The Quaker 1939
This is the 1939 Quaker Annual. This is the book that records the memories of high school days. Herein is pictured the work and the play of an entire school year.

Out of camera lens come the personalities and activities that make a book bubble with spirit. The lens portrays all types and phases of student activity and even some non-activity.

From the dreams of the staff to the printing and binding, this year's book has been carefully planned and put together. Some of the ideas in it are original, others are not. This book has been a co-operative project. The editor could not have put it out without the aid of the writers. The layout editor's work would have been in vain if the photography editor had not done his part. The engraver could have done nothing if the photographer had not provided the necessary pictures. And in a like manner the printer could have done nothing without the engraver.

The Quaker could not have been published without the work of the business manager and his staff. It is the hard-working members of the business staff, who by their selling, finance the year book.

Although this book is not perfect, we feel that we have done our best. Therefore, we take great pride in presenting the 1939 Quaker Annual.
When a dedicatee is chosen for a book, particularly a yearbook, a great many things must be taken into consideration. A few of the qualifications are listed here:

If he is a teacher, he must have a number of years of service, five or more. But service is not the most important qualification. He must be able to cover his subject well; not covering merely the text, but all related subjects. He must take part in other school activities. He must have done something that has carried the name of the school to other places in the state.

Even more important than the preceding standards, he must be a pal and helper to his students.

Because we believe that Mr. Lehman fulfills all these requirements, we are dedicating the 1939 Quaker Annual to him.
The contents of the 1939 Quaker have been carefully planned by the staff. There is a definite reason for the position of every picture and every word.

The first seven pages introduce the book. Here atmosphere is built up for the following pages. Here it is, that the theme of the book is presented.

The section headed “Classes”, beginning on page eight, is more than the picture of every student. It also contains informal snaps of the underclassmen as well as those of juniors and seniors.

Organizations and student life begin at page thirty-four and continue to sixty. From pages sixty to seventy are athletics. Administration begins on page seventy and extends to the advertisers on seventy-nine.
CLASSES
Upon entering the last year in high school the class of 1939 re-elected the same officers that have served its class for four years. They are John Evans, president; William Rogers, vice-president; and Mary Louise Emery, secretary-treasurer.

In November, the class enjoyed an informal upperclass party with the juniors.

The senior class play, "The Crosscup Kiss", a three-act comedy, was presented in December and met with great success.

Three seniors tied for first honor graduates this year. They are: Winthrop Difford, John Evans, and William Rogers.

As a farewell gift the seniors presented a flagpole to be placed on the building.

Then June hurried along, and the three greatest events in the life of every senior came and went with it—the prom, baccalaureate and commencement.

The prom with its softly dimmed lights and sweet music will always linger in the thoughts of every senior.

The presentation of diplomas at commencement brought regrets to many members of the graduating class— it meant that twelve years of study, good times and classmate relationships were over.
It was not an uncommon sight to see some of the senior lads chugging to and from school in an ancient "jalopy".

Not only the dramatists spent long hours of hard work on the senior play, but also the faculty, and the members of the class who sold tickets or served on committees.

There were two sides to every senior party — work and then pleasure. The committee members worked hard to make each party a success.

Twelve years of intensive study are over, and the seniors will now leave their books and typewriters to attend college or to seek a position.

will be remembered.
"Once upon a time, around 1922, there were two hundred and thirty-six children born in the town of Salem, Ohio." Thus begins the saga of the Class of 1940, who have just completed their third year of high school life with a record of superior performance in various fields.

The remarkable versatility of the class members is shown in the wide variety of honors which they have achieved. Athletics, dramatics, journalism, library work, cheer leading—their interests are varied and their history as a class shows it.

The banner of the juniors was carried in the field of athletics by a large crew of boys who participated in football, basketball, or track. The following boys possess varsity letters which entitled each of them to a coveted membership in the Varsity 'S' club: Dick Beck, Bob Clark, Les Knepp, Mike Nicora and Leonard Piersol.

Business ability is quite evident as a characteristic of this distinguished class. Ever since their organization in their freshman year, the class treasury has been a special pride. The executive duties were carried out by Bob Clark, president; Allen Fehr, vice-president; and Peggy Stewart, secretary-treasurer.
The activities of a junior are many-fold. Even though they are entering more into social life and outside activities, juniors must find time for their studies.

When a student has arrived at the important status of a member of the junior class, he is at a point where many friendships are cultivated. Between bells and at noon, numerous groups meet to exchange ideas in front of the school.

A junior also makes his first great dramatic effort in the junior class play. This is only part of the well-rounded life of a junior.
Among other pleasant memories of the year, thoughts of a highly successful social event will linger in the minds of the juniors and seniors, who frolicked in fine fashion at the Upperclass Party of November twenty-fifth.

In former years the two separate classes had held their class parties alone, but this time they decided to get together and share the festivities.

A memorable floor show was presented, which included a skit featuring Jimmy Schaeffer and Eugene Neale, comedians of note.
The status of a junior is what all the members of the class of '40 have impatiently awaited for twelve long years of school. When they were in seventh grade, long pants seemed the very height of existence. In Junior High, when they had accustomed themselves to the privilege, their supreme goal became high school, although the prospect of being a freshman limited their eagerness.

Life has been just one such thrill after another, but now these lucky students feel sure they have reached the ideal state, that of a junior.

What is the satisfaction in being a junior? Well, the class play, class rings, and the prom are some of the highlights, not to mention the definite thrill in being able to call oneself an upperclassman, at last.
The first duty of the sophomore class was to choose their class officers. They elected George Baillie, Bill Fineran, and Mary Alice Leipper as their president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer respectively. George Baillie who was president of his class when he was a freshman, enjoyed a second term in that office. Bill Fineran served his first term in the capacity of vice-president, while Mary Alice Leipper handled the funds of her class for the second time.
As they entered into their second year of high school last fall, the sophomores began by electing their officers. The sophomores were permitted to enter a new field of science in biology. They entered into the field of sport—both the major sports and the intramural sports. With memories of their first year and with thoughts turned toward becoming upperclassmen, the sophomores got down to some hard work on lessons. Under Mrs. Cox, the new class adviser, they sold red and black arm bands with the word "SALEM" on them. This netted them close to ten dollars. Their next feat was a more social one; for on the night of May 5 they held a party with the freshmen. This was the second such party in as many years. The year was successful for the class of '41, as they were permitted to enter into the Camera Club, Latin Club, Stamp Club, Orchestra, and Band. Their final efforts as sophomores was decorating for the annual Alumni banquet. Then the curtain was closed forever on their sophomore year.
The members of the class of '42 had their first experience in the election of class officers, when early in school term, they chose the following students to lead their class: Dorothy Lutsch was elected president by a large majority. Thus the honor fell to her to become the first girl president in Salem High School. Vernon Weingart was chosen vice-president and William Dunlap was picked to be secretary-treasurer, and entrusted with the funds of his class.
The Freshmen got their first taste of Senior High School when they entered from Junior High in the fall of 1938. The class was quite large. They became the first class to elect a girl for their president. The class, under the supervision of Miss McCready, began the year by selling pencils with the football schedule on them, and later sold pencils with the basketball schedule on them. The class made about thirty-five dollars from these sales. Many freshman boys participated in football and basketball, and most of them entered in the intramural sports. The girls received their sports through the G. A. A. Shortly after spring vacation, on April 18, the class held a Freshman get-together in the gym after school. This was a get-acquainted affair prior to the Frosh-Soph party. The freshmen were permitted to enter into the social part of High School by being allowed to enter certain activities. The activities were Camera Club, Latin Club, G. A. A., Band, and Orchestra. They closed the year with the Freshman-Sophomore party, May 5.
Salem High! Those two words spell out a magic phrase to us students. They spell out home for us nine months out of the year. It is here we study, laugh, play, and meet all our friends.

During the course of the year, many of us wish the school year were over and vacation days were here, but after three months of idleness, we are always ready to come back to the “daily grind.” We think we like to be away from school, but in reality the absence of contacts and even the work is sorely missed when the summer rolls around.

Salem High presents a wide variety of extra-curricular activities which interest many throughout the year. Not only clubs, but athletics is the object of intense interest.

Our intramural athletic program is one of the most extensive carried on by any school in the state. From the standpoint of popularity it is basketball which the boys choose as their favorite. Each evening during the season the shrill of the whistle is heard from the gym. In all, during the '38-'39 year some 72 teams were engaged in league play.

Also, on the intramural program are baseball and touch football. All these meet with a large degree of success. All intramural sports are directed by Mr. Lewis Smith, Dean of Boys.

S. H. S. also boasts of a large number of clubs, which successfully cover all fields of student interest.

For other diversion, a school swing band plays for “penny” dances held in the gym after school hours, dances which are always attended by several hundred “jitter-bugs.”

All in all, Salem High School isn’t such a bad place.
The other side of life at Salem High is not slighted in the least. Students have excellent opportunities to hear all kinds of interesting assemblies. Included on the speakers' list were an archer, a forest ranger, an astronomer, a traveler in Mexico and many other personages.

The student body are not all little angels. During the noon hour much "horse play" such as demonstrated by these two freshmen goes on.

Every student has his chance at some sort of sport. These boys are members of the Hi-Y basketball team who won the district Hi-Y championship.
The members of the Quaker Editorial Staff spent a busy and profitable year publishing thirty-two issues of the Quaker weekly.

The highlight of the year was the Journalism Convention in Columbus which several staff members attended. Round table discussions, interesting lectures, a banquet, dance and football game were all enjoyed by the students.

Salem High became a member of the Tri-County Journalism Advisers Association and entertained the group in May. This association was organized this year for the purpose of exchanging ideas and talking over various journalistic problems.

John Evans, the editor, was a capable leader and was well liked by his staff.

A special Quaker Annual Staff was chosen. LeRoy Moss was made photography editor; Winthrop Difford, layout editor; Allen Fehr, copy editor. Kenneth Juhn did the art work.
Under the able leadership of Larry Faini, business manager, the twelve members of the Quaker Business Staff have worked faithfully to make the Quaker weekly and annual successful.

The staff members visit local merchants and manufacturers at regular intervals to solicit ads.

Several members of the business staff also journeyed to Columbus and enjoyed the same activities as those of the editorial staff.

Although no member of the business staff does any actual writing for the school publication, they are just as important to the paper.

In order to be an asset to the business staff, the student must have a keen business mind, the will to work, and a pleasing personality.

Starting the year with a great many inexperienced members, Mr. Hilgendorf, the business staff adviser, and Larry Faini, have molded them into a well-oiled machine which would be a credit to any school paper.
During the '38-'39 school year, the Hi-Tri was under the faculty adviser, Miss Harroff, Latin teacher. As in the eleven previous years of its organization, the club had a very successful and well-filled social calendar.

Among the guest speakers of the club were Mrs. Guy Byers and Mrs. Roy Smucker. Mrs. Byers gave an interesting and humorous book review. Mrs. Smucker lectured on her travels and showed movies taken in Asia and other foreign countries.

Numerous Penny Dances were sponsored by the Hi Tri, and these were well attended by the student body.

As is customary, the Hi Tri members gave the Christmas assembly and participated in many other activities during the school year under the leadership of Barbara Williams, president; Betty Sharp, vice-president; Jane Gilbert, secretary; and Alice Zatko, treasurer.

The juniors, who are in the majority, are very capable of carrying on the work and activities of the Hi Tri.
"A sport for every girl and every girl in a sport," is the motto by which the G. A. A. girls go.

This year the G. A. A. girls had a full year of sports and enjoyed a number of activities. The club chose for leaders Alice Zatko, president; Helen Adams, vice-president; Helen Lowry, treasurer, and Ellen Catlos, secretary.

A number of tournaments were held. Wagner’s sophomore team won the basketball tournament; the junior team, the volleyball; and the senior team, the kickball.

Forty new members were taken into the club at a party in the gym in February, making a total of nearly one hundred. In order to make money, members of the G. A. A. sold magic slates. For the first time since its organization, the club sponsored a Posture Contest; a member from each class winning.

At the end of the school year, the G. A. A. girls held a picnic at Dunn Eden.
Under the direction of Mrs. Satterthwaite, the Boys' Glee Club has grown so much that it is considered a tradition in S. H. S.

During the year, the boys sang for the Traveler's Club and for the Music Week Concert, May 9. They also participated in commencement exercises.

The club meets every Wednesday at 3:30.

The boys not only sing excerpts from operettas, but modern music as well. Among the numbers that they sing are "Pinafore" by Sulliva, "Story of a Torch" and "Bomboy" by O'Keefe.

The glee club loses three of its members with graduation this spring: Winthrop Difford, Frank Stone and George Reader.
Musical notes filled the air every Tuesday after school. This is when the group pictured, the Girls' Glee Club, held its meetings. This is where budding prima donnas blossom.

Organized just two years ago under the direction of Mrs. Ellis Satterthwaite, the club has presented several numbers at baccalaureate and commencement during these two years.

Several of the members entered the District Solo and Ensemble Contest at Muskingum in March. These members were given ratings of which they should be proud.

It was through Mrs. Satterthwaite's unceasing and untiring efforts that the club has met with its share of success.

Accompanists for the club were Geraldine Fickes and Margaret Carr.
Salem High is proud of its fifty-eight piece band, directed by Mr. Brautigam. The band elected officers early in the year. They were: president, Earl Taflin; vice-president, Henry Pauline; secretary-treasurer, Vivian Foltz; and librarian, Ada Shriver.

Three drum majors, Evelyn Tilley, Don Freed and Bill Fineran, led the band, which is composed of eleven B-flat clarinets, sixteen trumpets, eight saxophones, two basses, seven trombones, four drums and many other instruments, including an oboe, an alto clarinet and piccolo.

Besides giving the Band Concert, the band participated in many other events. On April 28 it entered the District Band Contest, and its members obtained eleven superior ratings. It also marched in the Fall Festival, participated in the Memorial Day services, and sponsored the sixth Annual Band Dance.

For the first time in its history, the band played popular pieces at the football games.

Quite a few of the band members graduate this year, and although they will be missed, there are freshmen that will replenish its rank in the fall.
Another year has passed and the High School orchestra has made great progress under the direction of Mrs. Satterthwaite. They have worked all this year to perfect certain standard classical numbers.

Besides playing for the Junior and Senior plays, the orchestra served as a nucleus for the Orchestra Concert, May 9, during National Music Week.

The orchestra also played for Baccalaureate and Commencement services.

As usual, the orchestra practices the fourth period Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and a fourth of a credit is given for this course.

The orchestra has a variety of instruments, including violins, a cello, a string bass, clarinets, and a set of bells.

The orchestra is one of the outstanding organizations, not only in the school, but in the city of Salem. It gets better every year due to the untiring efforts of its director.
Slide Rule Club, the only mathematics club in Salem High, has the reputation of being one of the few clubs in high school where the students get knowledge which is not available in ordinary classroom work.

Students in junior and senior mathematics classes are eligible for membership. Miss Martha McCready, mathematics teacher, is the supervisor of this club.

To handle the business of the organization, members chose as their officers: James Schaeffer, president; Ada Shriver, vice-president; Thomas Houlette, secretary-treasurer.

Meetings were held once a week. Three of the meetings a month were devoted to the study of the slide rule, and the other was a social gathering.

The social activities included a Christmas party at the home of Eleanor Eberwein. Games were played and prizes were given to the winners.

A party was also held at the end of the year, which was in the manner of a farewell party.
Resolved: “That the United States Should Establish an Alliance with Great Britain.”

It was with this statement in mind that the Salem High Debate Team argued negatively and affirmatively throughout a successful season. This year’s varsity squad was composed of the following: first affirmative, Louis Raymond; second affirmative, Harvey Rickert; first negative, William Rogers, and second negative, Constance Clarke. Constance also spoke second affirmative as well as second negative on several occasions.

Alternates were Anna Ruth Vincent, Ethel Hill and Vernon Weingart. These three persons spoke only in practice debates.

The team won twice over Alliance, the second victory making them district champions. They also won over Leetonia.

Being less successful during the latter part of the season, they lost to East Palestine and in the elimination debate to Struthers.

The Hi-Y club of forty-five members enjoyed a very successful year during which it sponsored many interesting events.

A new constitution was adopted and the members joined the national Hi-Y organization. Red and grey sweaters were purchased and official emblems obtained to place on them.

Under the supervision of president, Bud Dean; vice-president, Harold Fitzsimmons; secretary-treasurer, Earl Taflan; and faculty adviser, Herbert Jones, the club met on Thursday evenings in room 303.

The Hi-Y basketball team completed an excellent season by capturing the Northeastern Ohio district Hi-Y basketball championship. The club was host to the tournament. Teams participating in the tourney were Hi-Y quintets from East Liverpool, Sebring, and Lisbon. Another highlight of the team's season was a victory over the Quaker Reserves.

The club's purpose is to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character"; its motto is: "clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship and clean living."

With the promise of a new library in which to work to spur them on, the nine Salem High Librarians completed an unusually busy year.

The library had to be used as a combination study and work-room and was badly overcrowded.

During many of the periods the chairs were filled to overflowing. The shelves were jammed with books while the magazines and supplies had to be put wherever there was room. Adding to this confusion, new lights were being tried out and there were boxes stacked in one corner.

However, the librarians stuck to their posts and created an air of calm and quiet. Next year the library scene will be different, and Miss Lehman and the librarians will be working under easier circumstances.
Dramatists, stage managers, and make-up artists all have their names on the roll call of the Salemasquers Club. At the beginning of the school term the following officers took their respective offices: Mary Jane Britt, president; Nick Chitiea, vice-president; Gwen Dean, secretary; and Dorothy Milligan, treasurer.

The club entered a one-act comedy, "Babbit's Boy," in the District Play Contest at Kent. The members of the cast were Harold Fitzsimmons, Mary Jane Lora, Lucia Sharp, Ruth West, Richard Capel and Marjorie Layden. Valois Finley and Eugene Neale were stage managers. Later in the year the organization presented two plays, "His First Date" and "Happy Journey to Camden and Trenton" to the student body in assemblies.

The following Salemasquers became members of the National Thespians, an honorary dramatics society: Lucia Sharp, Mary Jane Britt, Marjorie Layden, John Evans, Richard Capel, Mary Jane Lora, Robert Vickers, Eugene Neale, David Rohan, Mary Fisher, Valois Finley, Alyse MacDonald, Ruth West, Gwen Dean and Jane Tinsley.
“Buskins” is the name that the players of the junior dramatics club and its adviser, Mr. McDonald, have chosen for that organization. Previous to this year, the only dramatics club in the high school was the Sa­lemasquers. This year, however, a dramatics club was organized for underclassmen. Members of the Buskins are all enthusiastic about their club and work.

For its first year the club chose Martha Clarke, president; Regina Hilditch, vice-president; Rita Emery, secretary; Patsy Bolen, treasurer; Louis Raymond, sargeant-at-arms.

To study drama and further dramatic interest among the students is the purpose of this club. During the course of the year, many social meetings were enjoyed, plays were given in which members alone participated, and club pins were chosen.

Through work on various plays, including stage craft, Buskin members can become eligible for the older dramatic club, the Sa­lemasquers.

It is hoped that interest in this newly organized club will continue in future years.
Beginning its fourth year as one of Salem High's clubs, the Stamp Club elected these officers: Ted Ursu, president; Lee Willman, vice-president, and Margaret Ann Jones was given the post of secretary-treasurer.

The club is sponsored by Mr. Sander with Mr. Williams as an adviser.

A comparatively new type of meeting was practiced by the Stamp Club. The members, meeting every Monday noon, carried on what they call a luncheon club meeting. It is just what the name implies. Each member brought his lunch and after his hunger was appeased the meeting would come to order.

Members of the club held several contests during the year with prizes going to the winners. These contests proved interesting to the majority of students as well as those in the club.

Various means of entertainment were provided through the medium of philately. Guest speakers gave informal talks to the members throughout the course of the year.
1938-'39 was the second and the most successful year for the Camera Club of Salem High. The club was organized in the Spring of 1938, but because of limited time did not realize its intentions. During the club's first meeting last fall, the members elected the following officers: LeRoy Moss, president; Tom Eberwein, vice-president and acting secretary-treasurer.

The first part of the year the club studied a book entitled "Photography for Fun" by William Strong. The next project taken up by the club was the processing of exposed film. The members used the Quaker office for a dark room and developed and printed their own film. This project, however, was limited because of lack of proper equipment. Another activity of the club was the monthly contests which were well supported. These contests were held on Jan. 11, March 15, and April 4. The prizes were free rolls of film and a dollar's worth of merchandise from J. H. Lease Drug Co. Mr. C. W. Kaminsky and Tom Eberwein gave interesting talks during the year.
Under the leadership of President Bill Schaeffer; Vice-President-Secretary Bud Dean, Treasurer Joe Morris, and faculty adviser Herbert Brown, basketball coach, the club had the most successful season since it reorganization in 1937. Almost all new members purchased the official club jacket.

In the spring, the club presented its second annual benefit dance in the High School gym. The gym was very gayly decorated in the club's colors, red and black, and a large crowd attended. All money made on the dance was placed in a fund from which a scoreboard for Reilly stadium will be bought when it reaches sufficient proportions.

The club sponsored a bonfire pep-rally next to Reilly stadium prior to the Lisbon-Salem football game at which time "Pie" Baillie, ex-high school football star, was the speaker.

The club consists of boys who have earned varsity letters in either football, basketball, track or cross-country.
The aims of the Outdoor Sportsman's club are to establish conservation, acquaint the members with sportsmanship, support fish and game laws as well as to learn the proper use of firearms. This year's club was very active, participating in many worthwhile activities, including a camping trip to the mountains of Pennsylvania. They also built a rifle range on the Depot Road for the use of the club members.

Reorganizing at the half year, the following officers were chosen: President, Bob Enders; vice-president, Ruben Coy; secretary, Kenneth O'Connell; treasurer, Joe Vender. During the year the club and its adviser, Mr. Engelhart, went on many hunting and fishing trips to different parts of the county. The club also started a library of books dealing with the outdoors, wildlife and conservation.

The thirteen club members purchased club emblems which showed a deer as the centerpiece with a gun and fishing rod in the background. The club observed National Wildlife week with a special program. Mr. Boring, county game protector, gave to the club a talk on the preservation of wild life.
Under the supervision of Miss Harroff, Latin teacher, the Soladitas Latina Club has gone through another successful season.

The enrollment of the club is fifty members, all of whom are freshmen and sophomores. Only those students with A and B averages in Latin were eligible for membership. One of the meetings was devoted to initiation. Each new member had to come dressed as a Roman boy or girl.

At one of the earliest meetings, members elected officers to help them throughout the year. Mary Alice Leipper was elected president; Lucia Sharp, secretary; Martha Clark, treasurer.

The main accomplishment of the club was the printing of a Latin newspaper, which was named Vox Latina. The articles in this paper were written in Latin and compiled by members of the club. Vivian Poltz was chosen editor of the paper and Rita Emery, assistant editor. The paper was distributed to Latin students and to the teachers.

Entertainment for each meeting was planned by the social committee, the chairman of which was Rita Emery.

A new and enthusiastic interest has been taken in the club this year, and a record membership has been reached.

As in previous years, Los Castellanos, Salem High's Spanish Club, had a very successful year under the faculty adviser, Miss Mildred Hollett, Spanish teacher.

During the course of the year the club held Spanish tea parties, made colorful song books; and various members participated in a one-act Spanish play. Moving pictures of South America and other Spanish-speaking countries were shown at the social meetings.

Mr. J. Fred Rippey, noted speaker and an ardent Spanish enthusiast, gave a very interesting talk to members of the club. Other speakers were also guests of this group.

Club officers were elected during the first semester and held office for the entire year. Last year there was an election during the first and second semesters.

The officers elected were as follows: Nick Chitia, president; Dick Jaeger, vice-president; Aileen Himmelspach, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Fisher, sergeant-at-arms.
On December 8 and 9 the Senior Class presented “The Crosscup Kiss”, a three-act comedy by Carl Webster Pierce, under the direction of Mr. James McDonald and student director, Mary Jane Britt.

The stage was set to represent two different offices, those of Seman and Robert Crosscup. The story of the play centers around Robert Crosscup, who is fresh home from college and takes over the management of his father’s little candy business in competition with Everett Randall’s big company. Randall starts an advertising campaign he hopes will submerge Robert, leading off with a radio hour of well-known entertainers.

Seman then purchases program time and features three vocalists, Lolly, Lee and Margie. So that the audience could see as well as hear this fifteen-minute broadcast, the girls sang from the auditorium balcony where a microphone was placed.

All in all, the play with its clever plot and unusual setting was a huge success.
Bringing to the Salem High School stage an entirely new and unique mystery farce, the Junior Class presented "Murder In Rehearsal," written by Austin Goetz and very capably directed by James M. McDonald, assisted by Ada Shriver, student director.

The uniqueness of the play was shown in that no scenery was used, as well as in the way the plot was handled.

The entire three acts take place in a theater where a mystery play is in rehearsal. The director is mysteriously shot, and in trying to find the murderer the sheriff suspects everyone that is in the theater and finally ends up with the tables of suspicion turned, and everyone suspects him.

The breath-taking ending reveals that the director is not really dead, but merely acting in an attempt to improve his production.

The characters were as follows:

ATHLETICS

Salem High's football eleven had a very successful season this year, winning six and losing three, for one of their best season's in recent years.

Dean cracked over right tackle for seven yards to score the first touchdown of the year, as the Quakers downed Sebring 39-0 in the opener. Wise followed Dean with an eighty-yard run for the second score.

Inspired by their victory over Sebring the boys downed Ravenna 25-0 the next week. The following week they went down in defeat at the hands of East Liverpool, before the largest crowd to jam its way into Reilly Stadium in recent years.

The local lads went down in defeat again at Struthers, 25-12, when Anderson of Struthers romped for touchdowns on four long runs. However, the boys came back and downed Wellsville 14-7 and Lisbon 12-0 on the next two Fridays.

Two of the Quakers' greatest victories came on the next two Saturdays, when they took the measure of two mighty elevens, Dover falling 6-0 and Barberton, 7-0. The boys found their old rival, Alliance, a little too tough, however, in their Turkey Day tilt and fell before the Aviator onslaught on a snow-covered field, 13-0.

One of the outstanding features of this year’s team was its fine deception on offense. Schroeder believes the faking in this year’s backfield was the finest he had had since he has been at Salem. Dean, who handled the ball on all fakes, and Marvin Wukotich and Stu Wise, were the boys who made this offensive threat so valuable.

The Quakers were hard hit with injuries this season, but had capable reserves to fill in until the varsity boys were back in the lineup. Guappone played with a ‘broken hand. Rogers’ broken blood vessel in the leg was probably the worst injury received all year, for the boys went to Dover and downed a mighty eleven in order to bring back the ball and victory for their crippled teammate. This is just one of the examples of the fine team spirit this year.
With but four varsity lettermen back this year, Coach Herb Brown was confronted with what looked to be a disastrous season. However, the team had an average season, but certainly not a poor one.

The lettermen, Bill Schaeffer, Jim Dickey, Amos Dunlap and Glen McLaughlin saw considerable action during the '37-'38 season and were called upon to hold up the Salem name this year. Other members of the team were Burton Sutter, Galen Duncan, Mike Oana, Mike Thomas, Jim Kleon and Bob Shoe.

The Quakers finished the year with nine victories and eight setbacks. They suffered from what is known as an "off-and-on" year. After showing very poor form in losing to a rather inferior Youngstown East quintet, the boys went to Massillon to defeat the Tigers in a thrilling over-time contest. The game, played on a strange floor was the best the Salem lads played all year.

Outstanding performers, as far as scoring was concerned, were Amos Dunlap and Bill Schaeffer. Amos scored 100 points to lead the team, while Bill collected 90 to finish in the runner-up spot.
The Quakers began the season December 15 at Lisbon in a new gym. They came away victorious with a 28 to 24 count. Next came the first home game with Ravenna. Salem won 24 to 20. The first defeat of the year was suffered at the hands of the Alumni. The score was 29 to 21.

The Red and Black lads continued their losing ways the following week when they dropped a game to Dover by a score of 28 to 23.

They broke back into the “win” column again with a 28 to 22 victory over Alliance. Sweet revenge for a football defeat! Salem played a bang-up game against the Aviators.

Next, Youngstown Rayen fell before the Quakers’ onslaught in a very rough game. The score was 25 to 22.

Then came an easy 42 to 31 win over East Palestine, but on the next night they dropped a poorly-played game to Youngstown East by a score of 28 to 22.

Warren then proceeded to take the measure of Salem’s team by beating them 28 to 24. Then the Brownmen put on their top scoring feat of the year by piling up 43 points to Youngstown Chaney’s 17.

Next came the big Massillon upset, Salem coming through 27 to 24 in an overtime. Sutter made a long shot to “ice” the game.

Liverpool walloped Salem 27 to 20 as did Akron West by a 19 to 17 score. Salem beat Wellsville 34 to 22 as they did Boardman 36 to 20. Then came a crushing defeat at the hands of Struthers, for the last game of the year.

For the first game of the sectional tournament, Salem drew Youngstown Woodrow Wilson and lost the game 27 to 25 to end the year’s play.
RESERVE BASKETBALL

The Salem High reserves had a very successful season this year winning sixteen and losing but three. Their three losses being to East Liverpool, Rayen, and Salem Hi-Y. Probably the outstanding players were Robert Shoe, Mike Thomas, Jim Kleon, and Jim Armeni. Because of the graduation of five varsity men, most of this year's reserves will be advanced next year to the varsity. This year's secondaries will be very important to Brown in building his 1939 team. Mike Thomas was the leading scorer for his team, hooping in a total of 144 points. This year's team was one of the finest reserve quintets that has appeared on the local floor in recent years. The success of the team was attributed to the fine cooperative spirit that existed among the boys. There was very little individual play and good team work. It takes five players to make a team, not one star and four boys to fill up suits. The team was composed of eight freshmen, McGaffick, Martinelli, Volio, Cozad, Tinsley, Ritchie, Buckman, and Miller; four sophomores, Umberger, Armeni, and Thomas; two juniors, Kleon and Shoe. Most of the team are underclassmen; therefore, the experience gained this year should result in good varsity teams during the next few years. The following is the season's record:

Salem 14—Fairfield Reserves 13
Salem 15—Fairfield Varsity 10
Salem 21—Lisbon 13
Salem 27—Ravenna 18
Salem 31—Fairfield Varsity 29

Basketball is one of the finest games to teach cooperation, team-work and good sportsmanship. In any sport and in life one can't always be on the winning side. The breaks have to be taken as they come. Basketball is a game of skill and cunning. In football and track natural ability is foremost, but on the hardwoods it is not brute strength that counts, but quick thinking and proper timing as well as hours of practice. All good basketball players play because they love the game, it gets in their veins. The thump of the basketball on the floor, the shouts of the enthusiastic spectators, the shrill whistle of the referee, and glorious swish that means another goal has been scored is music to the ears of all lovers of this great American game.

Salem is very definitely a basketball town and has long been regarded as such by the leading teams in the state. Not that Salem goes to the state meet every year, but Brown's lads have always been well up among the leaders in state ranking. The success of the Salem teams can be partially attributed to Joe Kelley and the Memorial Building and Smith's intramural program for building up the potential stars for Brown to use on his championship squads.
Coach Cope's 1939 track team enjoyed a very successful season at the expense of their opponents, showing up well against such schools as Rayen, Boardman, Lisbon and Louisville. In the Salem Night Relays and the district meet, Salem was well up in the running. In the Columbiana County meet, the Salem team was in there fighting for its alma mater, and as a result made an excellent showing.

The outstanding stars of the season were Charles Huddleston, Captain Joe Morris, Frank Stone, Amos Dunlap, Bob Clark, Bill Schaeffer, all except Clark being lost to the team next year through graduation. This year Cope had ten letermen, all of whom developed in great shape to make this year's team one of the finest ever produced at Salem High School.

The team was coached by Frederick E. Cope, former Mt. Union athlete and holder of the Ohio two-mile and five-mile records and R. B. Clarke, former University of Illinois star.

Among the outstanding stars of the year who will return next year are Ernest Turner, Tom Rhodes, Art Chappell, Joe Vendor, Elliott Hansell, Bob Clark, Bob Scullion, Walter Bolinger and Kenneth O'Connell.
Although the Cross Country team's record is only mediocre, the team did develop some material for next year's squad. The following boys will be back next year for Coach Clarke to build his 1939 team around: Hutter, Breault, Dolnar, Boone, Bartchy, and O'Connell. In the district meet held in Akron, Salem placed sixth out of eleven teams. Charles Huddleston was the only medal winner in this event, snagging fifth and the right to compete in the State Cross Country meet at Columbus. In this Huddleston placed about fortieth out of one hundred contestants.

During the regular season, before the district and state meets, Salem did not fare so well, being beaten by several Akron teams. In a meet with North, East, South, Garfield and Buchtel, Salem placed fourth. But the season's record was good considering the material. Next year Clarke should have a much finer team as most of his boys this year were green.

Huddleston was the only boy to receive a varsity award. The following received reserve letters for their good work: Dickey, Hutter, Breault, Lutz, Dunlap and Dolnar.

The following seniors will be lost by graduation: Huddleston, Dickey, Lutz and Dunlap, to make way for the up-and-coming stars of 1939.
Mr. Ted Jones was the new golf coach this year. Mr. Jones, himself an enthusiastic golfer and lover of boys, coached the team through a very tough schedule, in which the team showed up very well.

The team had a roster of ten lads but only four could play in one game. The four varsity men were Si Wagner, Art Mieter, Warren Tullis, and “Ike” Spack. All are juniors and will be back next year.

The team had games with many schools in this vicinity, including East Liverpool, Alliance, Canton, and Youngstown Rayen. The team practiced when the weather was good, three times a week. Usually they had scheduled games twice a week, so in all the team was working out five days a week.

This year, as in former years, the team has practiced at the Salem Golf Club. The club has been very cooperative in allowing the team to use its course. It isn’t every town that has a golf club that will allow a school team to use its course free of charge. The team owns very little equipment, so the players have to furnish most of their equipment themselves. Next year the team expects to own most of the equipment so, with the four varsity men returning and new clubs and boys, a very successful season is expected.
Although a minor sport at Salem High, tennis has gained considerable interest in the past two years. With better teams winning more matches, the tennis situation has been brought into the student's focus of interest.

Coached by Herbert Jones, the team this year had a heavy schedule, playing some twelve matches with various out-of-town teams.

The mainstay of the team was Bill Rogers, last year's letterman, who was available again this season. He formed the nucleus for the squad. The remainder of the team candidates were as follows: Bob Vickers, Lee Willman, Dick Berry, Jack Warner, Jack Wright, Stewart Wise, and LeRoy Moss. The balance of the squad was made up of these boys.

Matches were secured with the following schools: Rayen, East, Warren, Lisbon, Alliance, Struthers, Sebring, and Youngstown South.

All home matches were held at the Salem Country Club, as usual.
FACULTY

These men are seldom seen but they are really responsible for many advantages that we students have. It was they who proposed a new addition for our school. They are the ones who appropriate money, determine the length of our school year, and help us in many projects which otherwise would be impossible.

Mr. F. P. Mullins and Mr. George F. Koontz serve as president and clerk-treasurer of the Board respectively.

In August of last year a change was made in the Board membership. Mr. C. R. Reich resigned. To fill out the unexpired term, Mr. A. E. Beardmore, '14, was appointed.

With these facts in mind, we wish to extend our sincere appreciation and gratitude to the members of the Board for their faithful service and for the many advantages they have made possible.
For the past three years he has been working for the good and for the benefit of the student body. For three years he has helped any and all who sought his help.

Just by these few words you undoubtedly know "he" is Harold M. Williams, principal of Salem High School.

It has been Mr. Williams who backed plans that had never before been attempted; and it was he who saw each one through to its completion.

During the past year Mr. Williams brought to us assemblies which proved to be educational as well as interesting and humorous.

With this message, Mr. Williams, we, the class of '39, leave with the hope that you will surpass your previous record in the years to come.
Mr. Smith had the great honor of being the first Dean of Boys in Salem High School. He was chosen for this post because he is so well liked by the boys and because of his understanding of the problems of teen-age youths.

Mr. Smith is well acquainted with the majority of Salem High boys because of the touch football and intramural basketball teams he organized and instructed. His wit and ability to talk man-to-man with the boys have made him a very capable man for the job.

Miss Hart's understanding and high ideals, which have made her so capable as dean of girls, have carried her successfully through another year at Salem High School. Her duty is to give guidance to the co-eds of the school, and her friendly smile and understanding sympathy have enshrined her in the hearts of those she has served. She assists the freshmen girls in planning their four-year curriculum and helps senior girls in deciding upon their colleges and careers. She is one person we could not get along without.

Author: "It's a success. Every time I send it out it comes back."

Miss McCready: "A dog fills an empty space in a man's life."
"Tiger" Lyons: "Yes, especially a hot-dog!"

Mr. Ted Jones: "What am I going to do with these girls who insist on talking?"
Harvey Rickert (from back of room) "Move them back here."

They were looking at the kangaroo at the zoo, when an Irishman said:
"Beg pardon, sir, what kind of a creature is that?"
"Oh," said the gentleman, "that is a native of Australia."
"Gosh heavens!" exclaimed Pat. "An' me sister married one o' them!"

Greetings to the Graduates of 1939!

Baby Ear of Corn: "Mama, where did I come from?"
Mama Ear of Corn: "Husk, dear, the stalk brought you."

Mr. Clark: "Mr. Taflan, what is the nature of this electric charge?"
Earl: "Negative."
Mr. Clark: "Are you sure?"
Earl: "Positive!"
Mr. Clark: "Correct."

Prof. Jones: (on hearing the sound of breaking glass): "Mike Guappone, is that you breaking another test tube?"
Mike: "No, that was just Dick Jaeger trying to wear a monocle!"

Coach: "What's his name?"
Manager Mike: "Osscowinskeuskiewskz."
Coach: "Put him on the first team! I never did like the newspapers in this town!"

Katey Rick: "Don't you ever want to improve?"

Louis Raymond: "Did you keep the date with your girl last night in all that rain?"
Dick Martin: "Naw, I waited for her for two hours and she didn't come, so I stood her up."

Mr. McDonald: "So you're the circulation manager of the football team? What do you do?"

Mike Nicora: "Why, I give the rub-downs."

Mr. Early: "Why are the works of Chaucer and Dickens called classic?"

"Between the dark and the daylight, when night is beginning to lower. Now children, repeat the next line yourselves," commanded Miss Jones.

"Comes a pause in the day's perspiration that is followed by a good, cold shower," came from the back row.

"Well, my son, what did you learn in Sunday School today?"

"We learned all about a cross-eyed bear."

"About a what?"

"Yes, sir, named 'Gladly.' We learned a song about him; all about 'Gladly, The Cross I'd Bear.'"

"Well!" sighed the minister, patting his stomach fondly, "I don't often eat a dinner such as I've had today!"

The atmosphere seemed so congenial and clubby that the host's small son felt obliged to say something.

"Neither do we!" he confided.
John Hanzlick: "The same tornado that blew away my father's wagon, dumped an automobile in the front yard."

Fritz Kloos: "Huh, that's no tornado. That was a trade wind."

During the gold rush days in California, a lady took her infant to the theater one evening and it started crying just as the orchestra began to play.

"Stop those fiddles and let the baby cry," called a man in the pit. "I haven't heard such a sound in ten years!"

The audience applauded the sentiment wildly, the orchestra was stopped and the baby continued its performance amid unbounded enthusiasm.

Motion pictures have ruined a lot more evenings than they have morals.

While Don Vincent was a very small boy, he startled his mother one day by rushing into the house yelling:

"Oh, mama, I pretty near had a horse!"

"Why, how was that?" said mama.

"Oh, a man was going by leading a horse, an' I asked him if I could have it. He said 'NO'! If he had said 'YES' I'd have had it!"

Pat: "Boy, that's grit for you. At death's door and still lying."

"These new fashions are absolutely freakish," said Mr. Jones. "Every time I look at that new hat of yours it makes me laugh."
"That's splendid, dear," replied his wife. "I'll hang it up where you can see it when the bill arrives."

Bob Dixon, it seems, was expecting some guests from the city for he comes into view now looking very impatient. Suddenly he ran into the station and asked the first office man he came to. "My good man, could you tell me when the 10:08 train will arrive."

DO YOU KNOW . . .

New grade school buildings in New York City are to be eight stories high in a central tower, with elevators capable of carrying a whole class at a time.

Cabbage eaten by ancient Greeks and Romans did not "head", but was more like kale.

Arithmetic useful to farmers: A hen that produces 200 eggs a year requires only 10 per cent more food than a hen producing 100 eggs.

A colt's long legs are not "full length" at birth, as some people think; the average draft colt will add seven inches from elbow to ground by the time it is grown.

A new treatment for black eyes consists of applying a chemical called histamine by aid of electric current.

Sixteen states have no speed limit on their rural highways.

He: "What would you say if I told you I have come a thousand miles through ice and snow with my dog team just to tell you I love you?"

She: "I'd say that was a lot of mush."

Visitor: You don't mean to tell me that you have lived in this out-of-the-way place for over thirty years?"

Inhabitant: I've.

Visitor: But, really, I cannot see what you can find to keep you busy.

Inhabitant: Neither can I—that's why I live here.
A shopkeeper surprised the neighborhood by putting up a new Venetian blind in his shop window.

"How much did it cost you, Isaac?" asked a friend.

"Not a cent, Aaron; my customers paid for it!"

"What! How was that?"

"I just put a little box on my counter labeled 'For the Blind' and they filled it up."

Mountaineer (taking son to schoolroom)

"My boy's arter larnin'. What have you got?"

Teacher: "We offer arithmetic, English, trigonometry, spelling, etc."

Farmer: "Be this the Woman's Exchange?"

Woman: "Yes."

Farmer: "Be ye the woman?"

Woman: "Yes."

Farmer: "Well then I think I'll keep Mag-gie."

Pauline: "Oh, yes, I've been nearly eaten by lions many times, but life without a little risk, would be very tame."

Winny Difford: "I agree! Many times when the weather has seemed doubtful, I have deliber­ately gone without my umbrella."

Ruth West: "When I sing tears come into my eyes. What can I do?"
Dorothy Krauss: "Try putting cotton in your ears."

Woman (telephoning): "I sent my little boy to your store for two pounds of plums and I got only a pound and a half. Your scales must be wrong!"
Fruit Dealer: "My scales are all right, madam. Have you weighed your little boy?"

Teacher: "Tommy, in the Smith family there are the father, the mother, and the baby. How many does that make?"
Tommy: "Two, and one to carry."

"Louis," the old gentleman bawled from the head of the stairs, "you ask Lee Willman if he don't think it's near bedtime."
"Very well, pa," replied dear little Louis Hoover. Then after a pause, "Lee said, 'yes' if you're sleepy, go to bed by all means."
A Mississippi River steamboat was stopped in the mouth of a tributary stream, owing to the dense fog. An inquisitive passenger inquired of the captain the cause of the delay. “Can’t see up the river,” was his laconic reply.

“But I can see the stars overhead,” the passenger replied sharply.

“Yes,” came back the captain, “but unless the boilers bust, we ain’t going that way.”

First Darky: "What fo' you name yo' baby 'Electricity', Mose?"

Second Darky: "Well, mah name am Mose, and mah wife's name am Dinah, an' if Dinamose don't make electricity, what does dey make?"

"I was sayin' some good things about you to a man this morn'."

"You was?"

"Ya-as. I said you had the best cattle an' sheep of any farmer I knewed. An' what was more, I said that o' hoss o' yourn was the finest in Franklin County—with at least $800."

"Who'd you say it too?" queried the flattered foe.

"The tax assessor."

Aunt Hetty: "Sakes alive, I don't believe no woman could ever be so fat."

Uncle Sy: "What y' reading now, Hetty?"

Hetty: "Why this paper tells about an Englishwoman that lost two thousand pounds."
