Foreword

N publishing the 1931 Quaker Annual the staff has endeavored to please every student and faculty member of Salem High. The aim of the staff has been to recreate within the covers of this book the scenes and atmosphere of our school days, with the hope that, at some future date reminiscences of our Salem Hi activities might be recalled, in the Quaker Annual.

Every member of the staff has done his best in trying to make the annual interesting and up to date. We hope we have succeeded in accomplishing our aim.

Chivalry

NOT only is the term chivalry characteristic of the days of King Arthur but it is also characteristic of all ages. In every walk of life chivalry is put in practice, especially in school life. There are many clubs in school that have as their ideals, the traditional qualities of the ideal knight which included gallantry, honor, valor, courtesy, generosity to foes, and the protection of the poor.

Most people do not realize that the ideals of chivalry are as essential to successful modern life as they were to the knights of old. Every one should become more acquainted with the ideals of knighthood and with this in view the King Arthur theme has been employed throughout this year's book.

Senior Class History

Four short years ago an eager but somewhat "green" and playful crowd of one hundred and eighty students entered Salem High school as Freshmen. This was the class of "31" beginning its high school career—and a worthy one it has been.

The first activity to receive particular attention was football. Paul Sartick, William Smith and August Corso headed the list of freshmen players. In basketball Paul Sartick and Sophia Adams made the varsity teams. Harold Walker won recognition as a "traveling man" in track.

We are proud to have one of our number on the debate team. Sue Lutsch served as a negative alternate. Hilda Pietras received third prize in the Brooks contest.

Then came that never-to-be-forgotten first class party. There is no question that, in the view of every freshman, it was a great event.

The sophomore year marked the beginning of class organization. The officers chosen were: President, Henry Reese, vice-president, George Ballantine, and secretary-treasurer, Ruth Auld.

School spirit ran high. The class had lots of pep and was noted for getting things done. Two successful parties were held. Sophomores were to be found in practically every activity. Four boys were members of the regular football squad and two won positions on the basketball team. Three girls also held places on the girls' squad.

They were very enthusiastic and capable in track and won the inter-class meet. Nor was scholastic standing neglected. Several were on the permanent honor roll. Sue Lutsch and Victor Orashan were members of the debate squad.

September, 1929, and we took up our school studies and activities as juniors. This fall there were nine of our class on the undefeated football squad. They were: William Smith, Paul Sartick, August Corso, Hugh Bailey, Wilbert Webber, Henry Reese, George Ballantine, Gene Yarwood and Oscar Hippley. Varsity basketball men are: A. Corso, P. Sartick, W. Smith and L. Weigand. Several girls, Sue Lutsch, Mary Judge, Roberta Ward, Ada Hanna and Anna Jones were prominent in basketball. Leading tracksters were: Bill Smith and Harold Walker. Bill heaved the discus 121 feet and Mr. Walker ran the mile in 4:40.

Dale Wilson and Daniel Weber won first prizes in the essay and oratorical sections of the Brooks Contest. Robert Stewart made third place in Chemistry in the North Eastern Ohio Scholastic contest at Kent.

The class play "Nothing But the Truth", was presented very successfully. The cast included: Leila Beck, Louis Benedict, Betty Coles, Dorothy Harroff, Joe Hertz, Garnett Lodge, Susie Lutsch, Victor Orashan, Henry Reese, Margaret Alice Steele and Charles Snyder.

But in spite of all this, the juniors found time to play. The class party was held in the gym. The Junior-Senior Prom was the big event of the year. The banquet at the Christian church and the dance in the gym, which was decorated to produce an under-sea effect were the main items of the program.

Three milestones have been passed and the members of the class of '31 now known as seniors have resumed their scholastic activities in good old Salem High for the last time. For class officers they again re-elected Henry Reese as president and Ruth Auld as secretary. Hugh Bailey was selected to succeed Ralph Stiffler as vice-president.

The Seniors set $1,000 as their goal. Part of this money will be spent for the gift to the school and for the Senior farewell party. The remainder will be presented to the Alumni Scholarship Fund.

As usual the class was well represented in athletics. In football Augie Corso, Bill Smith, Paul Sartick, Hugh Bailey, Lawrence Weigand, Henry Reese, George Ballantine, and Harold Hackett were prominent. Paul Sartick, Tom Nedelka, Lawrence Weigand, Tom French, Bill Smith, Richard Paxson, and August Corso gained positions on the basketball lineup. Sue Lutsch, Dorothy Kaercher, Ada Hanna, Anna Jones and Roberta Ward were on the girl's team. Wilford Brantingham and his team mate, Harold Walker carried off honors in the state cross-country meet at Columbus. "Si" won first place, establishing a state record.

Several new students joined the class this year. Ray Alexander, Evelyn Bash, Thomas French, Hazel Johnson, Richard Paxson, Margaret Nagy and Fred Reed. Raymond Bartholomew after eighteen years came back to finish high school and graduate with the class of "31".

The honor students are: Dortohy Harroff, Barbara Benzinger and Julia Bodo. Two out of the class of one hundred thirty are three year students, Margaret Nagy and Georgiana Buta.

Calvin Conway has been broadcasting over WKBN in Youngstown. The class is represented in the band by Calvin Filler, Calvin Conway, Georgiana Buta and Donald Lease. The orchestra members are: Clyde Bennett, Georgiana Buta, Donald Lease and Calvin Filler.

The class play was presented. Susie Lutch, Dorothy Harroff, Garnett Lodge, Margaret Steele, Dale Wilson, Donald Lease, Henry Reese, Donald Miller, Victor Orashan, and George Ballantine were the characters in "Broken Dishes."

In a few brief reminiscent words let us say that, as a class we have not only had four years of labor, toil, and pleasure but have gained a sense of responsibility to ourselves and others and have prepared ourselves for the higher things in life.

"The worst is yet to come"
So wail the doubters, glum,
—But here's the better view:
"Our best we've yet to do."
We'll go forward bravely, then,
And play our part as men.
—For this is ever true:
Our best we've yet to do.

Senior Class Prophecy

As I breathed my last, my spirit soared swiftly upward on the wings of Death, till suddenly I found myself standing outside the pearly gates, listening to the gentle strains of "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," which were wafted over the walls by soft silver breezes. At this moment the gates parted, and out strolled Saint Peter with a look of extreme happiness stamped indelibly upon his handsome physiognomy. I stared at him in amazement for the old boy was none other than Peter Duda, one of my old classmates.

"Hello there, Pete, you old sinner," I said. "Is there any chance for me to get in this place?"

He looked at me and weighed my soul with a single calculating glance.

"Well, I don't know," he dubiously replied. "You did nothing especially worth while on earth, but then on the other hand, you didn't sin very much. Because of this I'll give you a chance to save yourself from Perdition. You go back to earth and find out what all our old classmates are doing, and how they are getting along. I've been so busy cheating the devil out of choice souls lately that I haven't been able to keep up with the affairs of mortals. Then report to me and I'll let you in on probation; if you behave well enough I'll let you be Grand Vizor." Just then I heard a flapping of wings and William Luce appeared to escort his master back to the city. With a final twitch of his golden eyebrows St. Peter was gone and the gates closed softly behind him.

With a last yearning look, I turned and descended toward the earth. As I soared past Mars I saw Don Miller and Bob Stewart clambering out of a rocket plane which had apparently just landed. They seemed to be in great spirits over my death.

Upon reaching earth I immediately saw Charlotte Hutcheson and Susie Lutsch completing their twenty-four hundredth hour in an endurance dance at Henry Reese's million dollar ballroom. Howard Ahead and Rudy Linder were busy filling prescriptions and reaping the shekels derived therefrom. Doris Beall, the sole owner of "Beall's Beauty Bastille," was giving Reba Gabler an electric face massage and eyebrow trim, while George Ballantine sat waiting his turn glancing frequently at a jeweled watch. Robert Paxson, chief physician at Fred Reed's Clinic, was very calmly extracting a few unnecessary and bothersome organs from Bill Smith's reclining torso.

Louise Calkins and Barbara Benzinger, I found, were reaping a neat profit from the sale of hens which were trained to balance on their beaks and signal the Morse Code with their long, plumed tails. The press agent and advertiser of this company was none other than Howard Heston. Every night from Albert Baltorinic's broadcasting station the world had been hearing a selection of piano recitals offered by Calvin Conway who was accompanied on the oboe by Len Krauss. Betty Coles had established a dog hospital and Augie Corso was raising and selling a new kind of banana known as the "Corso Cyclops." A single banana would last the average family for a week and when it was gone the skin could be used for soling shoes. Elwood Hammell was the chief attraction of Robert Eddy's world famous troupe of acrobatic midgets. Ronald Hoopes and Hugh Bailey were trying to sell some life insurance policies to Dorothy Harroff and Tom Nedelka.

John Doyle as chauffeur for Ruth Auld was driving her to the Cleveland Auto Show where she intended to examine the new Trotter Twelve which has recently been put on the market by Howard Trotter. Ewing Gregg was selling bed bug exterminator to the orphaned cannibals in Africa. Rebecca Harris was the most popular soloist of the season and Paul Sartick was distributing hymn books among the wayward freshmen. Dale Wilson was making little ones out of big ones at Sing Sing, and had been for the last thirty years. The boy was influenced by a detective story written by Richard White.

Daniel Weber, president of the United States, was having a heated debate with Congressman Leo Affolter over the advisability of establishing a research laboratory where Glenn Shaeffer was determined to breed an earthworm with hips. Lewis Benedict had just donated a home for aged roaches, where Marjorie Bell was head nurse. Victor Orashan was rapidly becoming famous as a flag pole sitter, and Steve Zatko was the most popular bull fighter of the age.

All this I found and since it was approved by St. Peter, I am now able to play my harp in peace, and drink nectar with Calvin Filler and Wesley Davidson to my heart's content. So be it.

Senior Class Will

Hear ye, hear ye! All about the big "Auction" to be given under the auspices of the Senior class of Salem High school. Woe be to those who must give up their most precious possessions. May you, underclassmen, perceive and appreciate the spirit in which this auction is given. Step right up now, and get your prize.

Leo Affolter leaves his fallen arches to Joe Hertz. Ray Alexander leaves his accent to Bill Bently. Nick Altomore leaves the door open. Mary Andre wills a German instinct to Dan Holloway. Ruth Auld leaves her perfectly kept class records. Hugh Bailey leaves his radio to Purn Sidinger. Dan Balan is willing to give all the tardy slips to Miss Beardmore. John Balta bestows his quietness on Jean Scott. Albert Baltorinic gives an excellent history report to Mr. Henning. Leila Beck wills Betty Coles' dress to the Home Economics class. Julia Bodo leave a broken-down typewriter to Room 308. Wilford Brantingham leaves a fast step to Keith Harris. Georgiana Buta leaves an extra year. Louise Calkins bestows her Chevvie on Connie Tice. Josephine Cassell gives a marcel to anyone who needs one.

Hazel Charlton gives her alluringness to 206 "pencil sharpener". Marjorie Bell leaves a Frenchy look. George Ballantine leaves a lot of excess energy. Dorothy Harroff willingly leaves all the Quaker work to Marye Louise Miller. Barbara Benzinger leaves the dust of Europe to Jean Harwood. Anna Jones heaves a heavy sigh and leaves S. H. S.

Susie Lutsch leaves all her footballs to Selma Liebschner. Ruth Miller wills her long golden tresses to Ruth Jones. Dale Wilson leaves a lot of vowels and consonants to Jack Ballantine. Howard Heston leaves his business-like manner to Homer Silver. Victor Orashan leaves his dancing ability Lorin Battin. Doris Beall leaves her Titian locks to Paul Snyder. Ada Hanna wills a life saver to Tinie Krauss. Henry Reese leaves his presidency to John French. Anna Cleland lets the mirror in her locker to be broken. Raymond Coburn leaves a little space in the halls. Betty Coles leaves a few lumps in the fire. Calvin Conway leaves the organ peeling potatoes. August Corso gives a grapefruit to Bill Holloway, the Sophomore Rudy Vallee.

Ruth Cosgrove leaves the echo of her merry laughter ring throughout Room 309. Aurella Dan gives a giggle to Viola Bodo. Wesley Davidson leaves his masculins voice to Kenneth Koontz. Lucille Dickinson and Helen Diehl leave together. Donald Lease leaves his art of love-making to Norm Earley. Garnett Lodge gives a few piano solos to the musical world. William Luce leaves a beckoning glance to Becky Harris. Nellie Meier leaves a spelling book forever. Steve Mileusnic leaves a big rush at noon-hour. Donald Miller gives his southern accent to Russell Fitzpatrick. Desmond Mullins gives Mr. Springer a good match in golf. Margaret Nagy gives a Flat to the band. Tom Nedelka leaves a lot of news for the Quaker. Elsie Slaby leaves with Julia Bodo. Fred Reed leaves an empty locker. Thank goodness.

Doris Oesch gives a few pounds to Miss Lanpher. Winifred Ospeck leaves a lasting memory. Anna May Painter leaves Harold's picture to no one. Vivian Parks gives one last look and beats it. Madeline Paumier gives a date to Henry. Robert Paxson gives a few dances to any needy faculty member. Mary Reynolds gives a few words to the janitors. Paul Sartick leaves a lot of "Bull". Bert Schaefer leaves no nickels in the pencil machine. Glenn Shaffer leaves a lot of broken hearts. Heloise Shelton gives a "Helo-Ise". Naomi Shinn gives a beautiful notebook to Miss Workman. Bernice Smith gives a bathing cap to the Hi-Tri. Wilford Smith leaves a hot trail to Lisbon. John Doyle bequeaths his Spanish accent to Junior Courtney. Peter Duda leaves some duda doos to John Paul Olloman. Robert Eddy leaves a perfect impression of "Simple Simon". Calvin Filler leaves his politeness to Jack Carpenter. Tommy French leaves a short but forgettable career. John Fritzman leaves a pencil in English class. Reba Gabler gives a powder puff to Miss Hollett. Vera Gilson leaves us all alone. Ann Grafton leaves a lot of paper in the waste paper basket. Ewing Gregg leaves a vacant seat in the auditorium. Harold Hackett leaves 50 million notes to Katherine. Elwood Hammell leaves a little significance.

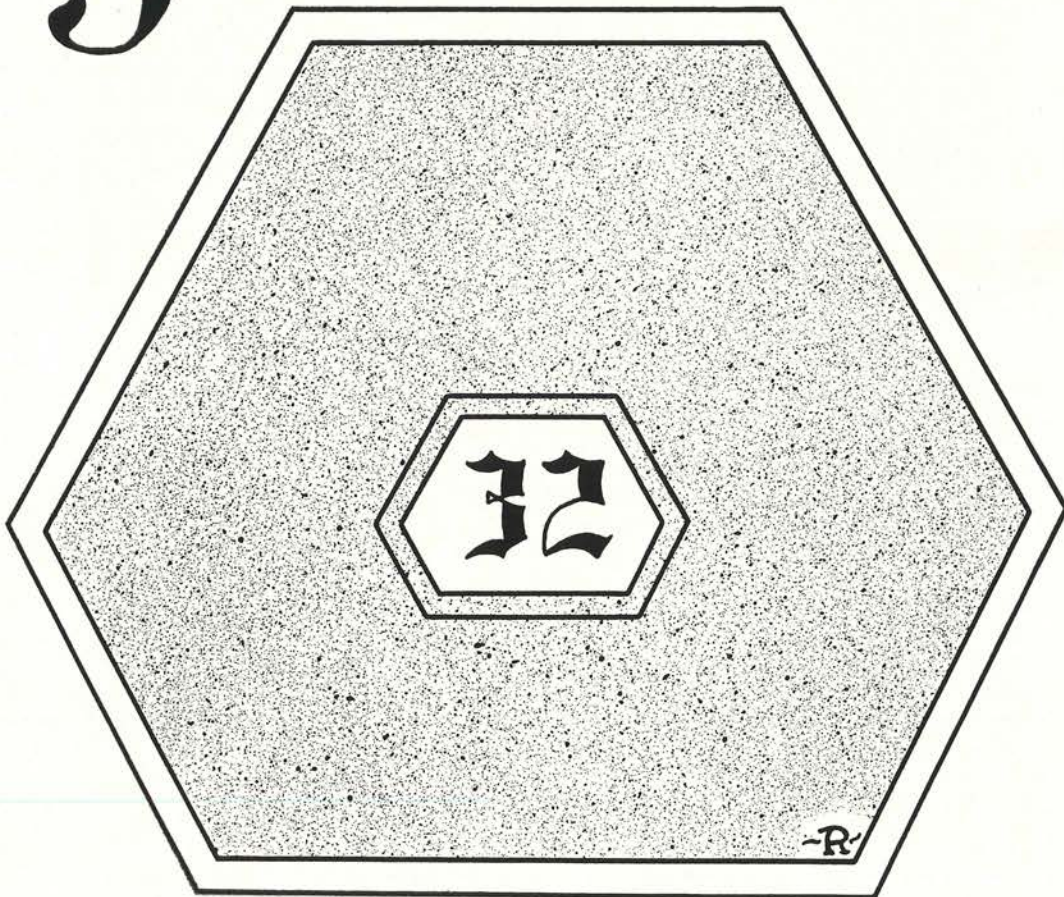

Howard Trotter leaves Treva for only an hour. Harold Walker leaves a little walk to the cross country team. Roberta Ward leaves an argument for the debate teams. Wilbert Webber leaves sleepily. Lawrence Weignand leaves so he won't get left in Sebring again. Richard White leaves his long trousers to Karl Uliciny. Ray Kuhlen leaves a post in the auditorium for graduating. Ray Bartholomew leaves rather a big surprise. Jack Perkins leaves a lot of empty parking places in front of the school.

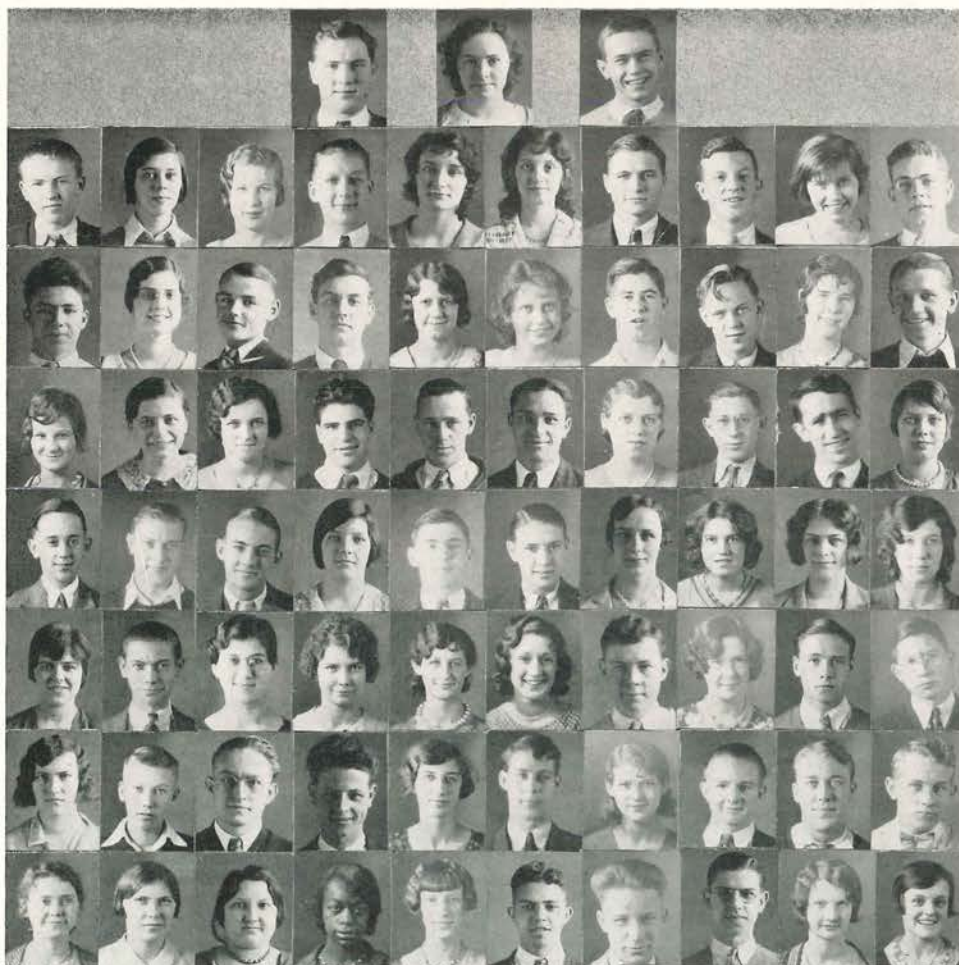

Rebecca Harris leaves a lot of noise in English class. Keith Hess leaves a graceful slipper to all future history classes. Oscar Hippley leaves a mirror for Jean so she won't get lonesome. Paul Hoffman gives a rah rah to the freshmen in the balcony. Ronald Hoopes gives his harmonizing talent to Gordy Keyes. Mary Ann Hunt leaves an apple on the lilac tree. Charlotte Hutchison gives all of her hair pins to Bettie Lee Kenneweg. Florence Jones gives her blue eyes to Tom Snyder. Russell Jones bestows "drugs" on the faculty. Mary Judge gives a "pudge" to everyone concerned. Dorothy Kaercher gives a pack of gum toward the "Old Teachers' Pension". Leonard Krauss leaves a wise cracker to Mrs. Englehart. William Smith leaves the initials "A. J." on 250 desks. Mercy. Hazel Snyder gives one A to Joe Bush. Margaret Steele gives a big whoop to wake up 206 at 1:20 p. m. Adele Stewart leaves her hair parted in the middle. Ralph Stiffler leaves a lot of physical geography reports to Ed Beck. Mervin Thomas leaves a heavenly atmosphere.

Junior Class History

Officers: President—John French
Vice-President—Gordon Scullion
Secretary-Treasurer—Mary Louise Scullion

In looking back over the last three years of our high school career, the class of 1932 finds a record of which to be proud.

We were well represented along scholastic and social lines, as well as in athletics. Marye Louise Miller won honors in the contest at Kent. In our sophomore year, unlike other classes, we held our class party with the freshmen. This plan turned out to be a great success.

In athletics we find M. Whitcomb, G. Scullion, Ed Beck, J. French, J. Carpenter, N. Earley, and L. Battin on the football team. In basketball the juniors were represented by Ed Beck, N. Earley, G. Scullion, M. Whitcomb, and L. Battin. Track took many of the boys including Ed Beck, W. Miller, G. Scullion, N. Earley, J. Carpenter, M. Whitcomb, R. Moff, C. Walker, R. Thompson, and H. Hortsman.

Miss Petersen had charge of the girls' athletics this year. Many of the girls were interested in hockey and soccer. Among these we find C. Tice, M. Fritzman, B. Mileusnic, and T. Matthews. The girls who made the basketball team are C. Tice, M. L. Scullion, M. Fritzman, A. Skowran, and R. Whinery.

The Junior class is proud to acclaim Louis Snipes the drum major. Other members of the band are R. Albright, H. Linton, P. Snyder, C. Meeks, and E. Raymond. C. Hoperick, J. Olnhausen, and H. Linton represent us in the orchestra.

The Junior class party, held just before Christmas vacation was a complete success. The decorations of the gym were in keeping with the season.

The Juniors had as their play "The Patsy" by Barry Connors. The characters were as follows:

Mr. Harrington—Charles Snyder
Mrs. Harrington—La Verda Capel
Grace Harrington—Selma Liebschner
Patricia Harrington—Marye Louise Miller
Tony Anderson—Lorin Battin
Bill Caldwell—William Miller
Sadie—Mary Andrei
Francis Patrick O'Flaherty—John French
"Trip" Busty—Jack Carpenter

The plot was woven around the romance of Patricia Harrington, the mis-treated daughter of the family, and Tony Anderson, who was the fiance of Patricia's sister Grace.

Having completed three years in high school we have come to our last and best. We will do our utmost to keep our standing high so that we need not look back on our high school days with regret.

Sophomore Class History

For the past two years the class of '33 has made for itself a reputation of which to be proud. In every activity in which they have been permitted to indulge, we find some outstanding sophomores.

Since this was the first year this class was permitted to elect officers, campaigning was carefully done and the results were very satisfactory. The officers are:

President—Gordon Keyes

Vice-President—Richard Strain

Secretary-Treasurer—Clair King

Athletics have held an unusual interest for this class. They are exceptionally proud of Gordon Keyes and Purn Sidinger, who have made the first football team. Others fast attaining success in this activity are: Dan Alexander, James Corso, William Corso, Frankie Culler, Donald Greenisen, Melvin Moss, Ray Mullett, John Varinaitis and Leonard Yates. This record is exceptionally good for any class so young.

The class of '33 has also scored in basketball. Those who have held up the honor of their class in this respect are: Bruce Arnold, Frankie Culler, Donald Greenisen, Keith Harris, Bill Holloway, Gordon Keyes, William Pauline, Purn Sidinger and Leonard Yates.

The girls of the class who have made the first basketball team are Ruth Jones and Mary Koenreich. The reserves are: Betty Chappell and Matilda Hurray.

Track men are: Bruce Arnold, Daniel Alexander, Robert Cluman, Murray Cooper, Kieth Harris, Clarence Hartsough and William Pauline.

Debate has also held an unusual interest for this class. Many tried out for it. The successful ones are: Viola Bodo and Lewis Briskeen.

The class party was held with the freshman class. It was a great success and everyone enjoyed himself.

Sophomores, this half of high school career has been a great success. Keep it up!

Freshmen Class History

The class of '34 started out rather well considering that we were freshmen. The majority of us had been in the high school building before so we were not awed by its size but there did seem to be a certain dignity about it upon which we feared to intrude. The first few days of school we of course dashed around a bit wildly but soon settled down. There were about two hundred twenty-two freshmen this year.

We have reason to be proud of our class for we have many fine athletes. Alfred Konnerth, Walter Papesch, and Arthur Papesch went out for football. Wayne Sidinger and Walter Papesch went out for basketball and made the reserve team. The girls who went out for basketball are: Helen Moffett, Avien Paxson, and Marianne Mullins, all of whom made the reserve team.

Hockey and soccer found good players among the freshmen girls. The boys did excellent work during the track season.

We have many freshmen who are on the honor roll and we are very proud of them.

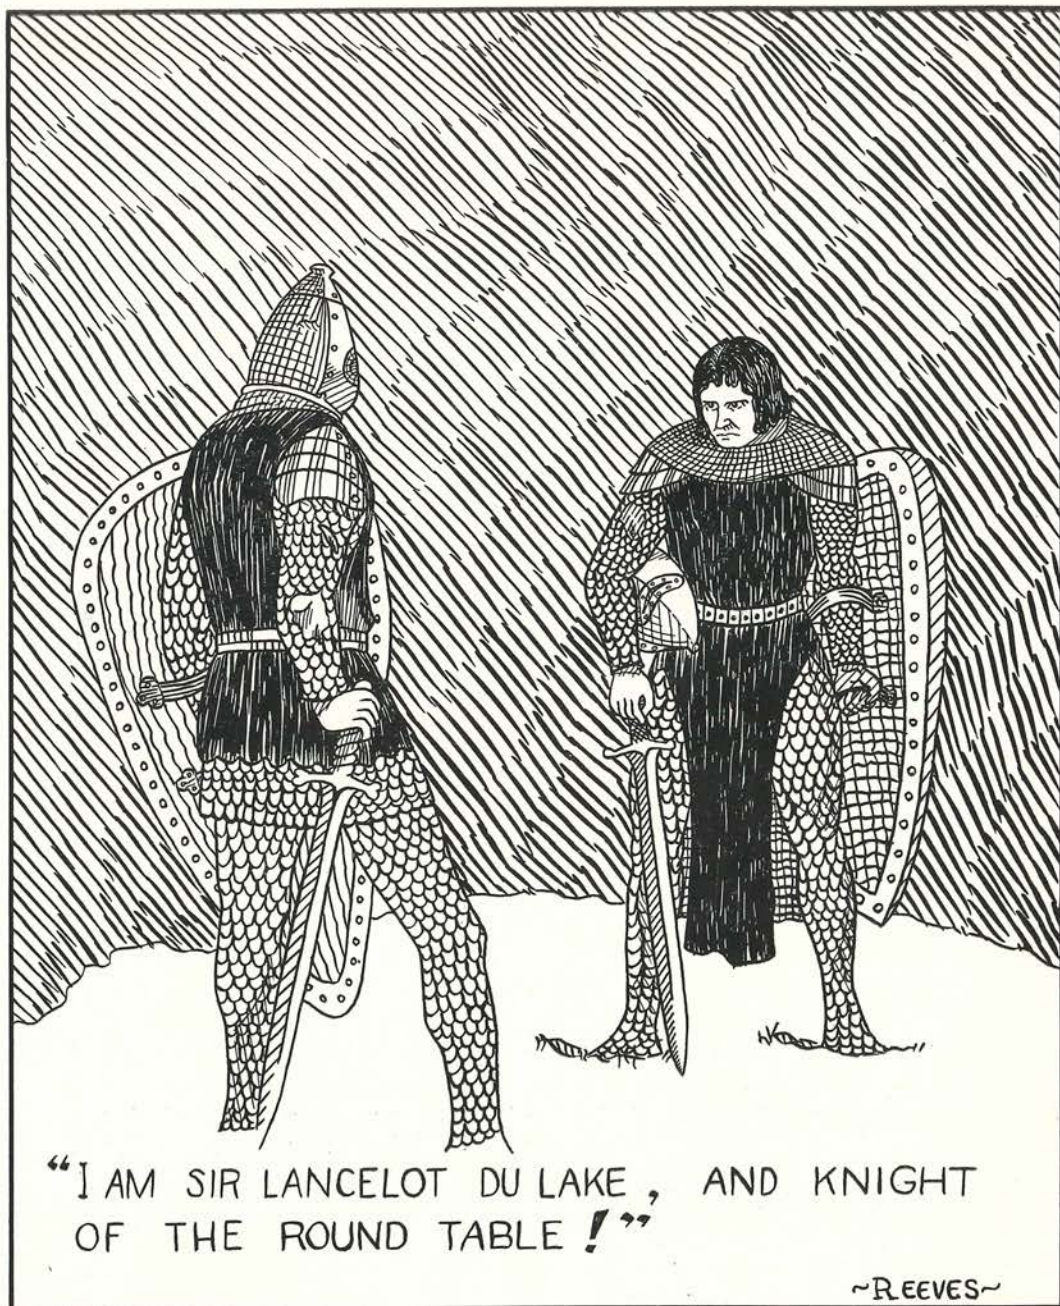

Many freshmen belong to the high school orchestra or band. Among the members are, Oland Dilworth, Marie Callahan, Alroy Bloomberg, Camille Moore, and William Kendall.

The only freshman social event of the year was the freshman party which was given with the sophomores. The gym was decorated with the freshmen and sophomore colors. The first part of the evening was spent in playing games and two plays were given. The latter part of the evening refreshments were served and dancing was the entertainment for the rest of the evening.

Many of the class joined the association and most of them attended the association parties.

We hope that the class of '34 will continue, or even make more progress in the fine work it has done in the proceeding years.

ATHLETICS

Football

The Salem High football team of 1930 coached by Floyd W. Stone and Franklin P. Lewis established a very impressive record. Of the eleven games played only one was a defeat and two were ties. The others were victories by large margins. Salem scored 251 points to 51 by opponents. Salem won the county championship and tied with Alliance for second place in the Big Ten honors.

From then on Salem played with a vengeance. Akron West was the first victim. Then came the Leetonia massacre. Leetonia was torn to shreds for a 95-0 score. One of the best games was played here when Salem trounced Warren 27-6. New Philadelphia, Youngstown East and Wellsville also bowed before the onslaught of the Stonemen. Youngstown South called a halt to that winning streak. 6-6 was the result of that terrific struggle. Sebring and Lisbon went down in regular order. Then came Thanksgiving. Salem played its second tie game of the year at Alliance on one of the coldest days of the year. Old man weather reigned supreme; neither side scored.

Boys Varsity Basketball

Victorious in 13 out of 21 engagements Salem High's varsity basketball team completed a court campaign marked with unusual success during the 1930-31 season. The team although failing to annex its sixth consecutive Columbiana county championship title, won distinction as one of the leading combinations in the northeastern Ohio district league and advanced to the finals in the district tourney at Warren.

Playing a difficult schedule of 21 court tilts, throughout the season, the lads had some trouble getting started, but once underway they performed like an entirely new court machine and proceeded to win a fair majority of their games. After dropping their first two games of the season the team came back in the following two weeks to defeat their opponents by fair margins, but this was followed by another one of those heart-breaking cage contests in which Salem High was not conceded the victor. Then the Salem quintet produced its best performances of the season by ringing up eight consecutive cage tilts, defeating some of the most formidable cage aggregations in the district and county leagues. The remaining nine games brought out much disappointment to the fans as the team lost five of the final contests.

The Stonemen lost their first two games to the strong Canton McKinley and Akron East aggregataions being defeated in both contests by close margins. The following two contests were featured by Salem's perfect pass-work and fine offense which resulted in victories over Massillon High and the Alumni team.

Our third defeat of the season came when the Stonemen invaded the Alliance hard-wood artists at Barnes auditorium in Alliance. The Quakers held the Alliance aggregation to a 15-1 count at the half-way mark but the ejection of Salem's first stringers by the four personal foul rule proved the main factor of our defeat.

Determined to establish themselves as one of the leading contenders for all district and county laurels, the Quakers defeated their opponents in 8 consecutive contests defeating a team from Liverpool twice in a period of five weeks and also humiliating teams from Niles, Lisbon, East of Youngstown, N. Philly and Dover.

Coach Floyd Stone's proteges sustained their fourth loss when E. Palestine nosed them out by a one-point count in a hard-fought battle. They continued on their way to the "Big Ten" championship by defeating Ravenna High by a decisive score only to be defeated by a weak Warren group the following week. The Quakers were again acclaimed the victor over St. Mary's of Akron.

Salem High was defeated in three consecutive battles by Wellsville, Ravenna and Alliance, but an easy victory over a strong team from Struthers High concluded the regular 1930-31 season.

The team advanced to the finals in the district tourney at Warren only to be nosed out by Warren High on their own court.

First Row—Mr. Lewis, J. Julian, M. Whitcomb, F. Culler, K. Harris, C. Paxson.
 Second Row—A. Catlos, W. Linder, B. Pauline, D. Greenisen.
 Third Row—W. Sidingner, L. Yates.

Boys Basketball Reserves

It is a sensational basketball record that the Salem High Reserve Squad compiled in the 1930-31 season. Winning sixteen out of seventeen battles the team completed a court campaign that proved to be the most successful season ever completed by a reserve squad here.

Coach Lewis' proteges composed entirely of freshmen and sophomores, started the campaign in great style, ringing up a total of fourteen consecutive victories. The fifteenth encounter spelled defeat for our formidable, up and coming aggregation as the powerful Alliance High Reserves invaded our own gym, and overwhelmed the Quakers in a heart-breaking cage tilt 28-21.

The team closed the season by completely humiliating aggregations from Columbiana and Damascus, and all indications show that this year's Reserve squad was the most outstanding Reserve aggregation in the northeastern district of Ohio.

Girls Basketball

Compared with the records of other years, the record made by 1931 basketball team wasn't so good. From a schedule of thirteen games, the total was four won and nine lost.

In none of the games was the team greatly outclassed, most of the games being lost by small margins. Probably the best showing of the team was at Damascus, when the team, having lagged far behind during the first half, rallied in the third quarter to make 24 points to 4 points made by the Damascus team, but was unable to fill the gap made in the first half of the game.

In the county race, Salem girls won three and lost four games, taking fourth place in the final county standings.

Ruth Jones, Salem's outstanding forward, tallied 149 points in the thirteen games. Captain Sue Lutsch, second in the scoring list, tallied 43 points, with Connie Tice coming in a close third with 37 points. Ada Hanna with 23 points, Mary Weigand with 11, and Betty Chappell, who scored 2 points, were other members of the squad to break into the scoring.

Track

This group of young men represents one of the greatest track teams ever developed at our school.

Under the tutorship of coaches, Stone and Lewis, these boys spent the early part of April getting into condition at the high school gym and going to Reilly field when weather permitted.

Coach Stone took a squad of ten men to the C. A. C. indoor meet at Cleveland on Saturday, March 20. Salem made five points in this meet through efforts of P. Sidinger, H. Horstman and Smith.

The regular outdoor season started with the interclass meet and dual meet with Ashtabula held at Reilly Stadium April 11. Many athletes took part in this meet and showed great form and ability in various events.

During the season the track team took part in the following meets: C. A. C. at Cleveland, March 20; Interclass meet and dual meet with Ashtabula April 10-11; Triangular meet, Canton, Akron Central and Salem, at Salem; Mansfield relays—April 25, Salem High Night Relays, May 2; Big Ten meet at Salem—night—May 8; County meet at Lisbon—May 9; N. E. O. District meet at Salem—May 16; and state meet at Columbus—May 22-23.

Competing against the strongest teams in Ohio, and bringing added fame to our school, these boys and coaches should be highly complimented on their fine cooperation in making this one of the most successful track seasons Salem High has ever known.

With many veterans returning next year Salem High can look forward to having a team to be proud of in the future—and then the pitch fork broke.

Back Row—H. Horning, F. Theriault, D. Miller, Mr. Clark.

Cross Country

One of the greatest surprises of this year's athletic career was the cross country team developed by Coach Bromley Clark. The Salem harriers showed their prospective strength when they captured the state championship at Columbus.

The Quaker runners were undefeated throughout their entire season, and put a record on the books that will hardly ever be equaled by any Red and Black team. Coach Clark's team emerged victorious at Lakewood, Wooster, Mansfield and Columbus. This is the best team ever developed since cross country was introduced by Principal W. J. Springer.

Wilford Brantingham developed into one of Salem's outstanding runners when he smashed the state record by one and one half second. Brantingham showed his superiority at the state capital when he won the 2½ mile trot by a clear one hundred yards. Brantingham also took a first place in the dual meet held with Mansfield at Mansfield.

Harold Walker, Salem's star miler, went through a poor season due to a bad ankle. Walker took first places in two meets, one at Lakewood and the other at Wooster. He was forced to be satisfied with seventh place at Columbus.

Quaker Editorial Staff

The members of the Quaker Staff sincerely hope that the students of Salem High approve of this annual and are proud of it. They have done their best to make it a success by using the highest class of material possible. Having individual pictures of the underclassmen costs more but improves the standard of the book. This has been done only once before. A number of the club pictures were taken in front of the library which makes a more picturesque background than that which has been previously used. This is the first time in the history of the Quaker that the annual has had a stiff cover. It is also the first time that a theme has been used throughout the book.

The staff has also done its best this year to make the bi-weekly a paper that everyone would enjoy. There were more cuts than usual in the issues. There were fewer stories and more news. The staff tried to cover every bit of news. The paper paid for itself most of the time.

If the staff has made the annual and the bi-weeklies as enjoyable as they have tried to do, they will be amply repaid for their work.

Back Row—Tom Nedelka, Lionel Smith, Mr. Hilgendorf, Lewis Benedict, Raymond Moff.

Quaker Business Staff

The editorial staff plans many fine things for your annual but if the business staff did not cooperate and provide funds, the annual would be impossible. The business staff this year has worked diligently to meet the great expense of this book, and since we were able to successfully publish this 1931 annual, we feel that our work has been well done.

The business staff consisted of Howard Heston, business manager; Clarence Patten, assistant business manager; Victor Orashan, distribution manager; Lorin Battin, Lionel Smith, Raymond Moff, Lewis Benedict, and Calvin Filler, associate managers. There also was a special staff consisting of Susan Lutsch, Margaret Nagy, Paul Hoffman, Lionel Smith, and Clarence Patten.

This year a new system of finance was inaugurated. Every organization was required to stand the expense of having its picture in the annual. The hard times made it difficult to get advertisements, but the staff worked hard and put the Quaker on a better financial basis than ever before.

All of the work done by the business and editorial staffs has been for the sole purpose of creating an annual of which Salem High might be proud. If this book pleases you we are amply repaid.

Hi-Y

Again this year the Hi-Y aided as well as entertained the school.

When the plan of reserving seats for basketball games was inaugurated, the members of the Hi-Y under Mr. Jones were utilized as ushers.

In the midst of the basketball season, the Hi-Y held a dance at the Elk's ballroom. Later in the year, accepting an invitation from Mr. Ulrich, the Hi-Y went to the Youngstown Y. M. C. A. A dance by the Warren Hi-Y at the Warren High school was attended by some of our members. A round table was held in the spring.

Re-adopting a plan that had been abandoned several years ago, the Hi-Y elected three sophomore members into the club. Under the plan used during the last few years, only juniors and seniors were elected. The juniors did not know anything about the process of electing members when they were about to do so. Under the restored plan there will always be some in the club who are acquainted with the customs of the Hi-Y.

This year the officers were George Ballantine, president; Victor Orashan, vice president; Rudolph Linder, secretary; and Wilbert Webber, treasurer. Mr. Jones was the faculty adviser.

Hi-Tri

The Hi-Tri club which was organized in 1928, has completed another very successful year.

The officers for this year were: President, Susan Lutsch; vice president, Barbara Benzinger; secretary, Mary Ann Hunt; treasurer, Mary Judge; social chairman, Rebecca Harris.

Miss Esther Petersen, girls' athletic coach, who was a newcomer in Salem this year, was faculty adviser. She introduced many new ideas which helped to better it.

The meetings at which round table discussion was held proved to be the most interesting of the year. Each girl was, in turn, discussed. Her good characteristics as well as bad ones were pointed out to her.

The director of the Alliance Girl Reserves also visited the club. She explained the purpose of the Girl Reserves.

Initiation of the new members took place at a week-end party at Post's farm. This was a very enjoyable excursion.

A Thanksgiving party was held at the Memorial building, Nov. 19. A bake sale was held March 14, the annual swimming party was held April 18 at the Y. W. C. A. in Youngstown, closing a very successful year.

Science Club

The Science club was organized in 1925 under the supervision of Mr. Vickers. Since that time the club has progressed very rapidly and is now one of the popular clubs of the school. Pupils must have two years of science to their credit before they can enter this club. The purpose of the organization is to promote an interest in science.

This year the club was under the management of Mr. Jones. The officers for the year were: President, Lewis Benedict; vice president, Ewing Gregg; secretary-treasurer, Howard Ashead.

At an early meeting it was decided by the old members to have a regular initiation for the new members instead of the one used in the other years, which consisted of writing a paper on some scientific subject and then reading it in front of the club. These speeches were of course interesting but time did not permit all of them to be read so it was decided to have the other kind of initiation. The initiation was held in Room 302 and also in the Domestic Science room. After the initiation the old members served lunch. Everyone had a good time, especially the old members laughing at the ones being initiated.

The club visited the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and also the Goodyear Hangar where the Zeppelin is being constructed.

General Science Club

The General Science club has been quite a success this year. The Freshman have taken an active part in the meetings that have been held in Room 303 under the supervision of Mr. Henning.

The club was organized last year, for the purpose of arousing more interest in scientific subjects. Keen interest has been displayed by the members in their eagerness to search out the answers to scientific riddles. They have accomplished almost everything they have attempted to do.

The programs have been very interesting. They have consisted of debates, experiments, reports, and short playlets illustrating certain scientific subjects.

Some very attractive pins were selected by the members. The members also decided to have a picnic sometime near the end of the school year.

The club is becoming more popular with the students and we expect to hear from some of our young scientists later.

Lamarkians Club

The Lamarkian club, named for the noted French scientist, Jean Baptiste Lamarck, was organized last year under the direction of Miss Ella T. Smith. Its purpose is to promote an interest in biological science.

The officers for 1930-31 are: President, Marcella Moffett; vice president, Ada McKenzie, and secretary-treasurer, William Luce. Miss Ella T. Smith and Miss Doris Shoop are the faculty advisers.

Meetings are held bi-weekly and at these meetings programs prepared by the members are presented. Attention is directed particularly to the study of human disease.

This club has one of the largest memberships of any club in Salem High and is certainly one of the most popular and successful.

First Row—N. Meier, Brantingham, A. M. Stackhouse, L. Jones, F. Ulrich, C. McQuilken, Umstead, W. Schaffer, Mr. Hilgendorf.
 Second Row—C. Blythe, M. Burke, L. Weigand, B. Bently, J. Carpenter, R. Miller, V. Parks, L. Bruderly, F. McQuilken.

Commerce Club

The Commerce club, which was originated in October, 1928, has again, under the careful and timely supervision of Mr. Hilgendorf, gone through a successful year. In September, 1930, the club renewed its activities with ten of last year's members. Under an efficient system and careful consideration the club increased its membership to twenty-eight. The officers for the past year are: President, Jack Carpenter; vice president, Gordon Scullion; secretary-treasurer, Freda Ulrich.

The Commerce club is a very active and interesting club. As the club enjoys activities true to its name, it has as its main activity, parliamentary law drills. These drills were very interesting and two meetings of each month were devoted to this purpose. These drills not only govern school activities but they hold true to the activities of any future event. These laws are followed closely by the popular clubs of the community and they are an asset to the student.

The club concluded the year's program with its annual picnic. Ten of the members are of the class of 1931. We sincerely hope that the club will progress and continue to grow in the future.

Debate Club

This club was started in 1930. Its purpose is to create a greater interest in debate and in good literature. When it was first started, it was not very popular, but this year it was a good lively club.

To join this club you had to attend two consecutive meetings before you were considered a member. Then the initiations took place! You may be sure some jolly times were had.

At the beginning of a meeting the president always selected a committee to take charge of the following meeting. Sometimes they had business meetings; sometimes they had readings, stories and games. All these things, of course, were to aid the members in understanding and appreciating good literature.

Debate Team

Although Salem High now has many other activities which supplement the curriculum, one which predominates every season is debate. Annually, competitive tryouts are held by the debate coach, Mr. J. C. Guiler. Those who are successful then begin preparing for future contests.

This year nine debaters were chosen from among thirty or more participants. The teams chosen were: Affirmative, Lewis Briskin, captain, Viola Bodo, Jack Ballantine, and Mary Campbell, alternate; negative, Daniel Weber, captain; Howard Heston, Dale Wilson, Virginia Grama, and Raymond Coburn, alternates.

The affirmative team successfully encountered East Palestine, and received the decision from Sebring by the latter's default. However, after a valiant but vain effort, the team was defeated by Carrollton. The negative team also won its first two debates against Campbell and East Liverpool. After a very interesting forensic contest with Canton McKinley, the negative team lost by a very close decision. Thus the record for this year is four victories out of six contests, and third place among the district schools in the Ohio State Debate League.

The proposition debated this year was: "Resolved, that the chain stores are detrimental to the best interests of the American public."

Salemasquers

The Salemasquers, the dramatic club of Salem High school has finished another successful year. Miss Mary Lanpher is to be commended highly in her work as faculty supervisor. The fact that her first year here has been a success proves that she is really capable of supervision in this club.

The new point system introduced by Miss Lanpher makes every member busy at some project, for which he or she gets a certain number of points. Each member must have fifty points per semester. These projects may be in way of writing, directing, or taking part in plays, making scrap books of famous stage actors or actresses, giving readings, or making any public appearances. So, the Salemasquers is a very busy club, doing everything to promote a greater interest in the art of dramatics.

The officers of the 1930-31 season were: President, Leonard Krauss; vice president, Clarence Patten; secretary, Lewis Benedict; assistant secretary, Selma Liebschner; treasurer, Garnett Lodge; assistant treasurer, John Paul Olloman; and sergeant-at-arms, Daniel Holloway.

“Broken Dishes”

“Broken Dishes”, a delightful three-act comedy by Martin Flavin, was presented by the Senior class on December 17 and 18. It was given under the capable supervision of Miss Mary Lanpher. Miss Lanpher and the cast certainly deserved to be congratulated on their splendid presentation of the play.

This play tells the story of the Bumpstead family. For years Mrs. Jenny Bumpstead had nagged her husband, Cyrus Bumpstead, and barked at him to her disappointment that she had married a weakling instead of a grand young man named Chester Armstrong, whom she had loved when a young girl. Jenny has held Chester up to her daughters as a model, with the result that her two oldest daughters, Myra and Mabel, remained unmarried. However she is unable to dominate her youngest daughter Elaine. At the end of the play Chester turns out to be a crook, Cyrus becomes the head of his family and Elaine with the help of her father marries Bill Clark, the butcher boy.

The cast included: Susie Lutsch, Jenny Bumpstead; Dorothy Harroff, Myra Humpstead; Garnett Lodge, Mabel Bumpstead; Dale Wilson, roff, Myra Bumpstead; Garnett Lodge, Mabel Bumpstead; Dale Wilson, Stump; Henry Reese, Sam Green; Victor Orashan, Chester Armstrong; George Ballantine, a detective; and Margaret Steele, Elaine Bumpstead.

“The Patsy”

One of the elements that is most essential to the success of a play is that it be true to life as the audience sees it. The Patsy carries this element throughout the play, and its production was immensely popular.

The scene is laid in the living room of the Harrington home. It concerns Patricia Harrington, a girl who “runs second” to her older sister, Grace. Patricia is the “Patsy” who is blamed when anything goes wrong and is forced to remain in the background so that her sister may be presented to advantage. Mrs. Harrington’s chief interest is in society, while Mr. Harrington is more interested in seeing that Patricia gets a square deal. When Grace becomes engaged to Billy Caldwell, Patricia falls in love with Tony Anderson, once Grace’s fiance, and with the help of some books that guarantee to make her popular, she finally wins him.

The characterization of Mr. Harrington, the long-suffering husband, was given very well by Charles Snyder. La Verda Capel splendidly took the part of Mrs. Harrington. Lorin Battin as Tony Anderson, and Marye Louise Miller as the Patsy, gave a fine performance of the hero and heroine. Selma Liebschner as Grace Harrington, the hard, cold and petulant sister, was very convincing. William Miller as Billy Caldwell, Grace’s fiance, Mary Andrei as Sadie Buchanan, John French as Francis Patrick O’Flaherty, and Jack Carpenter as “Trip Busty,” the taxi-driver, gave very creditable performances.

Band

On May seventh, Salem entered the state contest for high school having been organized in 1928 by Sam Krauss. Since then it has become a very important factor in school activities.

At football games, the music was a great help in keeping up the enthusiasm of the rooters. The drills between the halves, which were led by our drum major, Louis Snipes, added much to Salem High's reputation.

The band played for most of the basketball games and track meets and also furnished music for many special occasions.

The Salem High school band has just concluded its fourth year, bands, which was held at Bedford, and performed very creditably.

A second concert, given the first of May, was well received by a large audience.

The band owes much to our director, Mr. C. M. Brautigam for the splendid musical organization which he has developed. We are also very grateful to Mr. W. H. Mullins for the huge silk flag which he presented to us.

Front Row—Mr. Regal, K. Minth, A. Cleland, E. Clark, M. Callahan, G. Buta, —? —?

Orchestra

The Orchestra membership of 1930-31 exceeded that of any preceding year since the organization of the club in 1921 under the direction of Miss Grace P. Orr. There are now thirty-seven members.

This year the orchestra made eight appearances. A large number of new selections were worked up for these occasions, including a group of "Sousa's Marches," and a group of overtures.

It was possible to attempt music of a more advanced type this year because of the increased variety of instruments.

There were ten violins, five clarinets, eight cornets, one tuba, two alto horns, one tenor saxophone, three alto saxophones, one C melody saxophone, two trombones, two baritones, xylophone, piano, and drums.

The music provided for the class plays, as well as for other occasions, was much appreciated.

The surplus of underclass material promises to make 1931-32 surpass this year for musical achievement. The popularity of the organization will doubtlessly tend to increase.

First Row—M. Andre, M. Roth, E. Clark, K. Taylor, D. King, R. Cope, G. Buta, A. Painter.

The Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee club started the year with Miss Orr as director; Anna Mae Painter, president; Naomi Shinn, secretary-treasurer; Velma Herron, librarian. Garnett Lodge is our accompanist with Anna Cleland as assistant accompanist.

The club was organized three years ago with a membership of fifteen. Each year we lose members by graduation and as early in the year as possible the vacancies are filled by girls with musical ability. The membership of the club is now limited in size. This year the club consists of six seniors, four juniors, seven sophomores, and five freshmen.

At the meetings held twice a week, the time is devoted completely to the practice of art songs of the highest order. Some of them are: "Dawn"—Curran, "By the Watermelon Vine"—Allen, "Kiss of Spring"—Rolle, "On Wings of Song"—Mendelesohn, "The Little Hills Are Calling"—Morris, and "Invitation of the Bells"—Planquette. Even though we must spend much time in practice, we all agree that our time is spent profitably. Some social periods were features this year which proved to be a great success and were enjoyed by everyone.

First Row—C. Filler, P. Duda, C. Patten, M. Heston, W. Davidson, L. Benedict.
 Second Row—E. Bash, B. Benzinger, M. Bell, H. Diehl, L. Dickinson, M. Kovash, A. Skowran, R. Janicky, M. Zimmerman.

 Fourth Row—M. Reynolds, M. Paumier, H. Shelton, L. Beck, D. Kaercher, A. Hanna, M. Andrei, E. Wilms.

French Club

The French club, which was organized three years ago, has made much progress in furthering an interest in the French people, the language they use, and their customs. For the last two years the club has been under the capable supervision of Miss Velda Lawn, the instructor of French in Salem High school.

The members of the club elected the following people as club officers for the year 1930-31: President, Peter Duda, first semester; Clarence Patten, second semester; vice president, Melvin Heston, second semester; secretary-treasurer, Helen Diehl, first semester; Rose Janicky, second semester.

The meetings which were held during the activity period proved very interesting. French songs were extremely popular. A brief French play was presented at one meeting.

Taking the year as a whole the club has been very successful. The seniors wish the French club all the prosperity and pleasure possible in its future years of activity.

First Row—W. Smith, M. Moss, D. Leipper, M. McArtor, J. West, R. Long, C. King, D. Dilworth, R. Chamberlain, K. Ulicny.

Latin Club

A Latin club in a school can be of a great value. It can furnish an opportunity for the pleasurable learning of much about the Romans and their civilization for which there is not sufficient time in class. It can also give an outlet to the dramatic instinct, and at the same time strengthen correct pronunciation of Latin. Another thing that a club of this sort does is to open to the pupils a new world of books about the Romans and Greeks, and help to develop in them an appreciation of ancient art and literature.

Sodalitas Latina has enjoyed a very interesting and profitable year under the capable leadership of the club's officers and the faculty adviser, Miss Horwell. The officers were: President, Daniel Weber; vice president, Salma Liebschner; secretary-treasurer, Bill Bowling; program chairman, Sara Spiker.

At the bi-monthly meetings the club had many interesting programs. A study was made of Roman customs, dress and homes.

A bright future faces the members of this enthusiastic group.

First Row—C. Knepper, E. Slaby, J. Bodo, D. Blackburn, R. Gabler, M. Umstead, A. Dan, R. Auld, Miss Hollett.
 Second Row—V. Mohr, V. Loutzenhiser, L. Nonno, C. Blythe, M. McLaughlin, M. Bell, T. Cooper, F. Minamyer, J. Doyle.
 Third Row—P. Hoffman, B. Bowling, R. Lee, P. Snyder, H. Heston.

Los Castellanos

Los Castellanos was organized only last year. However, much progress has been made in the furthering of its purpose—to stimulate an interest in Spanish people, their customs and especially their language. Under the capable leadership of the faculty adviser, Miss Mildred Hollett, there has been much improvement in the club. The club includes second year Spanish students with grades of "C" and above who wish to increase their knowledge of Spain.

For the first semester, the officers were: President, Howard Heston; vice-president, Aurella Dan; secretary-treasurer, Julia Bodo. For the second semester they were: President, Ruth Auld; vice-president, Lená Nonno; secretary-treasurer, Catherine Blythe.

The meetings proved very interesting, the club partaking in Spanish games and songs. At several of the meetings, tea parties were held, the club enjoying the Spanish hierba mate.

At the end of the year the club had a very successful picnic at Mill Creek Park. A good time was had by all of the members.

The seniors, in parting, wish those remaining the greatest success and good wishes in the coming years and sincerely hope the club will grow even larger and more active.

Boosters Club

This is a new club in Salem High. This club was organized after the beginning of the school year, and toward the end of the football season. Miss Shoop should be given the credit for organizing this club. A great number of students immediately joined.

The purpose of the club is to promote school spirit, and to help the cheering at our athletic contests. Organized cheering is striven for. We really need this cheering. When our cheerleaders lead a cheer, it gives the team a great deal of spirit. The team members feel that their school is back of them and their fighting spirit is aroused.

Many enjoyable meetings of the Boosters club have been held this year. Some programs were given and they were greatly appreciated. At these meetings the club members also sang and gave the school yells. Much spirit could be aroused at one of these meetings.

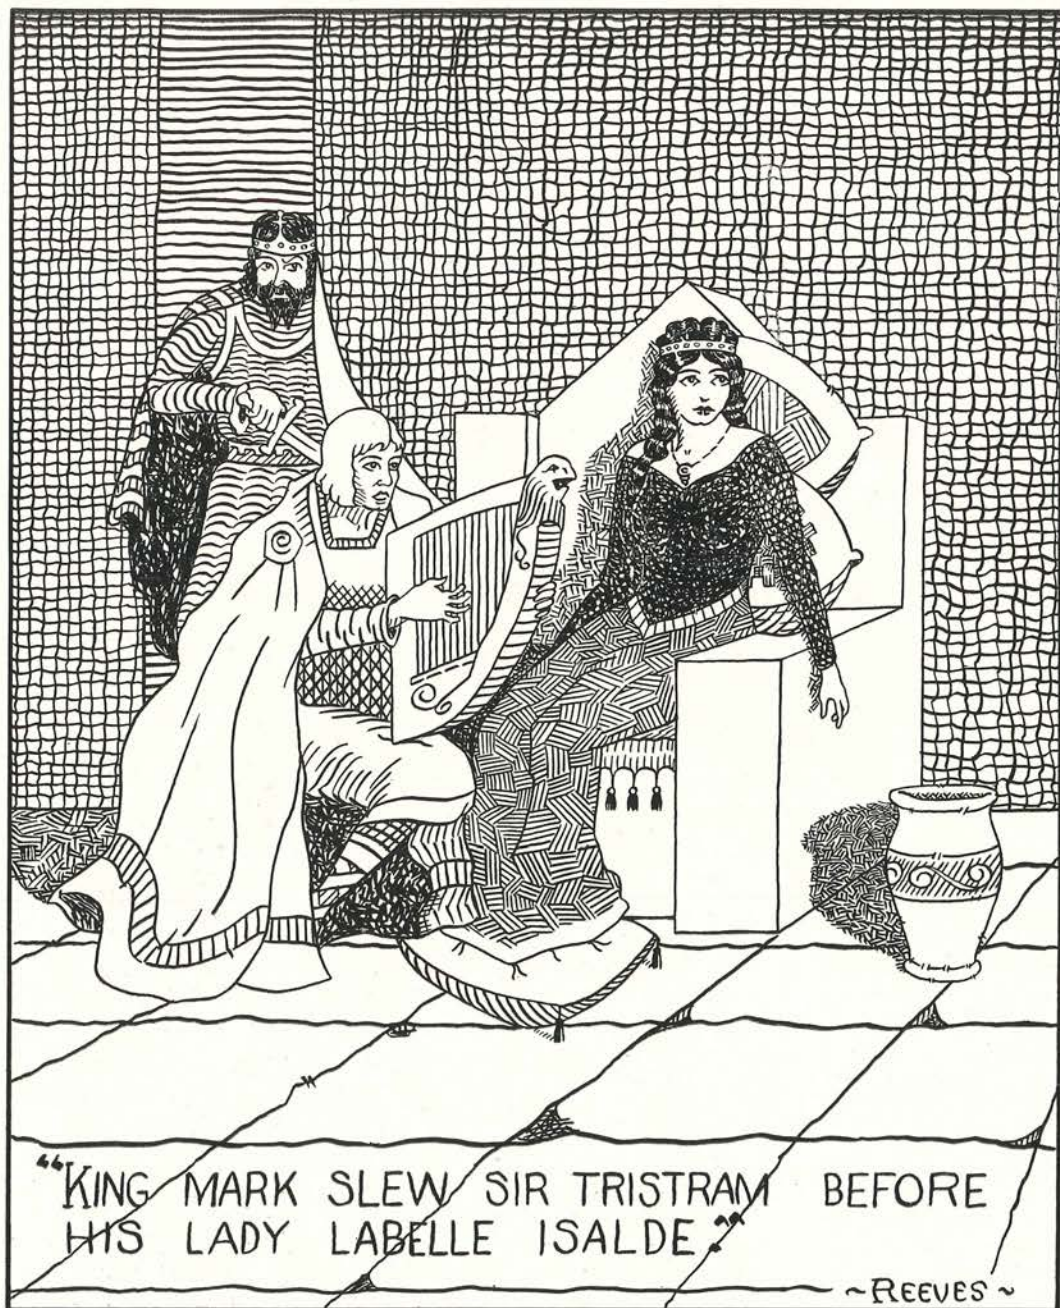

This club should become a permanent organization in our high school, and ought to have many members. We have long needed a club of this sort in our high school, for organized cheering helps very greatly because of the spirit it develops. It is hoped that in future years Boosters will become a lasting organization in our school.

Those olden days, those golden days
When knights were brave and strong,
With strength of will so deep instilled
That none could 'ere do wrong;
The happiness, the quietness
Of life which day by day
Flowed swiftly on, a paragon
Of knighthood when in sway;
The fiery steeds, the daring deeds,
The maidens fair and pure,
The love of life with all its strife,
Its beauty, and allure;
The customs old, the scorn for gold,
The love for fellow men,
The simple faith of every race,
And peace in every clan:

This was life in Arthur's time
When wrong was wrong, and right was right.
The world has changed too much since then;
Oh God! -----make me a knight!

Jokes

He: Harold says that all he wants is a chance to express himself.

K. Knepper: Fine! Where to?

Teacher: Use "cauterize" in a sentence.

H. Bailey: I knew she was mine the moment I caught her eyes.

K. Harris: Do you have animal crackers?

Grocer: No, but we have some nice dog biscuits.

Louie: Have any luck hunting lions in Africa?

Len: Yes, I didn't meet any.

Bill S.: At times my girl seems to be trying to be an angel.

Augie C.: You mean when she wants something from you?

Bill: No, when she drives my car.

Paul: What are you doing now?

Tom: I'm an exporter.

Paul: How's that?

Tom: The Pullman Co. just fired me.

Dorothy: I wasn't going forty, thirty, or even twenty miles an hour.

Judge: Here, steady now, or you'll be backing into something.

Officer: Don't you see the sign, "Fine for parking?"

T. Sheen: Yes, officer, I see it and heartily agree with it.

Elwood H.: What is your new brother's name?

Robert E. I don't know yet, we can't understand a word he says.

Bernice Smith: I'm going to enter my dog in the dog show next week.

Friend: Do you think he'll win?

Bernice: No, but he'll meet some nice dogs.

J. Fritzman: I see in London a man is run over every half hour.

G. Yarwood: Poor fellow.

J. Carpenter: Will you join me in a bowl of soup?

J. Ballantine: Do you think there will be room for both of us?

J. Hertz: What kind of chicken is this?

Waiter: Spring chicken, sir.

J. Hertz: I thought it was, I've been chewing on one of the springs for a half hour.

Tommy French: (visiting a shoemaker) What are the shoes made from?

Shoemaker: Hide.

T. F.: Why should I hide?

Shoemaker: Hide! Hide! The cow's outside.

T. French: Let the ol' cow come in; I'm not afraid.

Joe H.: I've just shot a dog.

Len K.: Was he mad?

Joe H.: Well, he wasn't very pleased.

She: You are the breath of my life.

He: Let's see you hold your breath.

Teacher: Give a sentence with the word 'bewitches'.

Ray Moff: I'll bewitches in a minute.

B. Moser: Did you educate that flea yourself?

Trainer: Yes, I've had him since he was a pup.

V. Orashan: What would you advise me to read after graduation?

B. Benzinger: The "Help Wanted" column.

Tom: Is your daughter, Dorothy, popular?

Father: Why, I can't park within three blocks of my house.

Small boy: Daddy, croak like a frog?

Father: Why do you ask?

Small boy: Mother said when you would croak, we would get $10,000.

Marcella: Hey!

Marjorie S.: Do you want it loose or bailed?

Mervin: Why, I thought you would get sent to the penitentiary for stealing those chickens.

Sambo: No, dot der lawyer I had, why I was in doubt whether ah really stole dose chickens.

L. Krauss: What would happen if you would break one of the ten Commandments?

G. Lodge: Well, there would only be nine left, I suppose.

J. Harrington: (paying bill at filling station) Well, I'm square again.

Agent: Well, I hope you'll be round again sometime.

Dorothy: Do you know any way to avoid tire trouble?

Tom: You might get a motor boat.

Sabel: No, daddy, I won't need any clothes this summer.

Father: Ye Gods! I thought it would come to that.

Little girl: Package of pink dye, please.

Merchant: For woolen or cotton goods?

Child: It's for ma's stomach. The doctor said she'd have to diet, and she wants a pretty color.

Hackett: What's worse than raining cats and dogs?

George: Hailing taxi-cabs.

Dan: He cleaned up a fortune on crooked dough.

Jim: What was he, a counterfeiter?

Dan: No, he was a pretzel maker.

Roberta: How are you coming along with your poultry farm?

R. Walton: I've been swindled,

I bought three different incubators and not one of them has laid an egg yet.

J. French: Girls want a lot nowadays.

D. Wilson: Can your girl keep a secret?

Paul H.: Her idea of a secret is only telling one person at a time.

Russ: Where are you running to?

Ralph: Stopping a fight.

Russ: Who are you stopping from fighting?

Ralph: Me and another fellow.

Judge: Guilty or not guilty?

K. Reed: What else have you got?

O. Hippley: He uses the touch system.

H. Silver: On the typewriter?

Oscar: No, on his friends.

J. Bodo: Did you read my poem in today's paper?

E. Slaby: Yes, and it alone was worth the two cents.

Salesman: Can I sell you a vacuum cleaner?

S. M.: No, we have no vacuum to clean.

Mr. Guiler: Dan, did your father write this speech?

Dan W.: No, he started it and mother had to do it all over again.

J. Reeves: I don't know whether to become a painter or a poet.

M. McArtor: Become a painter.

J. R.: Have you seen my pictures?

Marion: No, but I have read your poems.

Judge: Did you steal that rug?

C. Filler: No sir. A woman gave it to me and told me to beat it, and I did.

Sept. 8—We are getting assignments for the beginning of another long nine months. The school looks about the same a new face every here and there.

Sept. 20—Our first game of the season. Outplayed Canton for three quarters today but lost 26 to 9. The last four minutes proved disastrous, for McKinley scored three touchdowns. It leaves a bitter taste in my mouth just to talk about it.

Sept. 27—Now we are digging in. Salem 12, Akron West 0. The seniors can all get their watches out of lock. It looks like a promising season after all.

Oct. 3—The team seems to be getting nicely limbered up. We swamped Leetonia in our first night game to the tune of a mere 95 to 0. A splendid workout for the players but rather boring to the spectators.

Oct. 6—Were entertained in auditorium by Jean Gros' French Marionettes. A very clever and amusing performance was presented. Many curious students barged backstage to get a look at the apparatus after it was all over.

This Annual is Beckett-Covered to Endure

To preserve—and preserve in beauty—the memory of days that will grow more glamorous as the years pass, the staff of the 1931 Quaker annual has chosen Beckett covers.

For fifty years the craftsmanship and quality of Beckett covers has been held to the highest standard. This example of Beckett art will enable you to keep for generations your priceless record of student days.

Dec. 19—Beginning of vacation. How sweet it is to relax and dream of Santa. The freshmen are all a-twitter. Salem 25, Canton McKinley 36. Our first basketball game.

Dec. 20—Salem 17, Akron East 21. Two defeats but everyone else seems optimistic, so why not I?

Dec. 27—Salem 28, Massillon 22. The third time is the charmed one. Watch us now!

Jan. 2—We lost one to Alliance. Not a very nice way to start the new year.

Jan. 3—Salem 23, Liverpool 22. A close game. Almost had heart failure before the gun finally went off.

The Passing of the Old Tin Tub

has meant more to modern civilization than any other single thing. Modern tubs and sinks mean health, cleanliness, comfort and luxury.

Jan. 8—A glimpse of the old master, William Shakespeare. The Shakespearean Players presented "Julius Caesar" in the afternoon and "Macbeth" in the evening. Something unusual.

Jan. 9—Salem 34, Niles 11. The reserves won their fifth victory of the season. No defeats for them yet.

Jan. 10—Marched down to Lisbon. Won a game and marched home again. Girls lost to the Lisbon lassies.

Jan. 16—An interesting assembly with Floyd Bralliar as chief attraction. Drubbed Youngstown East 36 to 21.

Jan. 17—Walloped New Philly by the same score. We are hitting our stride now!

Jan. 21-22-23 — Semester exams! The nemesis of all seniors, the fear of all freshmen. Another victory over Liverpool.

Jan. 24—Salem 48, Dover 24. Our seventh straight victory.

Jan. 30—I'm dazed. The boys and girls both lost to Palestine. How did that ever happen?

Jan. 31—Our boys win over Ravenna. The girls ooze a close victory over Columbiana. The big Hi-Y dance was held at the Elks.

Feb. 4—An interesting concert presented by our own high school band. Give them credit—they deserve it.

Feb. 20—We lost a heart-breaking game to Alliance. The reserves suffer their first defeat of the season at the hands of Alliance reserves.

Feb. 21—Wellsville drubbed us good. We seem to be in a prolonged slump.

Feb. 23—Birthday of George Washington, bless his heart! No school.

Feb. 26—So ends the regular basketball schedule. Salem 30, Struthers 23.

March 6-7—Warren tournament. We defeat Lisbon, Palestine and Hubbard, but lose to Warren in district playoff. The team looks like the end of hard times. On to Akron!

March 13—Lorain snatched a victory from us in the last minute of play. That's all for basketball.

March 26-27—"The Patsy" is presented by the juniors. Directed by Miss Lampher, it is another notable performance. Spring vacation begins.

April 9—Sophomore-freshman party. A social success for the underclassmen.

May 26—The biggest event of the year—the junior-senior prom. The year is almost ended.

May 27-28—Senior examinations. For the last time we cram knowledge in one night of study.

Calendar Concluded

May 29—Final exams start for everyone.
May 31—Senior class sermon. Commencement is drawing nigh.
June 2—Senior class farewell. A sad occasion under a mask of cheerfulness!
June 3—Recognition assembly. Letters, awards, and whatnot.

June 3—That solemn affair has been completed—commencement.
June 5—The alumni banquet marked the closing of high school activities for the class of "31." We are out in the cruel, cruel world, to sink or swim.

Jokes

Traffic officer: Where did you get that speed stuff?

He: Oi, Oi, Mr. Policeman, me and little Ikey vas going to the baseball games.

T. O.: You were, eh—at 40 miles an hour? I guess I'll hand you a ticket.

He: Oh—thank you, Mr. Policeman. Can you giff me von for little Ikey, too?

Heloise: It took Jack twenty-five lessons to teach me to swim.

Marjorie: The cad! He taught me in six.

R. Eddy: I gave that man fifty cents for saving me life.

Steve M.: What did he do?

R. Eddy: Gave me back twenty cents change.

Worker: What is your name my good man?

Convict: 999.

Worker: But that's not your real name.

Convict: No, that's only me pen name.

Teacher: Give me a sentence using the word avaunt.

R. Alexander: Avaunt what avaunt when avaunt it.

C. Hoperick: Do you play golf?

R. Everstine: I don't even know which end of the caddie to hold.

Lady: Are your eggs fresh?

R. Kuhlen: Man, the hen doesn't realize I got them yet.

Louie B.: How is it I never see you in church anymore?

Marjorie: Maybe it's because I'm not there.

B. Sartick: They made me draft clerk at the bank today.

B. Miller: What do you do? Open and shut the doors?

A. Jones: Do you really think sardines are healthy?

O. Hippley: I've never heard one complain.

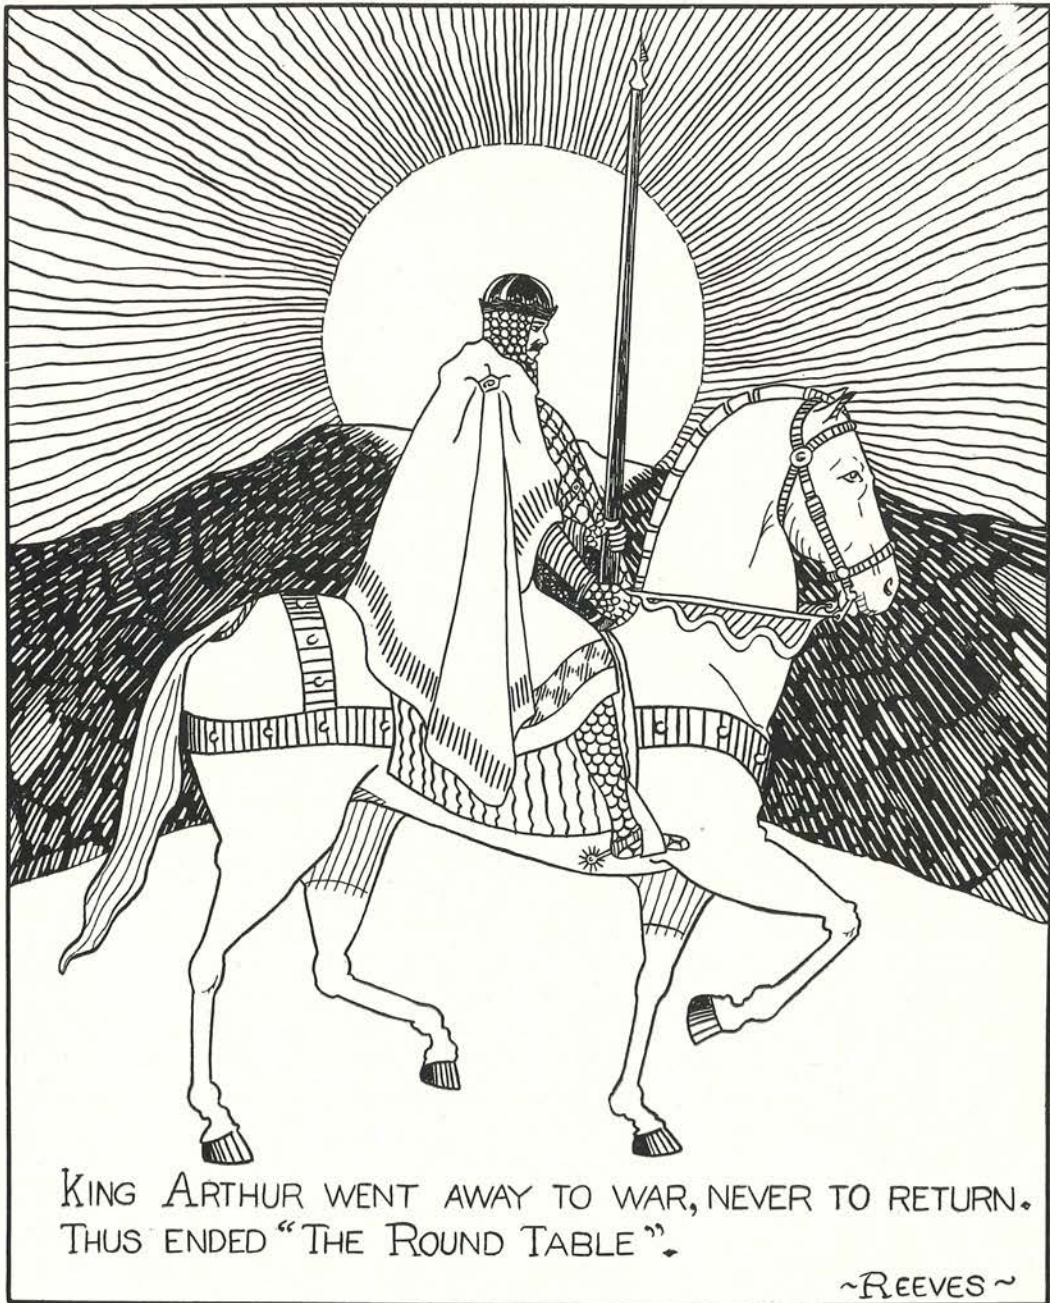

Mr. Williams: What can you tell me of nitrates?

B. L. Kenneweg: All I know is that it's a lot cheaper than day rates.
