very good."

RAFAEL VARGAS is on his way to play basketball at a junior college in Tennessee known as TMI Academy. He will be leaving on July 21. Rafael, an exchange student from Costa Rica, or better known as Raf, will be studying industrial engineering or agriculture at TMI. Rafael, who was a big weapon for the Quakers this season, averaged 11 rebounds per game and scored 16 points per game. He was an All MVC, All County, All Area, and All Northeastern Ohio. He participated in The MVC Classic game and was the MVP scoring 23 points and 17 rebounds. He was Salem's MVP, leading rebounder, and leading foul shooter during his senior season. Rafael, at 6'6" 230-lbs., was keyed on all season, but was unstoppable at times. I asked Rafael why he chose TMI and he said, "The Pasko family and Coach Spack helped me choose TMI Academy and they thought that this college was good for education and basketball purposes."

LEE GOOD is on his way to play college baseball at Tiffin University Lee or known to his friends as "Liter," was Salem's hardest throwing pitcher. He had a good senior year despite his 2-4 pitching record. Lee had an earned run average of 2.58. He also played first base and third base for Salem. This was a very struggling season for Lee at the plate because he has batted very well his past three years with the Quakers. He lettered three out of his four baseball seasons with Salem. Lee was also a member of the football team for four years, lettering three out of the four years. Lee will be leaving for college in August and will be studying Law Enforcement. I asked Lee why he chose Tiffin and he said, "I chose it because it is a small school and that the education is good. The baseball team is still very young and I hope to play early."

PAUL BRYANT is on his way to play football at Hiram College. He will be leaving on August 19th. Paul, a placekicker for Salem who went out for football as a junior, worked very hard those two years and became a very fine kicker for Salem. He hit 11 of 14 PAT's and 3 out of 5 field goal attempts including a clutch 35 yard field goal in overtime which gave the Quakers a 26-23 win over Canfield this year. Paul lettered one year in football and two years in track. Paul was All MVC, All Area, and All County as a senior. He will be studying communications business or Pre-med at Hiram. I asked Paul why he chose Hiram and he said, "The education is good and the reputation of the school caught my eye. The football is good and the distance is very pleasing."

RICH ELIAS is on his way to play football at West Liberty State College. He played split end for Salem and was second in receiving in the conference behind Huffman. He caught 27 passes for 527 yards and led the team in scoring with 5 touchdowns. He plans to study Physical Education and Journalism. Rich or "E" to most people, has played all 3 sports including baseball and basketball in his four years at Salem. He lettered in baseball and football for two years and in basketball for one year. Rich chose West Liberty because of the education, football, and the very nice campus. Elias, at 6'3" 205 lbs., will be wearing number 89 at college. He will be playing split end. Rich leaves for summer practice on August 17th.

Senior Exchange Students

by Alissa Campbell

The time has come to say "farewell" to our high school and our friends. The 1986 seniors are experiencing this feeling, but for four seniors, the feeling is a little bit stronger. Eric Stephens, Alissa Campbell, Morlinda Shaffer, and Sylvia Torti will be traveling to foreign countries to represent the United States as exchange students. They can not come home for the holidays or weekends to visit their families or high school teachers like the rest of the senior class. But, they do know that theirs is a once-in-a-lifetime experience that will greatly influence their lives.

Eric Stephens, who will be leaving for Venezuela in August, said, "I'm eager to meet new people. It's going to be hard to leave all these memories back here, but I know I can come back to them." Upon arriving in Venezuela, Eric will be attending an orientation camp in a monastery for three days. "Yes," he said laughingly, "I'll be isolated from the rest of the world." Eric intends to go to Youngstown State University after his trip to attain a double major in pre-law and Spanish.

Alissa Campbell will be leaving in mid July to stay a year in The Netherlands. Unlike Eric, her orientation camp will last about two and a half weeks. She said of her experience, "I appreciate a challenge, and since I took three years of Spanish and Dutch is related to German, it should be a real challenge!" Alissa plans to attend Miami University to major in International Studies. She said, "Besides being a lot of fun, this should help me a lot with my college classes."

Morlinda Shaffer will be living in Mexico for a year. She leaves in July for an orientation-like convention at Otterbein College, but will be leaving in August for her country. Morlinda, who has talked with several Rotary returnees, said, "I think its really going to be a lot of fun to meet new people. Even though it'll be hard to go to school, I think I'll probably have a lot of fun and learn a lot." Morlinda will be traveling with Rotary Youth Exchange while the others will be with American Field Service.

Sylvia Torti thinks her experience will be a "nice transition from high school to college." Sylvia leaves for Denmark toward the end of July or beginning of August. She says that meeting people from other countries while in AFS at high school has influenced her decision to apply as an exchange student. She says, "I think it'll be a good experience to learn about another culture and get a broader view of the world." She adds, "It'll also be a lot of fun." Sylvia plans to go to the University of Wisconsin to study liberal arts with pre-med courses.

Even though it will be a tough break from the life they know, Eric, Alissa, Morlinda, and Sylvia are willing to accept the challenge of being exchange students in foreign lands. Good luck to them in their ventures.

Boys' Track

by Nick Quinn

Well, the Boys' Track season has come to an end. The team has done very well with a team of mostly underclassmen.

Their final record was 3 and 0 in duals, beating Poland 94 - 38, Cambell Memorial 112 - 20 and Warren JFK 77 - 55.

The team had one Triangular meet this year. The teams were West Branch, our old nemesis, and Struthers. The Quakers were second with 51 points, West Branch first with 68 and Struthers with 48.

The team has done very well in big meets too. With all the meets they attended, they took second place in all of them except one. They got second in the F. E. Cope Relays with 84 points. Then they got 15th at the Bill Ward Invitational. The Quakers were off to the county meet and ended up with 100 points and second place. The last big meet was the M.V.C. meet. Again, the Quakers got second place with 109 points.

At the district track meet, the 3200 meter relay won the right to go to the Regionals held at Austintown.

Outstanding participants this year were Brad Capel (Senior) 400 meter relay-high jump — long jump, John Casey (Junior) 2 mile relay and 800 meter relay, Bob Vitco (Junior) mile relay — 100 meter dash — 200 meter dash and 400 meter relay, Paul Huzyak (Sophomore) pole vault.

This year was also a special one for Coach Newton too. This was the year he hit 100 wins in his coaching year.

The season has been a success, hoping the same for next year.

Girls' Track

by Mark McCartney

The Girls' Varsity track team had an outstanding season this year. One of the accomplishments of this year was an undefeated record of 7-0. The girls also won their MVC league championship meet over an always powerful Canfield team. Salem girls placed a close third in the county meet and qualified 8 events for the district finals at Austintown Fitch. Presently the girls have one event advancing to Regional competition, the 3200 relay team. The team consists of Sue McKinney, Erica Beagle, Kim Ricker and Melinda Wilms. This 3200 relay team recently set a new school record of 10:03 at Districts, passing up the old mark of 10:13. Sue McKinney has also set a new record this season in the 3200 run.

This year there are 4 senior girls on the varsity track team: Becky McGuire, Kim Ricker, Diana Reese and Sabrina Wilms.

I recently talked to each of these girls and got their opinions on the past season.

Becky McGuire — "I'm very excited! What a season for our senior year. We had a young team, but with a lot of ability. Thanks to those who helped make our senior year GREAT! Good luck next year."

Kim Ricker — "The season was excellent! We were a huge team, but we all worked together and had a lot of spirit. I'm proud of our accomplishments. The ultimate was winning the MVC. Thanks to everyone for their help and support."

Diana Reese — "I thought that we really had a great year. Beating Canfield by one point in the MVC was really exciting! Thanks to everyone who helped to make our season a successful one. Good Luck next year!"

Sabrina Wilms — "I feel that in my senior year that I gained a lot of respect from the younger members, which made the season a very excellent and enjoyable experience for every member of the team."

The team and Coaches Miller, Toothman, and Lipp would like to say thanks and good luck to our Seniors. Their talents and leadership on the team will be missed.

TACT Party

by Mike Schmid

The TACT Graduation Party is tomorrow night (Teens Against Chemical Taking). About 65 to 70 graduating seniors are expected to show up. There will be dancing, swimming, and games and prizes. "Some local merchants helped a lot for the party and other meetings." Also, Mr. and Mrs. Cozza helped out more than anybody of all; they created it. There will be a DJ for the dancing and the moonlight swim will be the main attractions of the night; weather permitting. It will start at 6:00 P.M. and end at 11:00 P.M. at the Golf Club. And for part of a year, the seniors had fun without having to be drunk or high. Mrs. Cozza also said that "the parents of the members were and still are very supportive in TACT (Teens Against Chemical Taking)."
