SALEM SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL — SALEM, OHIO

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1986

Traditional Trials

by Beth Haschen

After graduation from Salem Senior High one thing we will never forget is the rivalry between the Salem Quakers and the West Branch Warriors.

It all started back in 1964. West Branch was a very small school just starting a football team. They had nowhere to play their home games, so Salem lent them Reilly Stadium on Saturday nights. From there the West Branch-Salem rivalry branched off into what it is today.

Here's what some former S.H.S. students turned teachers remember most about the on going, on growing competition between the two schools.

Mr. Tamati — It was about '68, one of the first Quaker-West Branch games. The Quakers were warming up and the Warriors charged through. We beat them badly that year. I also remember playing against them for three years, but especially my senior year when we fell to the Warriors 7-0. We dropped at least two touchdown passes.

Mrs. Esposito — West Branch was one of the few teams we were able to beat my junior and senior years, and we shut them out both times. It was always nice to play at Reilly too. One of our freshmen later transferred to West Branch and initiated their fine line of quarterbacks (Mark Rohaley).

Mr. Shivers — When I went to school, it was considered an easy game on our schedule. My senior year I was in a pep assembly skit. I was dressed as a warrior football player. The cheerleaders were dressed as the Quaker football team.

We pretended to foresee the game that night. The Quakers (cheerleaders) scored one time, and didn't attempt the extra point or run anymore plays, when I mentioned that we should. They said we got our point across. Well, that night we LOST. Warriors had 8, and we had, as predicted, 6.

Mrs. Hays — A boy named John Ross lived in Salem and played on the Salem football team. He moved out of Salem district, so he went to West Branch High School. My Senior year we had a whole week before the West Branch game called "Kill John Ross Week." That was a very big deal then.

As you can see the Salem-West Branch rivalry was as strong then as it is now, and probably will be for many years to come.

Band Poll

by Kara Bushaw

The prom committee is looking for a local band to play at the 1987 prom. By the suggestion of Kathy Allison, secretary of the Junior Class, The Quaker is holding a poll to determine who SHS's favorite local band is. Anyone interested in giving his suggestions to the committee can write his choice down and place it in a box which is located in the library. Keep in mind that these are only suggestions. The group which obtains the most votes will not necessarily be the band that plays at the prom. Help the prom committee and place your vote.

Spooky Statue Stands

by Becky Prickett

There is an unsolved mystery in Salem, Ohio. A statue of a little girl located in Hope Cemetery never goes without flowers. No one knows who puts the flowers on her grave.

Goldie Bell Taylor died of iron poisoning in 1886. She was only two years old. Her father, Jacob Taylor, loved Goldie very much. This love for his daughter inspired him to send a picture of Goldie to master sculptors in Italy. There they fashioned a statue in her image.

The cost for the finished statue was $2,000 dollars. It also cost $2,000 dollars to ship it back to America. Jacob had to sell some of his land near Sebring in order to have the money to pay for the statue.

One can find the statue just inside North Lincoln Avenue entrance along the left roadway. Maybe someday the mystery will be solved. Could it be that Jacob Taylor has come back to put flowers on his beloved daughter's grave? We may never know.

Valuable Visits

by Kathy Monteleone

During the Annual Rotary Career Day on October 21 Salem High sophomores traveled to local establishments to inquire about career interests of their choice. Arriving there, employees gave demonstrations on how to work in that field. Some of the places that participated were: the post office, the radio station, Salem Community Theatre, Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic, City Hall, and more. Afterwards, they went to the Kent State University Salem Branch as guests of the Rotary Club for lunch and listened to speakers.

Some opinions of Salem students are:

Julia Soyars — "I thought it was very informative and it helped steer people in the right direction for a career."

Jenny Smith — "I thought it was very interesting."

Ladonna Wood — "I learned a lot and had fun at the same time."

Returning to SHS students were required to hand in a form telling what they did and whether or not it helped them to determine their career choice.

Teacher Poll

This is the first of a series of articles pertaining to teachers and whether they feel their careers are as satisfying as they had hoped it would be. Our topic for this issue is, "Do you feel you have achieved your teaching goals?" and here are some of the replies.

Mrs. Haddad — "No, presently I am working on my masters degree. Also a teacher is always striving to improve teacher's methods."

Mr. Shivers — "No, because not all students grasp what I teach, and I haven't found a method yet that can do that."

Mr. Spack — "I don't feel any teacher ever reaches all his goals. I feel I have reached some of my goals, and I try to set my goals a little higher each year."

Miss Mercure — "No teacher really achieves his or her goals completely. In a given year one feels more satisfied with final results; but on the whole, one sets additional goals as others are achieved."

Miss Hasson — "No, a person never achieves all their goals, because he is constantly setting new ones."

Mrs. Reed — "Yes, I feel I have achieved my goals in teaching, otherwise I would always feel frustrated. My goals in German are to get students to be able to speak, listen, read, and write in German. When I hear students conversing with each other, or myself, or when they write in German. I feel that I have accomplished some of my goals."

Mr. Monteleone — "Yes, as far as what students are learning, I do."

Forty-three percent of the teachers polled felt they have at least achieved some of their goals. The remaining fifty-seven percent feel that there are always new goals to be achieved.

Debatable Drinking Age

by Becky Prickett

The deadline for the drinking age to be raised from 19 to 21 was October 1. By not raising it the state of Ohio lost about $16 million dollars this year, and it will lose double that amount next year. The money was to be used for federal highway spending. This money could be reclaimed once Ohio passed the law raising the drinking age to 21.

The question, "Do you think that raising the drinking age would be effective?" was asked of some of the students and faculty. Here is what they had to say:

Mrs. Cozza — "I doubt it. It would have to be enforced to be effective."

Mr. Mucci — "It would just take the 19 and 20-year-olds out of the bars. It would not make them stop drinking."

Miss Rafferty — "No, I think they will drink if they want to."

Holly Clark — "No, I think that kids drink because it is illegal. If the government made it legal to drink they would not drink as much."

Derek Tullis — "No, because if kids want to drink bad enough they will get the alcohol."

Chip Null — "People would get the liquor somehow and still get drunk."

Mary Jo Iden — "There will just be more illegal people drinking."

I Wish . . .

by Beth Haschen

There have always been things that students would like to see changed in the school system. I thought it would be a good idea to collect some of these ideas. The question: What changes would you like to see in our school system? Here are some replies I received.

Patti Lippiatt — We should be able to leave school during study halls.

Colleen Hutton — They should let us leave during lunch, and wear unsanctioned club shirts and jackets to school.

Duane Anderson — We should be able to leave school during lunch!

Matt Wolf — We should be able to wear sweat pants, and shorts when the weather is hot, and leave during study halls.

Jule Lutz — Leave during lunch and shorten the periods.

Lori Wilson — Longer lunches and let us leave school during lunch.

Michele Lippiatt — Should be able to leave school during study halls on exam days.

I would like to thank those who contributed to my survey, and wish them luck in their continuous quest to be allowed to leave school during study halls and lunch!!!!

Fearless Freshmen

by Connie Hubankin

Even as seniors we can relate to the change from the Jr. High to the High School. It can be fun but also scary. So I decided to ask some Frosh what they liked or disliked about the high school so far. Here are the results.

Karin Wellendorf — "It's casual."
Tammy Criss — "It's great. It's a lot better than Jr. High."

Jim Gault — "It's a lot bigger. Classes are harder to find."

Bob Bricker — "I don't like most of the student body and I do like some of the teachers."

Beth Rance — "It's been fun so far."

Duane McCaslin — "I don't like the seniors."

John Bowser — "It's great, a lot more freedom, but some of the upperclassmen think they can push us around because we're freshmen."

Chris Bryan — "It's fun! The classes are exciting."

Angie Evans — "Otay!"
Buckwheat!"

Missy Stroka — "It's different."

Kallie Young — "I like it; it's better than the junior high."

Jason Scott — "I like it; it's bigger."

Michelle Hahn — "More freedom."

Lisa Herron — "I like it, but it's not what I expected."

Linda Stanley — "Fun, more exciting than junior high."

Christa Blankenship — "I like it; people are really nice."

Erik Sobek — "THE WOMEN!!!"

Scott England — "You don't have to know which steps to go up, or which to go down."

Lisa Drazal — "MY SISTER!"

Keith Dickson — "I don't like too much homework."

Well, as you can see, Frosh are adjusting well. So The Quaker would like to wish them the best in the remainder of their Freshman year.

Non-Sanctioned Clubs

by Jillian Bonfert

Have you ever wondered why there are rules against non-sanctioned clubs in the high school? Recently I decided to do a little survey on this matter just to find out the true reasons these rules exist. I had the opportunity to talk with the juvenile officers in Lisbon one of whom was Gene Gallo, a prominent officer for 8 years now. Mr. Gallo stated that the rules set against these clubs were set by the school board, and the officers just enforce them.

Then I took time out to talk with our principal Mr. Delane. Mr. Delane believes that gangs promote a behavioral problem—students just act differently and this causes most friction between the student body. Mr. Delane also stated that there have been past problems with the clubs, and the point is that clubs cause problems and with rules against them the problems are erased. School is a learning system, not a place for clubs or gangs.

Many clubs began back even before the 1950's and still reign in many high schools throughout the country. Kind of makes you wonder if clubs will ever become just another thing of the past.

Rules: Infraction

Having or wearing on school property a non-sanctioned club shirt, jacket, etc.

Penalty:

- 1st time — 4 nights detention
- 2nd time — 8 nights detention
- 3rd time — 1 day suspension
- 4th time — 3 days suspension

Marching To The Beat Of A Different Drummer

by Sharon Corl

Mr. Andy Schuller, a music instructor at Salem for the past six years, has left to become a member of the U.S. Marine Corps Band. This band is also known as the "President's Own" and was originally directed by John Phillip Sousa. The band is in charge of all the musical responsibilities for the President. Mr. Schuller tried out for the position of coronet player this past summer and was notified in September that he had the honor of becoming a member of the group.

Schuller attended the Dana School of Music at Youngstown State University where he earned a B.S. in degree in Music Education. After graduation he became instructor of music at the 5th and 6th grade levels and also an assistant at the Jr. High and high school in Salem.

Mr. Schuller has made many accomplishments with his musical talents. These include directing music for many plays at the Youngstown Playhouse, participating in the Packard Band and Youngstown Symphony, and he was one of the founding members of the Western Reserve Brass Quintet. Schuller was also named Bandsman of the Year his senior year at Salem.

Mr. Jim Purrington has already assumed Mr. Schuller's position as music director. Purrington is also a graduate of Salem High School, and he earned his degree in Music Education from Kent State University.

The Haunted Woods

by Dan Murphy

Ghosts, goblins, witches, and bats, these are not the only things that come around on Halloween. Other things that come are haunted houses and haunted woods. Haunted houses and haunted woods have ghosts, goblins, witches, bats, and many other freaky and scary things. This year the Salem Jaycees are not promoting a haunted house, although they, along with the Junior Class of United High School, are sponsoring the Haunted Woods. The proceeds will go to United High School scholarship funds and the after prom.

The attractions at the Haunted Woods this year include Grandma's house, Children of the Corn, and Freddie Kruger from Nightmare on Elm Street. So, if you have the time, and like to be scared, stop in at the Saxon Club on State Route 9 and take a walk, or run, through the Haunted Woods. Remember... this is Halloween, and it is the scariest night of the year, especially at the Haunted Woods.

Guidance

by Charles Dickey

Mrs. Bosu, Mr. Stoffer, Mrs. Ward, are the guidance counselors. They help the students at Salem.

The job of the guidance counselor is to help the students when they have a problem. They also help students with scheduling problems.

They make sure the students have enough credits to graduate.

Their job is not always easy. Sometimes they might have to make some changes to accommodate students, and parents.

Their help is appreciated by all the students, and remember they are always there when you need them.

So next time you need some help go see the guidance counselor, they can help.

Politicians Swing

by Matt Althouse

The Salem High School Pep Band has expanded its horizons. This student organized group normally uses its talents for school functions. Recently, the band has begun performing at public events.

Wednesday, October 29th, the bandsmen extended their services for an appearance by Richard Celeste, Celeste, Ohio's Democratic governor, attended a labor awards ceremony for workers at Salem's E. W. Bliss industrial plant.

Several weeks ago, the Pep Band was hired by members of the Republican party. The band traveled throughout Columbiana County with local election candidates on a "quick-stop" tour to arouse voter interest. The journey took the musical group to places including Lisbon and Columbiana where they played while the Republican office seekers spoke to the public.

Members of the band are enjoying their recent activity, and they want to do more. Commenting on the Pep Band's readiness, senior captain Duane Anderson stated, "We are available for any festivity requiring entertainment for reasonable rates." Other musicians involved are Mike McGrath, Nate Wilson, Theresa Moyer, Mark Muller, Bill Bryant, Nick Althouse, Mark Coalmer, Amy Breckenridge, Gretchen Schlueter, and Steve Marroulis.

Pumpkin Prayers

by Lisa Esterly

Have you ever wondered where Halloween originated from? Well here are the facts. Halloween originated from the Celtic Tribe which existed over 2,000 years ago. The date of October 31 was set aside to worship Samhain, the Celt's Lord of Death. On this day sacrifices such as animals and sometimes humans were burned to show the Celts.

Our ways of celebrating have slightly changed. Trick or treating, parades and costumes are several ways we celebrate Halloween. We can't forget "The Great Pumpkin," who arises from amidst the others in the pumpkin patch to grant wishes. I asked several SHS students and staff, "If the Great Pumpkin was to grant you one wish what would it be?" Here are their replies:

Mr. Jeckavitch — "To win the lottery."

Mr. Esposito — "I already got it. The New York Mets are World Champs."

Julie Settle — "For a handsome prince to come take me away to his castle in the Bahamas."

Jason Fitzpatrick — "I'd wish for 10 more wishes!"

Mr. Kunar — "To beat West Branch of course! And have all birthdays stop."

Greg Marple — "Find the girl of my dreams!"

Willi Colbert — "To marry Kim."

Mr. Shivers — "Have the girls' basketball team and I to achieve our goals."

Holly Clark — "For the BRATT PACK to have a well-balanced treasury for potion for FLORIDA '87!!!"

Becky Prickett — "To be Chonga pals with Bud, Spock, Knaufy Ray, and Krissy-Sue forever!!!"

Mr. Trough — "Have Virginia Budde take over for me when I retire — it's called revenge!!!"

PST . . .

by Nicolette Ehler

The Parent Teacher Association has been in existence for many years. The parents and teachers decided that there was an ingredient missing in this group — the students. In January of 1985, they started a new association called the P.S.T. This group consists of the parents, teachers, and students. They all join together and discuss operations that are going on in the school. The first meeting will be held on Monday, October 29, 1986 at 7:30 P.M. Everyone is encouraged to be present.

White Christmas

by Nicolette Ehler

The White Christmas Committee will soon be holding the annual White Christmas dance. This year's committee will be having the dance at Timberlanes on Friday, Dec. 26, following Christmas day. The Seniors and Juniors will be dining and dancing in formal attire, to celebrate the Christmas season. The entree will be the choice of steak or lasagna. The tickets will be sold for $30 a couple. This year's committee is also planning to have a D.J. Prior to the dance, a fund raiser will be sponsored by the Senior class. They will be soliciting for your support.

Behind The Scenes

by Jillian Bonfert

Every day before our school fills itself with bustling students, our cafeteria workers are busily preparing hot nutritious lunches for the student body, here at Salem Senior High. Each day over 1,500 hot lunches are served and multitudes of a la carte items are sold. Daily, our dedicated cafeteria workers make sure we are fed on time and are provided with healthy and reasonably good food. For this they should be recognized.

Miss Rita Cameron our food service director here at Salem Senior High is a big part of our cafeteria assembly. Mrs. Carol Headland assists Miss Cameron in handling the ordering, stock records and possibly some preparations concerning our school lunches. Many other women who assist are: Mrs. Marsha Schwartz, Mrs. Virginia Sox, Mrs. Donna Waltzer, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Mrs. Gloria McNeelan, Mrs. Barbara Johnson, Mrs. Ruth Jeffreys, Mrs. Mary Fowler and Mrs. Fran Dickey.

All these people are very dedicated, and prove to be a very big asset in nutrition here at Salem Senior High. Every day our lunches are required to have one food from each of the 4 food groups and these people make sure they do. Many foods that are served are not only good-tasting but also high in the vitamins and proteins. We need to make it through our long, hard school days. Some, maybe could stand a little extra something but relatively the food here is excellent!

So next time you sit down in our school cafeteria with a hot nutritious lunch under your nose, give the people "behind the scenes" a thankful little thought. Believe me it's well deserved as stated by a fellow cafeteria worker "It's a hard job, but someone's gotta do it."

The I.O.E. Department has been busy since school started with many different activities. We have just recently completed our money-making campaign. Proceeds from the campaign will finance our Annual Business Luncheon, skill contests, and other miscellaneous expenses.

On Sept. 25 the I.O.E. Department went on a field trip to the General Motors Complex in Lordstown. It was a good experience for us, as we went through the offices there and learned a lot.

The I.O.E. Department was showcased at the PST meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 29, at the High School Library. Two graduates (Teri Glynn, Kim Endicott) spoke about their office experiences. Michelle Moulden (Steno II) introduced her employer, Mr. Ray Isabella, and Cindy Cope (Accounting II) introduced her employer, Ms. Brenda Bradley. These employers talked about the advantages of hiring I.O.E. students in their offices. Following the meeting the Senior students gave demonstrations on the office equipment in the I.O.E. labs.

Spirit Week

by Tracy Early

For several years, the week of the West Branch football game has been set aside for the traditional Spirit Week at Salem High School.

Starting Spirit Week on Tuesday, students dressed in flannel shirts and bib-overalls caricaturing West Branch farmers.

Wednesday the halls were filled with students wearing "Beat West Branch" tee shirts.

Cheerleaders were selling red ribbons with gold football charms on Thursday. The ribbons had the slogan "Beat West Branch Again!" labeled on them.

Showing true school colors, Friday ended the week with Red and Black Day. A pep assembly presented by the cheerleaders was also held to further motivate students for the rivalry between West Branch and Salem.

Your Student Representatives

by Keith Hendricks

Are you aware of the student council and what they do? They are the ones to thank for such activities as the MORP and the Homecoming Dance. In addition to sponsoring these activities they sponsor the United Fund drive. However, you probably did not know that once a month they meet with Mr. Delane to discuss any problems the school faces. Any input to your student council could be helpful.

Your student council officers are Chris Cosgrove, president; Janel Fitzgerald, vice president; Dawn Pitts, secretary; Kim Evans and Joanie Burchfield, co-treasurers. All are enrolled in the senior class. Also from the senior class is Matt Loudon. From the junior class is Tonya Beall, Wendy Gibson, Mike O'Brien, Brian Staudt, Susan Sweitzer, and Tess Sweningson. In the sophomore class are Nan Emch, Andrea Engle, Abby McKee, Lisa Miller and Julie Settle. In the freshman class are Kathy Barelli, Tim Evans, Brandi Hephner, Tracy Marple, Judy Shears and Gertrude Wilms.

Stepping Out

by Sharon Corl

The band has worked very hard in preparation for this year's season. Many people do not realize the work it requires to perform a show. This year the band had only one week and two days of band camp to learn the marching drills to two shows, including the memorization of eight songs. Also, the majorettes and colorguard were responsible for learning eight different routines. Mr. Jeckavitch, the high school's band director, feels the band is doing "fine," and that "they are as far as they should be." He feels the band has improved a lot since band camp but still could go even further.

The band will be traveling to New York this spring to perform in the St. Patrick's Day parade. Fund raisers will be going on all year in order to raise money for the trip. These will include a calendar sale, fruit sale, a breakfast at Ponderosa, and a fourth fund raiser sponsored by Wendy's.

Tonight, the band will be performing Script Ohio. The show includes the "Notre Dame Victory March," during which the band will form the letters N.D. (Notre Dame). Then, the band will spell out "Ohio" on the field while playing the "French National Defile." This year marks the 50th anniversary of Script Ohio. It was first performed by the Ohio State Marching Band in 1936. Our own band will be performing the show for its 12th time tonight. Traditionally, the band performs Script Ohio as its final show.

Excellent Exley

by Kathy Allison

As the students of SHS walk through the halls they may see the new student teacher, Mr. Exley. He is a student teacher for Mr. Esposito and Mrs. Esposito. Mr. Exley is a graduate of Mount Union College where he studied English, Literature and Journalism. He is presently living in Alliance. He started taking over classes a few weeks ago and will continue until mid-December. Mr. Exley has taken over Mrs. Esposito's Sophomore English and Mr. Esposito's Junior English classes and his Journalism class. Thank you, Mr. Exley, for your time and Good Luck at Salem and in your teaching career.

No Time To Dine

by Becky Prickett

In a recent interview with Mr. Delane several points were brought out regarding this year's change in the school lunch system.

He stated that the new system created a "nicer atmosphere" for the students. There are now enough tables for students to eat comfortably. Also there are no longer arguments about students taking chairs or cutting in line.

The system also makes it easier for school personnel. It is more convenient to prepare for the smaller lunches, and to clean up after them. It is also easier on those who supervise the lunches.

A few students feel that the lunches are too short. The period was reduced by 11 minutes, but Mr. Delane felt "that the benefits outweigh that reduction."

Finally, Mr. Delane said that he felt "the students have adjusted to this very well, and we appreciate their sit

Sizzling In The Snow

by Matt Wolf

Old Man Winter is fast approaching. It is time to get out your winter clothes and don your boots. You'll want to dress in the latest styles. This year, winter fashions are really sizzling!

This year the overall look in winter fashions seems to be more low key, with an emphasis on jackets. After several years of jacket length acting like a yo-yo, this year the jacket is longer and slightly fitted. Jacket fabrics include cashmere, camels hair, alpaca and mohair. The top-notch colors will be soft pastels.

Sweater-set variations are back again. Start with a turtleneck or shell and add a long cardigan with or without buttons. Neutrals like charcoal-gray, camel, brown and black are the basics to have on hand. Then add a flash of red. Comfy thigh-length sweaters are also making headlines this winter.

Wrap-around skirts are fashionable this year. The length becomes longer than last year. Wool skirts should be worn for the sophisticated look.

On the ground low heels are much the thing this winter. They are worn to match the sweaters. The colorful and patterned Bass boots are sure to keep you in the style of things.

Now that you are fashionably dressed from head-to-toe you are bound to be a smash. I'll be looking for you.

White Christmas

by Bobbi Galchick

The White Christmas dance is scheduled for December 26, 1986. It will be held at Timberlanes and will cost $30.00 a couple. Dinner will be included, and the White Christmas committee decided on steaks or lasagna. This year there will be a D.J.

Fun Fair

by Rick Wyand

A COLLEGE FAIR was held on Wednesday, Oct. 15, in the cafeteria. Over 300 juniors and seniors participated in the event held by the Guidance Dept. The juniors attended the fair during the 7th period. The seniors attended the fair during the 8th period. Parents were encouraged to attend also. Many colleges sent representatives to the fair, to help and encourage the students. The University of Akron, Findlay College, Malone College, Youngstown State, Muskingum College, Bowling Green State University, and Kent State, were just a few of the colleges that attended. The College Fair was set up to help juniors and seniors on deciding which college to go to.

Mind Boggling

by Keith Hendricks

Many Seniors and Juniors will be taking the SATs and ACTs this year. These tests are a prerequisite to many colleges. Students planning to attend an Ohio college should take the ACT since all Ohio colleges accept these scores. Students that are athletes or plan to attend a school out of state should take both tests.

Test dates for the ACT in the 1986-87 school year are as follows: December 13, February 7, April 11, and June 13. Deadlines for the same tests are as follows in the same order: November 14, January 9, March 13, and May 15. Juniors interested in taking the test should attend one of the last three dates. The ACT costs $10.50 to register. The test takes 3 1/2 hours.

Test dates for the SAT in this school year are December 6, January 24, April 4, May 2, and June 6. Deadlines for the same tests are October 31, December 19, February 27, March 27, May 1. Juniors interested in taking the test should attend one of the last three dates. The test is 3 hours long and costs $11.50.

Prom Preparations

by Kara Bushaw

Although the 1987 Prom seems a far way off to some, the Junior Class Prom Committee sees it as a closely approaching reality. The committee has already begun to work on it under the advisors, Mrs. Szakacs and Miss Meenan. Meetings are being held, committees are being formed and suggestions are being taken. Many details of the prom can not be given out yet, though, according to Miss Meenan.

The committee has been busy with fundraisers, trying to raise the $2,500 which is still needed to hold the prom. The largest fundraiser so far has been the sale of carnations for Sweetest Day, which was Saturday, October 18th. During lunch periods, 250 flowers were sold by members of the Junior Class. Slips were later delivered to lockers, and the students who received slips picked up their carnations in Mrs. Szakacs' room.

Other fundraisers will also be taking place in order to raise the needed money. A jewelry sale begins on November 5. The jewelry will come with a lifetime guarantee. The class also has other concession stands coming up.

The officers of the Jr. Class Prom Committee are Anne Soriano — President, Eric Kunar — Vice President, Kathy Allison — Secretary, and Tonya Beall — Treasurer.

EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION

AS SAM SEES IT

Varsity Victorious Again

by Kathy Allison

As Salem nears an end to the football season the anxiety of the West Branch game grows stronger. Salem is so far 5-4 in season play and finished 3-3 in the Mahoning Valley Conference.

On Oct. 10 Salem received their third MVC win against Poland. The final score was 28-17. Quarterback Ted Schuster completed five of nineteen passes for 148 yards. Two passes were completed for touchdowns. The first TD was a 60 yard pass to Rich Wrask. The other was thrown to tightend Paul Tatoni for the TD. Senior fullback Doug White contributed 83 yards on the ground in 18 attempts with a TD run of three yards. Eric Kunar had 32 yards rushing in seven carries. Dave Petrucci had two receptions for 82 yards with Wrask getting two for 63 yards. Sophomore kicker Craig Reinher hit 4 PAT's as his promising season goes on. Poland, with 1-5 overall and 0-3 in the MVC, played a fair game. The Bulldogs had 195 total yards including quarterbacks Mike Doctor's 15 passes for 32 yards. James, of Poland, had 97 yards in 18.

On the 17th Warren J.F.K. handed Salem a 31-7 setback. The loss set Salem's record at 5-3 with a 3-3 MVC record. Vince Davis led J.F.K. past Salem getting 165 yards rushing with 23 attempts. He also scored three TD's. Salem's first score in the first quarter with the result being a ten yard TD completion from Schuster to flanker Petrucci. Salem's second, and last, scoring drive took only four plays. The big play was a 65 yard TD from Schuster to Wrask. Schuster was six of 16 in passing for 142 yards. He also threw three interceptions. Wrask caught four of those passes for 116 yards. Tatoni and Petrucci each had one catch for 16 and 10 yards respectively. Salem managed only 53 yards in 18 attempts on the ground.

On the 24th East Liverpool passed to a victory over the Quakers 33-6. Salem is presently 5-4 overall and ended up 3-3 in the MVC. The Potters finished with 411 total yards. East Liverpool had a big team which outweighed Salem. The Quakers were penalized four times for 20 yards and the Potters twice for 20 yards. White of Salem had 53 yards rushing and Larry Long of East Liverpool had 54 yards in 14 carries. The only TD for Salem was made by second string junior, Scott Sommers.

The Quakers will go up against undefeated rival West Branch. Everyone always says history repeats itself. If so, it will be a very exciting Halloween!!!!

Frosh Squashed

The Quaker Freshman football team record this year was 2-6 overall and 2-4 in the M.V.C.. The Quakers after coming off a loss to Struthers was Canfield. Salem lost 21-0. Their next opponent was Poland and this was a tough game, but Salem won 8-6. The Quakers were led by Chris White's one yard touchdown run. Then Bob Hadcock passed to Mark Burrier for the winning 2 point conversion. In the game Lance Miller completed two passes to Brian Pirone for 45 yards, and Mark Burrier completed one to Shane Best for 52 yards. Their last opponent of the season was J.F.K. and it was a tough game, but Salem lost 6-0. The Quakers season was a tough one. The Quakers were coached by Mr. Headland, Mr. Pittman, and Mr. Robert Mehno.

Training Tough

by Charles C. Dickey

Mr. Dickey was born in North Lima, Ohio. His family moved to Leetonia when he was in the second grade. He played football and ran track. He graduated from Leetonia High School.

He joined the Marines and served in Viet Nam. He, later, married Fran Ruse Dickey. They have two children, Charles and Tereasa. He was injured at work. He worked for Crucible Steel in Pennsylvania.

He has been a football and basketball trainer since 1981 when he started helping Mr. Ricker.

Mr. Dickey received training from Y.S.U. and Jim Lenard and many sport medicine clinics. He, also, performed at some taping clinics for football teams.

Splash! Splash!

The idea of having a swimming pool in the high school was brought up a few years ago. The YWCA was the main supporter of this idea. This situation then was voted on and rejected because it was not economically feasible and it was a losing type of proposition.

FORE!

by Matt Althouse

Close. That one word describes the high schools missed chance at having a representative attend the state golf tournament. Nick Citino, shooting a 79, came within one stroke from qualifying during the October 10th district match at Ravenna.

Citino is the first of two Quakers ever to advance to district play. Senior classmate Nate Wilson became the second by gunning his way through a sudden death play-off at the sectional level.

The team itself, under the direction of Mr. Bucky Dye, has been outstanding. Finishing with a 11-1 M.V.C. record, 16-4 overall, the golfing red and black earned a share of the league championship with Canfield. This is their first Mahoning Valley Conference title. Team members attribute their success to hard work and an unstoppable desire to win.

Banner Season

by Mike Hartzell

The girls' and boys' cross-country teams enjoyed an outstanding season. Behind senior captains John Casey, Mike McGrath, and Bob Vitko, the boys finished their regular season 25-3. The girls' senior captains: Joanie Burchfield, Amy Winter, Lisa Esterly, Bridget Patton, Diana Huffman, Kelly Cunningham and Sue McKinney led the girls to a perfect season of 19-0. Each of the squads captured Mahoning Valley Conference and Columbiana County championships.

Sophomore Graham Parks, competed in Regional competition and ran a 17:43, 5,000 meter race, but failed to qualify for state competition.

The girls' team finished seventh out of thirteen teams at Regional competition. They failed to qualify for state.

In the second year of coaching, Coach Parks has lead the teams to the finish line with one victory after another.

Sensible Sam

by Tracy Early

In 1954, Mr. John Cabas asked Mr. Perry Calvin, an artist for the The Salem News, to draw a new Quaker that athletes could be associated with. Mr. Calvin created the image of Quaker Sam, replacing the profile of a Quaker Lady.

Since the origin of Quaker Sam, it has been used as the traditional mascot of the school. In the past, the football team has used the caricature on the signs over the varsity locker room door, on the pressbox and for helmet decals.

This year the football team has abolished Quaker Sam for helmet decals and the sign over the varsity locker room. With Sam's smiling face, the team feels that he does not show masculine characteristics needed for an aggressive football team.

The team is having a successful season without the original cheerful Quaker Sam. With football spirit in the school rising, the change may help Salem football to increase victorious seasons in the future.

Set, Up . . . BAM!

Spiking The Season To State

by Connie Kubankin

The girls' volleyball team ended their season with a disappointing loss to Stow by scores of 15-10 and 15-9. Stow was ranked 4th in the state.

The girls set a goal at the beginning of the season to win 18 matches. They accomplished this with a record of 24-4. As of now they are ranked 9th in the state.

Some highlights of the season were beating West Branch twice, East Palestine at home, and being the only team to beat Wellsville so far this year.

The team will be losing four seniors: Chris Cosgrove, Dina Hartman, Kim Evans, and Jennifer Schlueter. All of these girls will be extremely hard to replace next year.

The girls still have something to look forward to with the Fall Sports Awards on November 18th. Some awards to be presented will be the Most Valuable Player, and Tri Captain which will be presented to Chris Cosgrove and Kim Evans. The girls will also be hoping for some All County and All State honors. Mr. Conser stated that he was extremely happy with the girls performance this year.

Ranked 10th, They're Gr-r-reat!
