

Senior Edition

Senior Wills of the Class of 2007 (cont.)

Brenden Crowl – To Alexis Thorne, the right to roam the halls.

Ryan Crowell – To Phil Bennett, my ability to get yellow cards in soccer; Lauren Crowell, my greatness at everything.

Anthony Dailey – To underclassmen, enjoy your stay, time will fly by, and reality will smack you in the face before you know it.

Natalie Davidson – To my younger siblings, keep the Davidson Tradition going; Katie and Amy Scullion, I will my amazing b-ball skills – not that they need them; Kelly Roelen, I will her my ability to be SO FLY!

Joe Dominic – To Jimmy A., Garfield Experience and my sick golf skills; Boggs, to be as cool or cooler than I was; Teddy Y., to do a lot worse than Tommy and me.

Erin Drotleff – To Heather Hergenroder, my "tumbling skills"; Paige Kenreigh, the ability to survive one more year here; Josh Post, my amazing cheerleading skills.

Victor Dufresne – I will Peter Dufresne the ability to sleep in class; Jessica Schmidt, my Asian coolness, and Cassie Utt the ability to text back for once.

Stephen Durham – I will Greg Lambert a 1972 bottle of Mountain Dew; Timmy Howard, my tennis shoes; and Brandon Toothman, a washcloth and a bar of soap so he can clean the dirt off his back.

Alisha Fata – To Chelsea Campbell, my talking ability and my ability to get kicked out of Sir's class.

Jeremiah Folger – I will Jim King my sexy track shorts so he can throw shot-put as far as me. (P.S: You gotta support the boys).

Brandon Folsom – To Amanda Larson, common sense; Dan Black, my guitar skills; Mike Dahmel, the ability to not toe-tap all the time.

Jenni Frederick – To the pimp child, my uncanny ability to be "Happy" for the golf team and Geoffery; Sarah Brobeck, the everlasting love rub for future endeavors; Trent, my personality and phenomenal people skills.

Robert Garwick – I will my ability to drive to my sis. She will need it.

Patrick Gorby – To Eric Cibula, the ability to interrupt class with random phrases or sounds; Mike Boggs and Zach Carlisle, some saltines.

Brittany Gregory – I will Zachary Gregory my athletic skills. I will Kaitlin Kibler, a.k.a. Flower, my pitching skills. I will Jesse Dillon my vertical jump.

J.P. Guiler – To Scotty Guiler, the ability to be the smartest man alive; Nick Anderson, the ability to walk the halls constantly; Jim Armeni, the ability to pick up the honeys; Luis Labra, the ability to have the best-looking muscles in the school.

Ben Hendershott – To Josh Post, I will my "devilish" good looks and my breath-taking singing voice (and my 12-pack abs).

Robert Hergenroder – To Nathan, power of the "choo-choo"; Derek Hale, the ability to sleep in class; Erin – "It's not dry yet!"

Aryn Hissom – To my sister Jordan, to last one more year and enjoy it as much as I have.

Travis Holbrook – To Mr. Goddard, "It's 2007, nothing wrong with it"; my fellow Regulators Curtis Crank, Seth Harding, Ryan Golden, and Josh Post – not to put up with punk underclassmen. "Stay pimpin"; "You ain't az fresh az I'm iz!"

Jessi Howells – To Mrs. Wilson, one of every cookie Home Ec. ever makes; Mr. Ziegler, a new yardstick to be named King Henry II; my brother, my awesome parking spot; Nessa, my collection of vampire novels; Josh, a whole bouquet of pink balloons.

Sarah Humphrey – To Sister Abel, my extreme love of music; Mrs. Bosheff (Marr), my love and good wishes for the baby; Jessica, my awesomeness; Andrea, my coolness; Mistee, my lovely stories; Taylor, my v-ball skills; the volleyball teams, funny stories at camp.

Dan Huston – I will Carly Ellis the ability to eat KFC while driving to Lisbon. I will Jimmy Knezetic the trumpet section (not Smiley).

Abi Ivan – I will Katie Sacco good luck with the clarinet section. I will Lisa Brown the ability to be the lone alto in Chamber Chior and to have an awesome senior year. I will my brother Ryan a great four years in high school. I will Mr. Samu and Mr. Krauss patience to deal with the crazy underclassmen after the awesome class of '07 is gone.

J.J. Johnson – To Bryan Murphy, my off-roading skills; Coach Miller, my Powderpuff coaching skills; Austin Hutton, my ability to dominate the football field.

Amber Johnston – I will Mistee Shadle my ability to do the worm backwards and Shanliegh Hart, my Algebra II book.

Dave Johnston – To Rick Samu, the ability to put up with everything in band.

Chelsy Kaley – Tennis Team, keep the "nasties" alive; KK, the ability not to get caught in the park; Kathy, the ability to just...live the dream and my sweet fastball skills; Luke, keep wing night and Jaliscos alive; and I will Will the will to be willing Jonathan Kane – Mr. Spack, keep doing what you're doing; the class is great.

Nathan Kish – My brother Dan, a great soccer season next year and hopefully sometime soon a pinko free school; Justin Adams, amebas; Lauren Crowell, a piece of my heart

Britney Leyman – Andrea Baddeley, the ability to be fun and cute; DJ Krebs and Mark Stewart, my abilities to "smooth" talk the ladies but remember "you ain't fresh azimiz!"

Jonathan Lee – I will Kirsten Kuhns the power to get the will that she willfully wants for me to willingly will her

Wesley Lindberg – To the Quakers next editor in chief, I will the responsibility of Scarlet Letter bashing, in my stead

Andy Loudon – I will Tyler Evans my caddy skills; go get em Tiger; Luke Kastenhuber, my political views; and Lauren Crowl, a piece of my heart

Josh Lutz – I will Brad Weingart my cousin

Sarah Mathey – Brittany Stout, the will not to get senioritis next year; Matt Sosbe, to be good, stay out of trouble, and stay in school

Kaie McElroy – Jessica Summers and Shane Endicott, my relationship skills without fighting; Dan Gagnon, my good looks

Jeff Mellott – I will my wits and humorous attitude to my brother Rob, and my brains to Luke Shivers

Courtney Mercer – Corey Hartshorne, the right for no one else to kick his car except me and a wonderful senior year

Isaiah Metzgar – My younger brother, the ability to pay attention

Teresa Milhoan – Justin Seguin; my senior locker 138; Libbi Williams; my gigantic purple pen

Maria Miller – Karen Bell, my ability to read during class so she can finally get around to finishing the Harry Potter series

James McFarland – Derek Hale, the ability to be funny

Matthew Moffett – "Ooosha Boo" to Derek Ball; My sexiness to Boggs; My cooking skills to Miss Johnson, Zach Carlisle, and Amy Scullion; "Man Bear Pig" to Mike Adamson and Austen Hutton

Doug Mondell – Mrs. Dye, the ability to roll a suitcase down the hallway; Zach O'Brien, the bass section of chamber choir; Erksie, the ability to ignore Kaitlin when she screams his name in the hallway; Mrs. Brooks, the right to have a bear trap in her candy dish for those unworthy of sweets; Dan Kish, the right to be a champ; James Kaitilin and I's "loud" golfing skills

Andrea Mosher – Dana Webb, the ability to hold the ol' neighborhood down; My brother Grant, the ability to talk mom and dad into buying you a different car; Sarah Conrad, my mad football skills and all my love; Lindsay Kennedy, my black panther, swing, grapes, and most importantly Davith; Emily Winn, the ability to keep the hawk alive

Alyssa Nelson – I will Corey Hartshorne a bigger brain and a smaller appetite

Ryan Newell – Libbi Williams, my sense of humor; Cassie Utt, the ability to have great stories

Kent Paulini – Eli, the chance to play varsity and not get carded; Seth, Chip, Kibler, Eli, Phil, Kish, lead the team and treat the freshman like they should be treated; Pete, control the Karate kicks

Leah Perry – Geno Pasquinelli, my donkey laugh because he's jealous and to my sister Danielle, my good grades

Debbie Reymond – Corey Hartshorne, a door that actually matches or at least paint to fix the one he has; Jordan Gottschling, a scratching post

Maggie Reedy – James Armeni, the power to do "whatever's clever"; Eli Nannah, the ability to get out of people's ears

Cory Rickman – Mike Boggs, some popcorn

Doug Riley – Mrs. Wilson, a fork or some sort of cutter so she doesn't have to use her hands to eat pie; Mariah Poage, butter and salt so she can use it on waffles; Corey Hartshorne, listen you can have my new blazer; at least the doors match

Samantha Rumsey – That you should go for what you want

Stacy Saling – Corey Hartshorne, enough money for lunch to get through the year; Mr. Hays, all straw wrappers

Chad Sampson – My golf skills to James Armeni

Kaitilin Schoch – TEvans and Freds, the right to stay classy; Tyler Cosma, my incredible wisdom; Ersk, a freshman to yell their home extremely loud in the hallway each year; Samu, my impeccable musical knowledge; Mrs. Brooks, a portrait for Do uh and me for the guidance office; James, my trademark phrase "whatever's clever" and the right to a wonderful senior year. Take chances, take nothing for granted, and always keep moving forward; Dan Kish, the right to be a champ

Zahra Scullion – Soccer girls, my soccer skills; Tom Baker, my ability to sleep in class; Dan Gagnon and Alex Whinnery, my trash talking skills; Nathan fatty Gilbert, my invisible treadmill so he can lose weight; Amy and Katie Scullion, my ability to do whatever I want and not get caught

Abi Seguin – Katie Sacco, my saxophone and French horn-you're going to play great next year; Tyler Cosma, my "rock the arts" pin since you like it so much; next year's Drum Majors, the ability to deal with peppy, annoying counselors at 7:00am at Drum Major Camp

Kristen Simcox – Andrew Snyder, Febreeze and Gold Band foot powder for his good smelling feet; Barry Hinchliff, the ability and strength to get through one more year of band and jazz band

Justin Skiba – To the high school secretaries, the strength to deal with all the annoying kids that come up to them on a daily basis; Rebecca Ruth Skiba, my awesomenicity

Sarah Southwall – My locker to my friend Emily

Sarah Skiba – Derek Hale, my locker so he can store his Dum-Dums

Travis Smith – I was going to will Shirley and the other lunch ladies the ability to create cuisines, but they are doing splendid on their own.

Marian Spack – Nick, my brains; Katie, Jimmy, Shanda, and Alex, my hot cocoa and my mad art skills; Erin and Christina, my volleyball skills

Devin Sternagle – Derek Hale, friends; Mike, my house key; Pete Eritz, stilts

Adam Stone – Phil Bennett, my wardrobe so he can be half as sick as me; any of my three cousins, the ability to not study and still get all A's

Adam Swiger – Derek Hale, my cholesterol; Mrs. Schneider, my fire-works process

Matt Texter – The knowledge that life sucks so get over it

Melinda Tomlin – To my sister Brenda, the strength to make it through high school "Hold fast, don't give up, you can accomplish anything you put your mind to"

Heidi Wilhelm – Andrew Snyder, some Febreeze and odor eaters for his stinky goat cheese feet

Brittany Withrow – Katherine Ellis, receives my ability to do whatever I want and maintain to get away with it; Kyle Simms, receives my ability to sleep in any class and not get yelled at to wake up

Greg Woolman – I will Phil Bennett a pair of basketball shoes; Jordan Strabla, my driver's license; Mike Adamson, my football skills and some height

Kris Wright – I will the senior lunch table to Jacob

Zach Wright – I want to leave Mark Stewart my mad lady macking skills so he can stop complaining that I have all his women; "You ain't fresh like this"

Brandon Yarwood – Ryan Yarwood, the ability to get the girl you've always wanted; Derek Hale, my extra 50 pounds

Emily Yoder – I will my sister Bailey the strength and patience to get through the next two years; Mrs. Brooks, the power to have a bottomless pit of candy for Doug and Kaitlin; Josh Post, my fantastic cheerleading skills

Anna Zimmerman – Misty Wardell, my job (hehe); Erik Cibula, the ability to start a debate with Mrs. Dye

Mackenzie Zocolo – I will Josh Pittman all my cool stuff; Brittany Stout, my family living baby

