SALEM SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL — SALEM, OHIO

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1988

Salem Homecoming Queen Crowned

by Jenni Smith

The tradition of Homecoming is a festivity that we students of Salem High School have the pleasure of enjoying each year. The court consists of seven senior girls and their fortunate escorts. This year the court is as follows: Andrea Engle, escorted by Dickie Cochran; Tiffany Kelly, escorted by Bill Kress; Krista Mellinger, escorted by Bob Abrams; Kristin Kunar, escorted by Tod Kilgore; Tiffany Tepsic, escorted by Andy Pasko; Carrie Juliano, escorted by Bob Sprowl; and Deanna ("Nan") Emch, escorted by Tom Wiggers.

The honor of being selected to the homecoming court is quite an accomplishment. The court is elected by the senior class, who is reminded to consider the girls' intellectual ability, past accomplishments, and the activities each girl participates in.

Andrea Engle is a member of the volleyball team, participated in Buckeye Girls State, is a member of Student Council and is serving her fourth year as class president. Tiffany Kelly is a varsity cheerleader, a member of TACT, and is on the yearbook staff. Krista Mellinger is a member of TACT and Pep Club, and is also on the yearbook staff.

Kristin Kunar is a member of TACT, participated in Buckeye

Girls State, and is actively involved in Teen Institute.

Tiffany Tepsic is a member of the National Art Honor Society, a member of the volleyball team, and is also a member of TACT.

Carrie Juliano is a varsity cheerleader, a member of TACT, and on the yearbook staff. "Nan" Emch is a member of the National Honor Society, is a member of Student Council and was a Buckeye Girls State delegate.

The crowning ceremonies were held October 7 at Reilly Stadium. The 1988-89 homecoming queen, Nan Emch, was crowned. I had a chance to speak with Nan after the ceremonies. When I asked her what her first reaction to being queen was, she said, "It was an unexpected surprise, and at first I thought it was a mistake." I then asked her how she felt about being chosen as queen, she said, "I am thrilled and I feel honored. This is the best thing in my life!" I then asked her what she plans to do after high school, she said, "I plan to attend Ohio State University to study law, because I'm interested in helping people. My second choice would be Communications, for the same reason."

The Quaker staff would like to congratulate Nan, and the rest of the 1988 homecoming court.

The 1988-89 Homecoming Queen, Nan Emch, and her escort Tom Wiggers.

SHS Band Heads to Florida

by Jennifer Sommers

Coming up later this year, the SHS band will be representing our school and the city of Salem, in Orlando, Fla. The band will be departing from the high school on November 10 and returning home on November 15. While they are in Florida, the band will be visiting Walt Disney World Village, Epcot Center, Daytona Beach, and the Magic Kingdom, to name a few. For the competition, they will be playing "California Girls," "Proud Mary," "Marianne," which is a percussion ensemble, and finally, the all-time popular song, "I Heard It Through the Grapevine." The competition is set up in such a way that the band will be judged on their criteria. The judging will be based on the band's field performance. There will be three judges, who will watch from above one time, and walk among the band members the second time. In past years, the band has proven to be successful. In Florida, they won a gold medal in 1976 and again in 1980. They also won a silver medal there in 1984. In 1986, the band traveled to New York City for the St. Patrick's Day Parade. The SHS band was runner-up over all of the bands, and they were the best high school band in the competition. Mr. Jeckavitch stated that he is ready for the trip, and within time, the band will be too. He also feels that the trip will go smoothly. With all of the planning and organizing that went into it, it should be a pleasant trip. Mr. Jeckavitch hopes that the student body wishes them luck. The band, along with himself, will do their best to represent our school, and the city of Salem.

The student body does wish the band, and Mr. Jeckavitch, the best of luck on their upcoming trip to Florida. We're sure that they will make us proud of their performance.

"GOOD LUCK!"

Three Exchange Students Welcomed

by Terri Downard

Salem High would like to welcome this year's exchange students for 1988 school year. The three exchange students consist of Renato Madeiro, a senior from Sao Paulo, Brazil. He became an exchange student to learn more. Renato, after graduation, would like to go to college and major in Business Economics and plans on going back to Brazil for that. He said he plans on visiting the United States often. Renato said he likes all his classes and is getting along fine with teachers, and students, "No Problem." Renato is a member of the AFS Club and the Rotary Club and a member of the soccer team.

Neils Blom, the second exchange student, is a graduate from Denmark and is here to repeat his senior year. He became an exchange student because he had one living in his home for three months and decided it would be a good opportunity. Neils plans on going back to Denmark to further his education by taking a school extension of three years then going on to a university. He hasn't yet decided what he's going to do. "I just live day by day." Neils is getting along well with school. He says people he doesn't even know say Hello to him. His after school activities include soccer and being in the Rotary Club.

The third exchange student is Ryoko Shiojima from Tokyo, Japan. She became an exchange student because, "I wanted a new experience." Ryoko is a junior and plans on going back to Tokyo in the summer. She hasn't yet decided what she is going to do after she graduates. She likes all her classes and is getting along with teachers, and students. Her hobbies include playing softball and is in AFS, TACT and the Art Honor Society. She also enjoys going shopping with friends.

The Quaker would like to welcome the exchange students and thank them for helping us get to know them better.

1988 Presidential Election

by Jenni Smith

As you know, it's election time again. Both Democratic and Republican parties have been busily preparing themselves for that up and coming, moment-of-truth day, November 8, 1988.

In the presidential race, there is Republican George Bush and his running mate, Dan Quayle. And on the flip side of the race there is Michael Dukakis and his running mate, Lloyd Bentsen. The Quaker took the liberty of taking a presidential preference survey. The question: Who would you like to see as President during the 1988-92 term? Here are some student and teacher responses:

Jason Austin — Bush;
Burdell Graham — Dukakis;
Judy Shears — Randy of the Redwoods;
Mrs. Dohar — undecided;
Miss Rafferty — "I'd vote for me, if I were running."
Terri Downard — Dukakis.

From our survey we learned that there is a great difference in opinion. So, The Quaker would like to wish "good-luck" to all the candidates, and like they say — may the best man win!

Cheerleaders

By Shawn Chappell

Peppy, hard-working and cheerful is the way to describe this year's cheerleading squad. Building school spirit is the main job of the cheerleaders. This year's squad builds spirit by doing things such as making signs for all fall sports, putting on pep assemblies, and selling spirit buttons at lunch.

The varsity squad is captained by Heidi Sutter and includes Krista Blankenship, Michele Kaminski, Beth Noles, Christine Dailey, Lesley Marroulis, Anika Pierce, and Jennifer Oesch. The junior varsity squad is headed by Erin Hendricks, and includes Brandi Hephner, Rhonda Williams, Dani Brown, Kim Deluce, Marnie Null, and Michele Rogers. The newest members of the cheering squad are the following freshman girls: Theresa Dickey, Angie Bartolotti, Krissy Danklef, Sara Eckstein, and Katie Pope.

Thanks to the support and hard work of the cheerleaders, school spirit is much better this year.

New Teachers At Salem

by Lori Jones

The new teachers at Salem High School this year are Mr. Washinko, Mr. Ladner, Miss Schnader, Mrs. Shelley and Mrs. Hayes.

Mr. Washinko is formerly a resident of Pennsylvania. He graduated from the University of Pittsburgh where he majored in counseling.

His current duties at Salem vary. He is a counselor for the freshman class and one-third of the senior class, and is also in charge of college applications for upper classmen.

According to Mr. Washinko, the Salem students are enjoyable to work with, and he wants to thank them and the faculty for his warm welcome to Salem High this year.

Coming from Warren to Salem this year is Mr. Ladner. He is a welcome addition to the English department where he teaches English I, II, and Vocational English III. He is also an assistant football coach for the varsity football team.

Mr. Ladner finds the Salem students easy and fun to work with.

Another new addition to the Salem High School staff this year is Miss Schnader. She graduated from Salem High in 1984 and went on to attend Miami University of Ohio majoring in mathematics. Her present teaching schedule includes classes in Practical Math, Pre-Algebra, and Advanced Algebra.

Miss Schnader would like to thank the faculty for their help in making her transition from former high school student to the teaching staff a smooth one.

Another new face is Mrs. Shelley. She is working with L.D. students. She is originally from Columbiana where she was a substitute teacher for L.D.

She finds the students very enjoyable and interesting.

Mrs. Hayes is not new to the Salem teaching staff this year, but comes to the high school after teaching many years at the junior high. Her classes include: Practical Math, Algebra I and II, and Geometry.

We hope that all the new faculty members have a very successful and satisfying year at Salem High.

"Thumbs Down" for Night Life in Salem

by Matt Flanery

After five days of slaving over your books and working yourself to death just to pass a test, the weekend is finally here. It's time for celebrating the end of another long, tedious week. The big question is, "what do I do now?"

Well, Friday nights are usually all right during the fall and winter seasons but what do you do when the sports are over? What happens when a game is out of town? What about Saturday night?

There are the usual places to go like McDonald's or Burger Chef, but where do you go when a cop kicks you out? If you're with friends, you better have the 75 cents for a cheeseburger or you're out of there.

What the kids usually end up doing is driving around aimlessly all night. A lot of the time they end up grabbing a twelve pack of Budweiser and some smokes and looking for trouble. That trouble comes in the form of fights, vandalism and underage drinking. A lot of things happen that can't be mentioned here but I'm sure the kids know what I mean.

One alternative was the dances that were held at the Hunt Club on Sundays last year. One problem with this was the price. It cost $4 for three and a half hours of listening to Top 40 music. You did get free pop which isn't bad but for that price it wasn't really free now was it?

There are the school dances held once or twice a month. They only cost $2 and you can't beat that. Once again though it's the same music at every dance. You can listen to "Sweet Child O' Mine" or "Pour Some Sugar On Me" so many times before you get sick of it. Why not have an all request dance where you get a good variety of music that the kids want to hear?

There are always the movies. They are pretty cheap too, but it's the same thing again. How many times can you see BIG before it gets boring. A greater variety is in dire need here also.

Another problem in Salem is that everywhere a kid goes there is a cop breathing down his neck. It's time the police lightened up on the kids a little bit. It always seems that they blame the kids for everything that happens but how can you do anything with a cop around constantly?

Try going to McDonald's sometime on a weekend. Even if you have a Big Mac and Coke under your nose you can still get kicked out. Let's face it. If they don't like you, there's nothing you can do. If you talk too loud, you're out of there too. If you're with five or six friends, it's not going to be too quiet. The library's about two miles down the road if they want silence. Correct me if I'm wrong, but you are allowed to talk with your friends at McDonald's, right?

It's time this town established a place for the kids to go where they won't be bothered by the police or adults that think they are the police. Maybe then kids will be glad to live in Salem and not always complain about it.

New Procedures

by Andrea Hendron

This year THE QUAKER interviewed Mr. Rabell about the new procedures of the school. Concerning the registration for cars, Mr. Rabell said, "This process is ongoing." To park your car in the parking lot, you can go to the office to receive a registration form. Also, last year the General Assembly passed a law about the use and possession of tobacco. There is to be no smoking and no possession of tobacco by students.

There is also a Saturday school detention program available for the students. This program is designed to help the student, the parents, and the administrators. An educational plan is to consist of an outline of what the student intends to accomplish during the four hour time block. This Saturday school is a good way of making up detention time.

This fall the students were also able to wear shorts. Mr. Rabell thinks this program worked out very well. They are planning to administrate this policy in the spring. Also this year there is a 26 day attendance program in which only chronic medical problems verified by the doctor, will be considered past the 26 day limit.

THE QUAKER student newspaper is published by the journalism students of Salem Senior High School.

Quaker Halloween

by Andrea Hendron

What do you like about Halloween? Do you like the witches, goblins, ghosts, or the scary places you can go on this frightening night? How about preparing to spook your friends and neighbors? This year, children of all ages will be Trick-or-Treating on Sunday, October 30, from 4-6 p.m. THE QUAKER asked a couple of students what activities they will be participating in this Halloween night.

Bill Stewart — "Go Trick-or-Treating as a sunflower."

Jason Fitzpatrick — "Hiding in bushes and jumping little kids for candy with the sunflower."

Phil Taylor — "Either be at Salem Skate Center for their Halloween costume party, or at the Putting Palace for their costume party."

Dani Brown — "Going Trick-or-Treating as a banana."

Suzan Girscht — "Having a Halloween party."

New Principal

by Robyn Anderson

Most of you have seen your new principal and know what he looks like, but you don't know who he really is. Before being the principal of SHS, Mr. McShane was the Vocational Director and in charge of Adult Education and pupil personnel director. He worked at the McKinley Administration Building. He decided to take the opening because he cares about the student body here at SHS. Mr. McShane moved here in 1972 from Pennsylvania. He taught 5th grade at McKinley elementary school. He coached football, track and freshman wrestling.

Mr. McShane has been very busy with a few new projects. He worked

The Music World According to "Norm"

by Matt Flanery

There are many different forms of music in the world. There are such classifications as country, jazz, top 40, soul, heavy metal, progressive, punk, and the list is basically endless. With the variety of bands and music how do you know which album to buy? I'm going to review three albums that are a must for any collection and give my views on their performance.

The first album is ...AND JUSTICE FOR ALL by Metallica. It's been two years since the release of MASTER OF PUPPETS, the highly acclaimed album that made them a household name. With the hard rocking songs like "Blackened", "Shortest Straw," and the title song "And Justice For All" Metallica proves they are the true kings of heavy metal. The ballad "One" shows that they also have talent in the form of guitarist Kirk Hammett. This is, in my opinion, the finest album by the band and things are only getting better. I'd give it a 9.5 out of 10.

The Ramones played a major role in the start of punk and metal. They are the original punk band, yes they were before the Sex Pistols, and they

Student Council Keeps Busy

by Andrea Engle

Salem High School's Student Council has been keeping busy with the issues that concern the students. This year's objective is to be more productive with the issues concerning the school and not just a service organization. With just a few months into the school year, Student Council has already tackled several projects. Permission to wear shorts to classes was granted after Mr. Mc Shane, advisor Ms. Carmello, and other members met to discuss the pro's and con's of changing the dress code. The recent Homecoming activities were also sponsored and directed by council.

Throughout the year Student Council does various odds and ends. The concession stand in the lobby, main bulletin boards, and showing our teachers appreciation is all done by the group. There are several issues that are being discussed. For example, students want more dances, permission to have headphones in study halls, and a student lounge.

Activities also underway include a powder-puff football game (Junior girls vs. Senior girls), a Student/Teacher Day, and a Student Exchange Day with other area schools. Any input from students is welcome to be shared with council members. Student Council is a productive organization working to better conditions for the student body.

to achieve the new Freshman transition class. He worked with the drug committee which mailed out booklets to all of the homes. He will have students involved with the new computer center. He would like to establish an advance placement program for upper classmen. He is going to work to make the National Honor Society stronger. He is also increasing the student ownership of the school. This is starting with Student Council involvement. Mr. McShane is a very interesting man and he cares a great deal about the students here at SHS. If you ever get a chance to talk to Mr. McShane, take the time and do so. It is quite an experience.

changed the music scene drastically. When they started out, it was common for songs to be five to ten minutes long. They cut the time of their songs to between two and three minutes and cut out the three minute solos. They have just released their best of album called RAMONES-MANIA and it truly is their best. With the ever popular song "I Wanna Be Sedated" and rockers like "Cretin Hop" and "The KKK Took My Baby Away" the Ramones showcase their talents for the world. Dee Dee and the boys are finally getting the recognition that they deserve. I'd give this one a perfect ten for the rating.

The last album I chose isn't really a new album but it's definitely a must. It's been out for approximately five months but it is an excellent album. The album is OU812 by Van Halen. It's their second album with singer Sammy Hagar, and it's their best effort since the debut album VAN HALEN. Since David Lee Roth left the group in 1985, they have had two straight number one albums. This album shows some of Eddie Van Halen's best work, especially in the song "Finish What Ya' Started." The song gets a sort of rockability sound and proves that Eddie can still wield an axe. Other songs that need to be noticed are "Sucker In A 3 Piece" and the popular "Black and Blue." These are two songs performed in the style of old Van Halen. This one deserves a 9.5 rating.

These are some of my favorite albums of the past year and I hope you get the chance to check them out sometime in the near future. They are excellent works of music and deserve to be heard.

Alumni Teachers: Mr. and Mrs. Bosu

by Bridget Roelen

The Quaker journalism staff has decided to write a column each issue on an Alumni teacher of Salem. The journalism class thought it might be interesting to let everyone know what their teachers were like back in high school. This issue, we decided that it would be appropriate to do an alumni couple, so we chose Mr. and Mrs. Bosu.

Q. — Being alumni members of Salem High School, what changes do you see in classes and in students?

Mr. Bosu — Today's students have more outside jobs and activities but there are many similarities.

Mrs. Bosu — There is a larger selection of courses because in the fifties I could only take five different classes.

Q. — What groups or sports were you in?

Mr. Bosu — I played basketball, ran track, was in the varsity club, and I was vice-president of my class my junior year.

Mrs. Bosu — There weren't too many girls' sports at that time, but I was on the synchronized swim team, I was in the language clubs, and the slide rule club.

Q. — What did you do on weekends?

Mr. and Mrs. Bosu — At that time, Mario's was a soda shop called "The Corner" and we hung out there.

Q. — Do you think the school, meaning classes and students, is better now than when you went to high school?

Mr. Bosu — Yes, there are more classes now than when I was in school.

Mrs. Bosu — Things are very similar, but the teachers were more strict when I was at the high school.

Q. — Did you have any certain reasons for wanting to teach in Salem?

Mr. Bosu — We consider Salem an excellent community and we wanted to come back home and raise our daughter.

Mrs. Bosu — We lived in Florida and Akron, but we wanted to come home and raise our daughter in Salem.

Q. — How long have you been teaching?

Mr. Bosu — This is my 22nd year.

Mrs. Bosu — I have been teaching for 22 years altogether.

I would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Bosu for taking time out of their busy schedules to talk with me.

ID Aerobics

by Tim Blasiman

The Salem wrestlers are now being instructed in aerobics to help improve their physical condition for this season. They started Tuesday, October 11. The Junior High and High School wrestlers are working together to get ready for a good season for both schools. The aerobics classes are from 6:45 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. The High School has received a new head coach this year, Mr. James Dailey, and he is doing all he can to get the wrestlers in shape before the season starts. He wants to start off his first year in Salem with a winning season. We hope the team has a winning season for him.

A Youngstown State University admissions counselor will be visiting your high school within the next few weeks to answer any questions you may have concerning higher education and Youngstown State.

Salem Girls' Volleyball Wins MVC

by Brad Richert

The Salem Girls' Volleyball team won the M.V.C. Championship for the third year in a row. The Quakers were 8 and 0 against M.V.C. foes and still have never lost a match in league play. The Quakers finished off the season with a winning record of 13 wins and 9 losses.

Going into the season, Coach Conser did not know what to expect from his team with only three seniors back. They were inexperienced and it showed at times by losing games they should have won. In the first match of the season against East Liverpool Salem had a big lead and ended up losing. On the road against East Palestine, the Quakers led in both games but ended up losing.

Salem also showed great potential at times like in "The Comeback" match against rival West Branch. The Quakers lost the first game 14-16 and won the second game 15-8. Then in the final game they were down 13-2 before Amy Garlock had five service points to tie it up.

Tiffany Tepsic then took control and finished them off for the win — one of the biggest victories ever for Salem Volleyball. The Quakers also during the season had two, four-game winning streaks.

Salem might not have had as good a season as they had the past couple seasons but that could be misleading. Salem lost 9 games this year but 7 of those losses came against state ranked teams at one time this year. Salem also had to play without Lisa Herron for 11 matches when she broke her foot.

The Reserves for Salem had an outstanding season when they finished with 18 wins and only four losses. They also won the M.V.C. Championship in their near perfect season. When this team gets on the Varsity level with this year's 9 Varsity juniors, Salem could be unbeatable. Coach Conser should look forward to coaching Salem the next few years. But the season is not over yet; the Quakers still have tournaments which are in Salem.

Computer Labs

by Steve Martens

This year, the computer labs were introduced to the students and staff at the Salem High. The idea for the computer labs was started by the parents and teachers. In the past two to three years, the discussion for the labs has taken place at teachers' meetings and at meetings with the Board of Education. The teachers that were interviewed stated that Dr. Schoffman was all for the idea of having the labs. The Community Foundation paid for the computers and its hardware. The cost ranged between seventy and eighty thousand dollars. The school system funded for the air-conditioning, carpeting and the furniture. It has taken the teachers and the school board since last spring, to devise a way to get them and reserve the rooms for the labs.

The computers are to help the students in all areas of study. They are not used to replace the teachers. The labs are Math and English, but next year, programs for Science, History and others may be added.

When Mrs. Esposito, head of the English Department, was asked if any programs dealing with literature or poetry could be added, her response was that there are such programs, but they are used more on an individual basis than on a classroom basis. These programs are not as popular as the one that is being used now. The current program is the Writing Assistant program, which, because it makes correcting and improving one's work so easy, encourages students to revise, rewrite, and experiment more with their writing.

When Mr. Krcelic, who teaches Algebra and Computers, was asked about the different programs to the students and the staff, his reply was about Data, Spread Sheets, and also the production of music. Other programs involve problem solving of Algebra, Geometry and Functions. Mr. Krcelic's own computer class and other teachers' math classes use the lab. On an average, 85-100 students use the Math lab daily.

This year Mrs. Dohar is teaching a computer applications course for the first time and is using the math lab at present. One section is offered each semester. As interest increases, it is hoped that next year more students, especially freshmen, will sign up for this valuable course.

The students at the Salem High School would like to give a special thank you to the Community Foundation. Also, a special thank you goes out to the school board members, teachers and the parents that were involved in making these labs a reality.

Class of 1992

by Kelly Armstrong

Each year a new class enters Salem High to replace the graduated class. This new group of students gets lost, pushed around and laughed at. Somehow the upperclassmen forget what it was like when they were freshmen. (Who us? We were, ugh, freshmen?)

I overheard a couple of freshmen talking, and even though they've only been here for two months some of them already have complaints and praises about the school. To find out what they were I decided to go straight to the source and ask the frosh.

Heath Crowe — I don't like some of my teachers — they're mean!

Nova Eichlar — I don't think that there is enough time between classes.

Lisa Beck — I don't think that you should have to take gym.

Heidi Auman — I liked being able to wear shorts.

Ellie Althouse — I think that we should be able to chew gum in every class.

Vikki Rhodes — I think that if someone hits you, you should be able to hit him back without getting in trouble — it's self defense!

Even though some freshmen could only find faults with Salem High, most can find a few nice things, too. Regardless, we hope that their four years here at the high school will be memorable ones.

Golf

by Jennifer Sommers

This year's golf team finished its season with a record of 5 and 13. The team was led by seniors Jeff Smith and Brian Wright. Coach Dye felt that both seniors played well this season. Jeff Smith had an exceedingly fine season and just missed qualifying for the District Golf Tournament. The score he needed to beat was a 79. Jeff came up five strokes short, by scoring an 84. These two fine players weren't the only members of this year's team. Also contributing to this year's team effort were junior Jeff Omslaer, sophomores Kurt Delfavero, Robby Roberts, Mike Hunchuck, Brad Stephens, Andy Brothers, and freshman Josh Morlan. When asked what his feelings were about this year's season, Coach Dye stated that he felt the team did well, despite the fact that they were a young team. He also commented that the golf team should do a lot better next season.

Congratulations are extended to this year's golf team on a fine season, and good luck to next year's team.

Halloween

by Mark Milliken

Halloween, or All Hallow's Eve as it used to be called, was once a very popular holiday. Young people would celebrate it by playing games and casting incantations to determine who would marry whom. However, the older people believed it was a time when the evil spirits would fly around and cause all types of trouble for men and beasts. To discourage these spirits the people would dress to appear as frightening as they could in order to frighten the spirits and keep them away. They would also use jack-o'-lanterns to protect their homes from the spirits.

Now, however, we celebrate Halloween as a time to cause mischief and get candy. Mostly it is the little children who do the hunting for the candy and the older ones who do the mischief, which isn't always a harmless prank. Another point on why we also celebrate Halloween is that it makes an excuse to have a party. These parties range from a contest to see who is the scariest to making sure someone is around to help clean up the house before the parents come home in the morning.

Well, there are the differences that time can cause to happen to a holiday, some of them good and some bad.

Student Council "Job Well Done"

by Robyn Anderson

The Quaker would like to take this time to commend Student Council for their hard work and determination. Student Council has been busy working for the students. Working very hard are some senior members: Andrea Engle, Lisa Miller, Nan Emch, Scott Wilson and Kristin Kunar. Miss Carmello thinks this group of Student Council members, headed by Kim Hedrick, has a lot of potential. They have been working on many projects. A student lounge is up in the air at the moment. This is not going to be an overnight thing but after all of the little problems are worked out, you can look forward to an efficient and comfortable place to study.

On my list of thank you's, I can't possibly leave out Mr. McShane, who has been willing to listen to Student Council's propositions. Mr. McShane wants the students to be happy and is willing to take time out of his busy schedule to listen.

Unfortunately, there have also been downfalls. Due to lack of cooperation by the students, Student Council is forced to close down the concession stand. There is talk of putting in a Coke machine where the concession stand was but it will have to be manned by a member of Student Council.

Student Council will be having announcements after their morning meetings to keep students informed of what their plans are. Miss Carmello, who is assisted by Miss Schnader, has devised a system to get more people involved. If a student is a class officer, he is automatically a member of Student Council.

Most of us don't truly know how important Student Council really is to the student body. The Quaker just wanted to take this time to say thanks, Student Council, and keep up the good work.

Academic Challenge on TV

by Jenni Smith

Academic Challenge has a new advisor this year, in addition to Mrs. May who has been the advisor since 1976, Mrs. Esposito.

The team is scheduled to appear on the television show, ACADEMIC CHALLENGE, which is to be taped November 20. The Quaker asked Mrs. Esposito a few questions to get her opinion about the team and the match.

Q. — Are you worried or excited about appearing on T.V.?

A. — No, I'm not nervous or excited. This is a new experience for me so I'm just curious.

Q. — Do you have any idea who you will choose for the team?

A. — I've narrowed it down to six, but I haven't chosen the final team yet.

Q. — Who are the six people?

A. — They are Chris Catlin, Matt

Cole, Julie Ehrhart, Basel Masry, Shawn Scharf and Kerri Thorne.

Q. — Who else is competing in the match?

A. — I don't know; we might not find out until we get there.

Q. — How do you think the team will do?

A. — I think they look pretty good. Some of the kids have experience, so that should help us.

Q. — I'm sure that everyone would like to see the match. When will it be on T.V.?

A. — It should be on T.V. December 10. We'd also like to take some students to the taping for support.

Well, Mrs. Esposito, the students of SALEM HIGH congratulate you on becoming the advisor and wish you and the team good luck!!

Work of a Counselor

by Mark Milliken

How many people have wondered what a counselor does besides talking to students about class changes and talking to your parents? Probably not many. So let me tell you about some of the other things the counselors could do for you to help you out.

Just about everyone knows that the counselors can help with schedule problems and that they set up parent conferences but they also help out in getting a student a job when he/she completes high school and also during school. The after graduation job is only if the student is planning on a career and needs help while the job during school is only part-time and not a life affecting one. Another of the many things a counselor does for a student is that they help with the testing programs that happen every year like the ASVAB, ACT and PSAT along with others. Also, the counselors help with the AFS. But mostly it's the seniors who should see their counselor because the counselor helps set up visits with recruiters for both the military and colleges. The counselors also help with financial aid information and information about the many different scholarships available to the students. But the seniors will find this all out because the counselors will talk to every one of them about things such as the number of credits the student has, what he/she plans on doing after graduation, and additional information about colleges.

In general, the counselor would like to bridge the gap between the students, teachers, administration, parents and community to improve communication among all of these groups.

Mock Election at SHS

by Mark Capps

With the upcoming presidential election, SHS is having its own "Mock Election" to give students the experience of voting and also to just get into the spirit of the election itself. Salem High students will have the chance not only to vote for a president of their choice, but also other positions including U.S. Senator, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, etc.

Registration takes place on Oct. 25 all day and the actual voting will take place on the 1st of November. Voting and registration booths will be located in the cafeteria and precincts representing the four classes. The classes will be as follows: Freshmen — northwest corner; Sophomores — northeast corner; Juniors — southeast corner; and Seniors will be in the southwest corner. To be eligible to vote, you MUST register on the 25th.

Miss Rafferty had a committee meeting of a selective group of seniors to help organize the making of posters which were placed all over the school advertising registration and they also made posters which will go on display the 26th. Other committees established registration tables, voting booths, and still other seniors helped to register all students and make sure they have registered before they vote.

In all, the election should be a big success thanks to all of the seniors who helped out with everything. Also thanks to Mr. Morris, Mr. McShane, Mrs. Heineman, Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. Ricker for all of her tedious copying of over 1,000 sample ballots, and a very, very special thanks to Miss Rafferty who organized the whole "Mock Election" with hours and hours of preparation, because without her, none of this would have been possible.

Salem Football

by Richard Cochran

The Salem Quakers came into the 1988 football season with winning on their minds. After hundreds of long hard hours of practice, what else could they expect? The Quakers graduated several seniors last year and came into this year somewhat inexperienced. The coaching staff was really unsure what to expect from the young team. The team and staff, however, did expect to win.

Coming into the season opener, the Quakers were the underdogs against a strong Cleveland South team. South's veteran quarterback, Bernie Butler, came into Salem hoping to pick the young Quaker secondary apart. The Quaker defense thought otherwise and held Butler to 134 yards. Joe Righetti scored Salem's only tally on an off-tackle run of 11 yards. Craig Reinehr kicked the PAT which proved to be the winning point. It was a good win for the Quakers. A nice opening for the team as well as the fans.

Salem's next test came against the Marlinton Dukes. After a nice week of practice and the confidence of the previous week's win over South, the Quakers seemed poised and ready for the Dukes. Salem came out and took their first possession, 54 yards, on five plays for a touchdown. Righetti finished the drive with a 24-yard run off left tackle. Reinehr's PAT gave the Quakers an early 7-0 lead. Then Marlinton took its turn. Duke quarterback, Frank Thomas, threw two touchdown strikes. As the half was ending, he led a drive to the 21-yard line which ended on a field goal.

Marlinton dominated the first half leaving the score 17 to 7. The second half started just as the first had ended. Marlinton took their first possession down the field on a well-executed drive for a score. The charge ended on a touchdown pass by heavily pressured Thomas. The Dukes led 22-7. Late in period three the Dukes struck again, this time on the ground, on a two-yard run for a touchdown. The Quakers down 29-7 refused to quit. Dave Exline opened period four by passing the Quakers down the field. Key receptions were made by Lance Miller and Brooke Pidgeon. The Quakers punched the ball in with 10:15 left on an Exline to Pidgeon TD pass. Mark Burrier caught the conversion pass to make the score 29-15. The Quakers threatened moments later when Jason Austin recovered a fumble giving Salem excellent field position. A questionable call for an illegal receiver downfield stopped Salem's momentum and a possible fantastic finish.

The Quakers, standing 1-1, headed into the Mahoning Valley Conference opener against the Girard Indians. Girard, minus former standout Nick Cochran, was holding its own standing 2-0. The Quakers felt confident coming in against the Indians and hoped to show their stuff. Girard felt differently, however, and took their first possession 57 yards for a touchdown. After a successful PAT, the Indians led 7-0. Salem seemed somewhat shaky in the first half gaining just 13 total yards. In the third quarter Flounder, for those of you living in shells — that is Brad Richert, recovered a fumble on the Indian 28-yard line. Exline soon after hit Miller for 23 yards in the right end zone for the score. The conversion failed, and Salem trailed 7-6 with a quarter and a half to play. Walter Brame scored Girard's second TD on a 45-yard option down the right sideline. The conversion made it 16-6. Salem did not give in. They took their final possession 79 yards to the Indian one-yard line. The Quakers had two tries from the one, but a solid Girard front line held for the win.

Game four was against the Struthers Wildcats. The Quakers always seem to have trouble with Struthers. In fact, Salem had never beaten the Wildcats since joining the MVC. The Quakers were counted out, but they went into Struthers planning on winning. Win they did. The win was the biggest for Salem in several years. The offense and defense both turned in fine games. The Quaker offense took their first possession 71 yards for a touchdown. Righetti finished the drive with an 18-yard run. A good combination of the run and pass was the key. Struthers countered early in period two with a field goal to make the score 7-3. After the Wildcats fumbled away a punt return midway through period two, the Quakers did not waste any time putting the ball in the endzone. Exline hit Miller for 40 yards to put the ball on the one. The next play Exline sneaked in for the score. Struthers had the only points in the second half. Those came on an 81-yard drive capped off with a 5-yard touchdown pass. The conversion pass failed leaving the score 14-9, which proved to be the final margin.

Salem, standing 2-2, visited a tough 4-0 Canfield team. On the game's first play from scrimmage, an Exline pass was tipped and intercepted giving Canfield great

Salem Girls' Tennis

by Lori Jones

The Salem Girls' tennis this year had a very good Varsity team consisting of Heidi Ickes, Lori Jones, Rene Nollier, Tonya Cecil, Molly Bricker, Darby DeJane and Cindy Carlariello.

On Oct. 7 the team went to regionals in Youngstown. The team went to second round, excepted for Heidi. She went on to the third.

Heidi is a senior this year. She is hoping to go to college and play tennis. Heidi has played tennis her sophomore, junior and senior years ending up in first singles spot.

The coach this year was Mrs. Patterson. She has been the coach for the past two years. She said that the team had worked very hard this year, but says that the team will get better with more practice and hard work.

We wish the team well next year and good luck to Heidi in college.

Freshman Football Going Strong

by Richard Cochran

Salem's Freshman football team has had an outstanding season. Behind the excellent offensive line of Jeff Pittman, Mike Cramner, Brian Lippiatt, Mike Petty and Brian Grewe the Quakers stand 4-0-1. Salem opened their fine season with a 20-12 win over Campbell. Nick Schneider threw a touchdown pass to Kris Kornbau late in the game to preserve the victory.

Salem next faced the Girard Indians. Behind touchdowns by Mike Grande, Jeff Pittman, Lance Pennick and Nick Schneider the Quakers had no trouble with the Indians. The final score was 30-0.

Salem's third opponent was the Struthers Wildcats. Both teams played well and fought to a 12-12 tie.

Salem took no mercy on Canfield, however, defeating them 32-7. Nick Schneider threw two touchdown passes and ran 30 yards for another to lead the Quakers. Lance Pennick chipped in with a 45-yard run for a TD.

The Quakers secured the Mahoning Valley Conference crown with a 32-20 win over a tough Poland Bulldog team. Pennick rushed for 114 yards and a touchdown to head the Salem attack. Nick Schneider also played a fine game, rushing for two TD's and throwing for another to wrap up the title. The offensive line played exceptionally well to key the win.

Congratulations, Freshmen, on your MVC championship!

field position. The Cardinals took advantage of the turnover and scored giving them a 7-0 lead. Midway through period two the Cardinals, again with fine field position, went 29 yards in six plays for a touchdown. Quarterback Bill Liberto took the ball in from a yard out for his second score. Canfield's lead was 13-0. Late in the first half the Quakers moved the ball inside the Canfield 10-yard line. Salem could not punch the ball in and had to settle for a field goal. Reinehr's kick made the score 13-3 as the half ended. Salem opened the second half taking their first possession inside the 10 once again. But, for a second time, the Quakers could not get the ball into the endzone. Reinehr's field goal made the score 13-6. Early in the fourth quarter Canfield struck deep for 70 yards and a touchdown. The PAT made the score 20-6. The Quakers began moving the ball, but could not convert on a fourth down. Canfield fumbled plays later giving the ball back to the Quakers with good field position. Shortly after, Exline hit Miller for a touchdown. That made it 20-13, which proved to be the final. Salem played a great game, but the ball just did not seem to bounce their way.

Salem hosted the Poland

Soccer

by Terri Downard

Salem's Soccer team is in its second year; the coaches are T. A. Wagner and T. W. Wright. The team consists of thirty players starting with Varsity: Kevin Alesi, Steve Bailey, Steve Bedell, Neils Blom, Dave Clunk, Greg Dugan, Tim Ewing, Clarence Fields, Andy Herron, Doug Hoffmaster, Renato Madeiro, Kirk Mager, Aaron O'Brien, Cheryll Orrach, Graig Orrach, Price Rodrigues, Jeff Shirley and Travis Zeigler.

The JV's are Steve Bailey, Craig Belaney, Sharla Brown, Dan Catlos, Tim Ewing, Jason Herron, Doug Hoffmaster, Tony Leo, Ricky Lobdel, Joe McGrath, Cheryll Orrach, Graig Orrach, Brian Ostarvich, Whit Robinson, Fred Sarginger, Ron Taffini, Travis Zeigler. The teams will now be going into Sectionals so the Quaker would like to wish them Good Luck!!

Pep Club

by Shawn Chappell

This year the Pep Club has already begun to raise school spirit. Mrs. Esposito, the advisor of the Pep Club, says that the school spirit is much better this year. The president of the Pep Club is Kristin Kunar, vice president is Denise Fleiscer, secretary is Stephanie Kilmer and the treasurer is Kim Hedrick. The Pep Club meets every first and third Wednesday of each month after school in Mrs. Davidoff's room. She is the co-advisor of the Pep Club. This year the Pep Club has given goody bags of candy to all sports, trying to raise their spirits. The Pep Club has come up with the ideas of cheering in the halls, red and black attack, and support from Pepettes. The Pep Club has sold cow bells and will be sponsoring the Sweetheart Dance in order to raise more money. The cow bells are to be sold to everyone as they want more than just the kids to be cheering. The pep assemblies are much better and more involving this year. There will be another pep assembly for the Campbell game. Pep Club would like to have more support from EVERYONE and would also like to see more people involved.

Bulldogs on Homecoming weekend for their sixth game. The Bulldogs made the big plays against Salem resulting in their fifth win of the season. Salem dropped to 2-4. Poland's Mike Repasky controlled Salem from the start. Repasky caught two touchdown passes, returned a punt 60 yards for a touchdown, and intercepted two passes in key situations. Overall Salem did not play that bad. A few mental mistakes and a big play cost them the game. Repasky's first score came on a 26-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Mike Doctor. The PAT put Poland 7-0. Salem threatened twice but turned the ball over both times deep in Poland territory. Midway through the second period a fumble recovery by Chris White gave Salem great field position. Eight plays later Righetti went two yards for the score. Reinehr's PAT tied the score at 7-7. Late in the half, Repasky took a Salem punt 60 yards for his second touchdown. The PAT failed making the score 13-7 at the half. Salem took their first possession of the second half, 74 yards on 11 plays for a touchdown. Exline finished the drive with a one-yard sneak. The PAT made it 14-13 in Salem's favor. On Poland's next possession, however, Doctor needed only three plays for a 36-yard touchdown pass. The conversion failed, but the Bulldogs were back up 19-14. The Quaker went nowhere on their next possession having to punt to a waiting Repasky. He returned the ball 30 yards to give Poland the ball at midfield. It took the Bulldogs eight plays to score giving them a 27-14 lead. Salem rallied, but Repasky made his second interception to seal the victory for Poland.

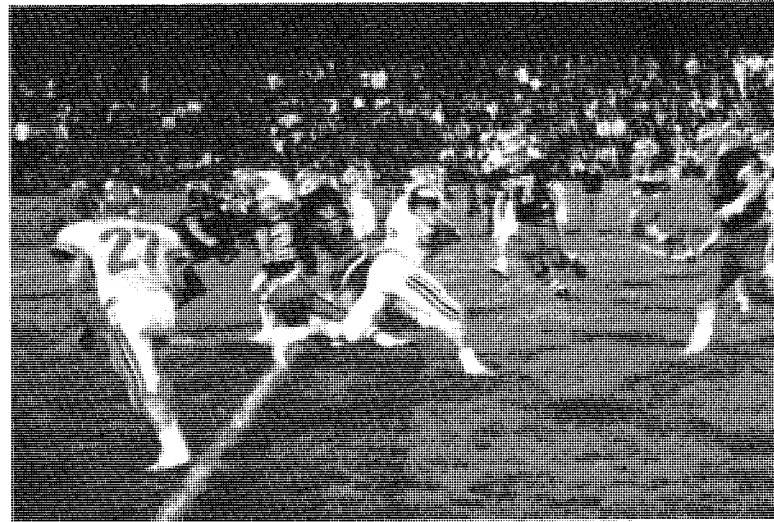

Salem went into JFK needing a win, but JFK did not let them have it. A balanced attack by JFK provided the victory. The Eagles took their first possession down the field scoring on a five-yard dive by Anthony Naples. The PAT was good, and JFK had an early 7-0 lead. JFK scored for a second time in the first half on a 23-yard field goal by Greg Kuzmaul. Adam Mack set up the field goal with a 28-yard run. Salem could not get anything going in the first half. The Eagles led 10-0 at halftime. Salem narrowed the lead on a 53-yard drive midway through period three. Righetti finished the drive with a 23-yard run. Reinehr's PAT made the score 10-7. The Eagles countered with a touchdown of their own. Anthony Davis led the drive gaining all 37 yards and rushed for the touchdown. The Quakers did not threaten again until late in the game. With less than two minutes to play, Exline hit Chris Huffman for 88 yards. Exline took the ball in from a yard out for the TD. With under a minute left the Quakers tried an on-side swift kick that was recovered by JFK. The Eagles ran the clock out giving them a 17-14 win.

Mr. Kunar is not satisfied with Salem's 2-5 record. They are playing in a lot of close games, but they are not winning. He is, however, pleased with the team's attitude and how they have bounced back from losses. "They're the most coachable guys I've had in my three years of coaching," commented Mr. Kunar. "They practice hard, play hard, and won't give up," he added. Good senior leadership is expected to continue, and the coaching staff would like the year to end on a positive note. The Quakers have three games remaining. "Three games we have to win. Three games we can win," stated Mr. Kunar. Salem has not put four good quarters together yet this year. When they do, roll the highlight films. Besides, the Quakers are due for a break.

J.V. FOOTBALL

The Salem J.V.'s started their season off slowly. They dropped three straight games to Campbell, Girard and Struthers. They have won their last two games, however, with wins over Canfield and Poland. Chris Cochran and Brian Martin have been Salem's main offensive threats. Mike Nery and Matt Stamp have been leading the defense. The Quakers hope to end their season at 3-3 with a win over JFK.

Cross Country Continues A Winning Tradition

by Andrea Engle

Salem's Cross Country squads are continuing their winning tradition under the outstanding and knowledgeable Coach Frank Parks and his assistant Jeff Lynn. The female runners have captured the Columbiana County and the Mahoning Valley Conference meets. The girls, who are 14-0, are led by Theresa Kaine. Kaine seized the school record of 19:27 at the recent MVC meet held in Canfield. The team also depends on the strength of Steph Headland, Maureen Kaine, Tricia Wilms, Jill Browne, Shawn Adams, and Jenni Sommers. Captains Headland, Andi Engle, and Kim Hedrick are projecting a hopeful and reachable state berth. First though, they will have to do well in the District and Regional events.

Simultaneously, the boys' cross country team has a strong outlook. The group was runner-up at the Columbiana County meet but dominated the MVC event. The team, which is 22-2, is headed by Graham Parks. He is the remarkable boys' leader who has had a memorable Senior year setting records all over the region. Chris Catlin, Sean Scahill, Steve Marroulis, Scott Ricker, Matt Medford and Bill Sherwood make up the powerful varsity squad. Captains Parks, Catlin and Medford also see a positive ending to the season. The boys have lost only to Boardman and East Liverpool and will undoubtedly see them again soon. The teams have had an exceptional season. Coach Parks said, "I am pleased and proud of the attitude and determination of both squads." The cross country team is well prepared and should do well in the upcoming District and Regional competitions.
