Salem Students Dare
To Be Different

Seniors

As we spend our final days at Salem High School, we leave behind what we will someday realize as many of the happiest times of our lives. These past four years, we have learned together and formed friendships with one another; all are valuable experiences that will compel us to search for new friends and strive for greater knowledge with the confidence and enthusiasm that is unique of our class. As your class president for the last three years, I have often seen this confidence and enthusiasm demonstrated on our attitudes and actions. Whether it be at a basketball game or fundraisers for the Junior Prom, we have exhibited a dedication to our goals that is rare. I genuinely wish you happiness and good fortune in whatever challenges that may lie ahead. Congratulations, Seniors! It has been an honor to serve you as Class President.

I've had a great time representing the Class of '93. It is hard to believe our high school years are over. They have gone so fast. I will never forget the great times I have had in high school. As we go our separate ways, I wish everyone good luck in whatever you do.

As we end a chapter of our lives, we will always remember the good and bad times of the past four years. Throughout our journey in life, our adventurous high school years will always be remembered. I wish the best of luck to the class of 1993.

It's hard to believe we are actually graduating. I never thought the day would come. We have all gone through so many changes. We have shared some of our greatest memories together. We have all become so close in our final year together. As we go our separate ways I hope we will still remember the friends we made.

It has been an honor to serve as your class treasurer, and I wish you the best of luck in whatever path your life follows.

SAT's . . . interviews . . . campus visits . . . essays . . . among the many prospects that senior year promises to offer, selecting a college proves to be the most agonizing and difficult one. After all, what could be more important than determining where a student spends the next four years of his or her life? Senior Emily Mager remembers one incident while taking the SAT that may only be described as horror. "Remembering all my strategies, I completed the first thirty questions on a verbal section, and I saw a STOP sign," she says. "With plenty of time left, I rechecked all my answers, with two minutes remaining. The only problem was that there were forty-five questions and no STOP sign at all. Panic set in. Ironically, I scored forty points higher than on my previous test!"

Some students were able to find some humor in their college application process. Jason Smith recalls, "One of the most entertaining aspects of choosing a college is the vast amount of college mail that I get. I get loads of college mail of which I don't read ninety-five percent of it. Some of it has been helpful, but I'm only going to apply to three or four colleges, not seventy-five of them!"

The Class Of 1993: One Last Time

On Sunday, June 6, at 2:00 in the afternoon, the Class of 1993 learned some final lessons at Salem High School. The graduates experienced mixed emotions, for behind the joy of graduating and the excitement of all the parties that were to follow comes a realization that is painfully bittersweet. They realized that they are leaving the place they have called "home" for the past four years.

As the 191 graduates marched into the gym to "Pomp and Circumstance", their faces reflected the nervous anticipation and relief they had been feeling for the past few weeks. The ceremony advanced smoothly, beginning with Class President Denise Lee addressing a last message to the seniors and leading the saying of the Pledge of Allegiance. Valedictory speeches were given by Michael Bigham, Curt Conser, Kalpana Mohan, and Tricia Stone. Addressees were also given by Mr. McShane and Mrs. Sharon Medford, President of the Board of Education, who provided "Twenty Bits of Advice for the Future", which earned a chuckle from the audience and added a touch of humor to the occasion. Class Vice President Ryan Keating gave the Reading of the Roll, and the seniors waited patiently to receive their diplomas, their tickets to the future and the rest of the world. Exclamations of joy and relief escaped the lips of the graduates as Class Treasurer Denise Miller signaled the Changing of the Tassels. The ceremony concluded with Chorister of the Year, Mrkanda Fitch, leading the audience in singing of the Alma Mater.

One of the hardest lessons the seniors learned that day was when to let go. For the past four years, they have all travelled down the same path together. Now they have reached the point where the road divides, where they must choose the path best suited to find their own individual dreams - the path best suited to help define each person of his or her personality and character. The Class of '93 also learned that letting go does not mean you can't hold on. Holding on means staying in touch with the family and friends that have travelled the same path as you. So stay in touch with the people that have picked you up and dusted you off when you have fallen down - because they have helped you become who you are today and the greatness you will achieve tomorrow.

Teacher And Friend

'She's A Part Of Our Lives'

"I enjoy the open discussions that we have in her class. You feel free to express your opinion and just say whatever is on your mind."

"She's so approachable. If I ever have a problem I need to talk about, I think I would like to see her about it."

"The slides are the best part. Ask her about the time she met the cast of 'Remington Steele'. It's hilarious!"

"When she starts talking about her trips to Europe, you feel like you've been there!"

"It made me feel good to see her at my baseball game. She told me she'd be there."

Who better is in the position to tell you about Mrs. Jean Esposito's many attributes than her students? After all, it is with these same qualities in mind that she has been chosen as the 1993 Teacher of the Year.

She was born and raised in Salem in a family of four. A notable perfectionist, she graduated from Salem High School as class valedictorian in 1971. She went on to Kent State University where she graduated Summa Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Arts in English and later, she obtained her Masters of Arts in English in 1982. In 1975, She became a substitute teacher, and shortly after, she began teaching English at SHS where she has remained to the present. She is Chairman of the English Department and instituted the Advanced Placement English course here in Salem. Her many honors include Jennings Scholar and member of the Who's Who Among American Teachers.

Part of the reason Mrs. Esposito is so valuable to her students is because she has taken an active part in their lives. She has been Girls Varsity Basketball Coach, AFS Advisor, Academic Challenge Advisor, Junior Class and Prom Co-advisor, and Pep Club Advisor. She is often seen at basketball, football, and other school events cheering on her students and showing her school spirit.

Married happily for twenty-two years to William Esposito, the couple enjoy traveling to literary sites in the United States, England, Scotland, and Ireland. Back in Salem, she is equally enthusiastic when it comes to sharing her experiences with her students. Mrs. Esposito also loves to collect carousel horses, in all shapes and sizes. Much of her time is also devoted to their two cats, Daisy and Margarita.

It is this concern in her students combined with her enthusiasm towards teaching that she is a unique and valuable asset to Salem High School. This year, the Yearbook Staff dedicates its highest honor of Teacher of the Year to Jean Esposito.

Memories

It was a perfect night, not just to win a football game against the Poland Bulldogs, but also to crown a new queen. The court included Heather Dugan escorted by Brad Heim, Erika Funk escorted by Ben Citino, Vanessa Haselow escorted by Charlie Straub, Marcy Tkatch escorted by Ross Ramunno, Emily Miller escorted by Daren Walker, Denise Miller escorted by Mike Flickinger, and Stephanie Roberts escorted by Mike Fisher.

Finally, as a star crossed the sky Marcy Tkatch was named 1992 Homecoming Queen.

The Perfect Ingredients

For Homecoming

Marcy Tkatch, the newly crowned Homecoming Queen, danced with her escort, Ross Lamunno, as the song and theme of the dance, "Through the Years" played softly on the dance floor. Beside her, the rest of the Homecoming Court danced with their escorts at this year's Homecoming Dance. Many people seemed to enjoy this pleasurable semi-formal dance and liked the idea of having the Homecoming Dance the night after the football game. This dance will be remembered "through the years" by the court and the students that attended.

The Generations Meet At Last

It is a brisk night in the fall of 1967. The fact that men are dying halfway across the world in Vietnam seems to be temporarily forgotten in all the excitement, for tonight one very lucky girl at Salem High School will be crowned football Homecoming Queen. The long, white envelope containing the new queen's name is carefully opened by last year's queen, Peggy Huber. A hush falls over the crowd, and Miss Theresa DeRoads is announced Homecoming Queen for 1967-1968.

It is now the fall of 1992. I spoke with her recently on some of her memories of that special night of her senior year when she became royalty. The thing she remembers most is the "incredible feeling of excitement throughout the whole court . . . everyone wondering who's going to get it." As the years have gone by the feelings and emotions have not changed.

Beside: Mrs. Ozimek, and Marcy Tkatch Today's and yesterday's homecoming queens.

"Wishing Upon A Star"

For many, the night of December 28, 1992, will be forever locked in their memories. This year's White Christmas theme was "A Starry Starry Night," and it was definitely well-named, for the Salem Golf Club was shining brightly as lights and music gave it an appropriate Christmas atmosphere. Though there was no snow to top off the evening, it was still a magical night.

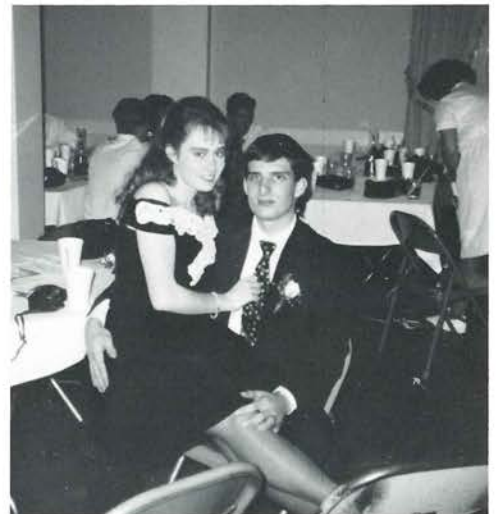

As the hall filled, the buffet lines grew long. Featured was chicken, potatoes, corn, and rolls, followed by a scrumptious cake and ice cream. When the plates were emptied and the forks laid down, it was time to start dancing.

On the dance floor, thousands of bubbles, shimmering with red and green lights, cascaded over the dancers' heads. A good variety of music was played. Some students, taking advantage of this, were awarded prizes for their daring moves. Highlights of the evening included a few brave souls headbanging to Nivana's "Lithium" and a train winding around the dance floor.

Most took advantage of getting photographed to preserve this wonderful night forever. Surely everyone is anxiously awaiting an experience just as enjoyable next year.

Sweetheart Queen And Court

The new queen Heather Heath and her escort Jason Aldom

It is every girl's dream to have the chance to wear a pretty dress and be escorted by the young man of her choice. Set that scenario to cheers from an audience, the event Basketball Sweetheart pops into mind. On February 19, 1993, one of the coldest nights of the year, seven girls were given the chance to shine in the spotlight. For the basketball team, victory was hard won as they played one of the best games of their season. It was a magical evening for all.

WE'RE NOT NERVOUS! During the game against Campbell, the girls and their escorts watch the action on court from specially reserved seats. As everyone is seen preoccupied, it is obvious that halftime is the farthest thing on their minds.

After a thrilling victory over Campbell, 71-70, with Ryan Keating shooting the winning basket at double overtime, Salem students were fired up and ready to party. Adorned with shades of pink and red and tiny white lights for the dance, the cafeteria was transformed into a temporary refuge for the students against the bitter cold night. Rocking to the tunes of favorites such as "YMCA" by the "Village People" and the "Electric Slide," the students let loose and allowed the music to take over.

A MOMENT FOR TWO As Denise and Chad are waiting to be presented to the audience, Courtney and Mike relieve some tension.

AND THE WINNER IS . . . ! Jan, Jason, Jenny, and Bob anticipate the winner as the basketball team awaits in the background.

TIME STANDS STILL In that special moment when the game (note the scoreboard) and time stand still, Heather Heath is crowned the 1993 Sweetheart Queen.

HEATHER'S MOMENT Amid hugs from the court and cheers from the audience, Heather is congratulated in her special moment.

Heather is escorted by Jason Aldom.

Without questing, this years prom was a huge success! The dance was held at Antone's in Boardman with Mark Antony Productions as the D.J., and it was truly in accordance with its theme, "More Than Words" After dancing the night away, we dragged ourselves out of bed in the morning to head to Cedar Point, where a great (and even more tiring) time was had by all. Thanks to all the juniors who gave us such a memorable weekend!!

"A Whole New World"

"A Whole New World" was the theme for this year's freshmen formal. The formal was held on Friday, March 26. It was a night of laughter and friendly smiles. The evening started with dinner which included spaghetti and meatballs, green beans, rolls, and, for dessert, chocolate or white cake. After dinner the students had their pictures taken and then it was off to the dance floor. Over eighty students attended this year's formal, which is the most since the first freshmen formal. This year's formal was a big success, and the students had a lot of fun.

Spring Fiesta

The Sophomore "Spring Fiesta" was held on April 17th with 76 students in attendance. The SHS cafeteria looked like Mexico, with a big thanks to Mr. Martinelli. The dinner was made by ALA-A-Cater and the music was provided by Small & Tall. We did everything from the Limbo to musical chairs. It was so much fun, no one had time for a siesta!

Steering Away From Chemical Taking

TACT was started by the Class of '86. Any student who is willing to sign and honor a contract which states they will not use any drugs or alcohol before, during or after a TACT activity may join. People are encouraged to join for a great time and not being pressured to use drugs. Mr. & Mrs. Cozza are in charge of this wonderful club. Some activities they have participated in are: TACT Olympics in April, Graduation Party in May, and a Christmas Party. They also have gone to the elementary schools and spoke to them on certain subjects.

Student Council

The Student Council has provided excellent leadership for the 1992-1993 school year. They represent the student body by being available for questions or suggestions for improvements. This year they sponsored dances, held a concession stand, and attended a Pittsburgh Pirates game. Also, they held an exchange day where they met with student council members from other schools. During their meeting many ideas were exchanged.

Hands Around The World

Members of AFS introduce foreign exchange students to American culture and make them feel welcome in their new home. Meetings are held once a month for any interested high school student. Activities this year included: a Thanksgiving Day Food Drive, Red Ribbon Week, Progressive dinner, Penguins game, and white water rafting. Also, fundraisers such as a car wash, bake sale, Bowl-a-Thon, two dances, and a concession stand were held. By bringing these students together, exchange students form friendships and make the transition to becoming "Americanized" more easily.

Juniors and seniors around the world depart from their homelands for a year to discover what America is all about. They are our exchange students, who stay with host families, enroll in high school, and take advantage of many activities and sports to make friends and familiarize themselves with the new lifestyle.

AFS sponsors many of these students. However, Rotary, AISE (American Intercultural Student Exchange), and EF (Educational Foundation for Foreign Study), also sends students here.

While here, the exchange students share a piece of their culture by talking to local groups and elementary and junior high schools. This gives listeners a new outlook on countries other than ours, from first-hand perspectives.

These students also get an in-depth look at our country, as many of them travel via the generosity of host families. Towards the end of their stays, exchange students receive a better awareness of America and the people here, plus a lasting treasure of memories to take home.

French Club

The French Club participated in many activities this year. Some of these were selling flowers, holding a pizza party and also a Christmas party. The members also had the opportunity to attend "Phantom of the Opera" in Cleveland.

Spanish Club

Under the direction of Mrs Marhefka the students in Spanish Club interact with each other and the Spanish culture. Spanish Club attended several excellent places and things, especially the party at Jason Smith's house. Other activities that the members have participated in are a skiing trip to Peak and Peak in New York, in December, and a trip to Chi Chis. The Spanish Club, also, threw one dance for the entire school in late winter. Spanish Club is a great club to belong to while broadening your cultural horizons.

Have you seen the exciting picturesque hoops at the basketball and football games before the players enthusiastically "ripped" through them? Did you attend the Sweetheart Dance? All these things are made possible by Pep Club. Pep Club is a group organized to promote spirit. The advisor is Ms. Laut. Pep Club also makes many of the banners and signs that are hanging around school. On behalf of the student body, the Yearbook would like to thank Pep Club for all their spirit activities.

What do cleaning up the Charles Burchfield home, designing YWCA pamphlets and setting up for local art shows have in common? All are and were activities of the SHS branch of NAHS, the National Art Honors Society.

Open to Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, NAHS provides an environment in which Art students can broaden their horizons. Meeting every few weeks, the Society is an organization designed to enlighten the artistic senses of the members involved, the students of SHS, and the Salem Community. The society spends hours on charity and related activities: setting up for the Governor's Art Competition, an art show for the amateur and not-quite-amateur art student alike; designing the banners for the Charles Burchfield 100th birthday celebration; and attempts to raise money to buy the Burchfield home; a Salem historical landmark.

Key In On Service

Advisors Mr. Washinko and Dave Firestone were busy this year as Key Club demonstrated its commitment to service in the community. During the Christmas season, the group collected trees to be recycled as mulch. Other activities have included: ringing bells for the Salvation Army, enjoying Kiwanis luncheons, sending members to the District Convention in Columbus, and sharing their services at the O.M. Competition. Serving others not only joins members of the community with high school students, but it is the "key" to their success.

Enviromental Club

In their neck of the woods, a little-known ecology club was busy saving time and energy for the numerous projects they completed. As the SHS Environmental Club finished its second year, club members could sit back and smile as they thought of their many accomplishments including: adopting a whale, planting flowers to spruce up the school, hosting several speakers, recycling paper, selling tee-shirts, holding a bake sale, passing out trees and green ribbons, and participating in the Envirothon. The club is more than just another ecologically-minded trend; it is a positive addition to the school and the spirit of its preservation. Now, let's take a break to recycle that aluminum can . . . . .

Summin' It Up

Take a group of interested students, add them to one helpful math teacher (Mr. Trough) and you get the Math Club, formed three years ago. Meetings are scheduled once a week to provide students with practice problems to coordinate their brainpower with paper and pencils. It is a productive combination. To sum it up, the Math Club is one club which divides the mathematically-minded from the mindless.

Look Us Up In The Quaker!

Under the direction of Mr. Ladner, "The Quaker" went into its 80th-year of production. "The Quaker" is made possible by the juniors and seniors in journalism class. Costing the students nothing, "The Quaker" is distributed mostly every other week. "The Quaker" is something that most students take for granted, but they should understand how much work is put into the paper. The students in journalism meet every day to work on their particular articles. Without "The Quaker" Salem High would not be what it is today.

"To be or not to be . . ." This line will echo throughout eternity as well as other dramatical and poetical lines will live in the minds of other SHS students. Since its inception in 1990, the Drama/Poetry Club has left its mark in the lives of small groups of poetically-minded students through the classes of 1990-1996. Open to all students at SHS, the club is a chance to enlighten one's horizons by sharing poetry, stories, and dramatic works written by members of the club. Dreams are made and realized here, and new Stephen Kings and T.S. Elliots are made weekly, if only in the minds of the group members. May their dreams be realized, and their works published, so that, like the above line for Shakespeare's "Hamlet," the Drama/Poetry club and its members' works will live in our minds forever.

Beat The Buzzer

"What is the third most plentiful gas in Earth's atmosphere?" "What was the name of Henry VIII's first wife?" "What is the period of a sin curve?" If you know the answers to any of these questions, then Academic Challenge is for you. In 1992, the group began its practices twice a week, racking their brains over such questions, preparing for the spring County Bowl, a competition with questions that would challenge even the smartest of teen-aged Einsteins. This year, the Salem team placed fifth in the county, ranking behind East Liverpool, Leetonia, East Palestine, and United Local. With the arrival of the Knowledge Master Open, an international computer competition, the group once again was academically challenged in areas ranging from Not-So-Useless Trivia to World History, Economics, Psychology, and Music. The team performed terrifically this year, and although many of this year's members will not be returning next year, Academic Challenge will remember them. (And by the way, the period of a sin curve is 360.)

The Secretarial Scene

Juniors and seniors enrolled in Administrative Secretary I and II, CBE, and SOEA can get a taste for a job in the real world.

The purpose of Administrative Secretary I is to open the doors of the secretarial scene and provide preparation for jobs in office occupations. This program enables junior students to develop on-the-job skills such as typing, filing, accounting, and machine transcription. Computer applications such as word processing, database, and spreadsheets are also introduced. Students may choose to continue this route their senior year and progress even further.

Administrative Secretary II is designed to provide educational experiences to seniors who are employed as positions become available. The techniques of job hunting, career planning, and resume writing are taught to enrich the students' knowledge in the world of work and work ethics. Upon completion, these graduates may enter the job market or leave college as an option.

Students enrolled in the CBE or Cooperative Business Education program begin employment immediately. These motivated seniors gain leadership, sociability, and organizational skills under the supervision of school and work. One of the highlights of the program is the Employer Appreciation Banquet, where CBE students have the opportunity to thank their employers and supervisors.

SOEA or Salem Office Education Association brings students together for charity projects, field trips, speakers, and fundraisers. This year, Administrative Secretary I made Thanksgiving baskets, visited Community Mutual Insurance, had several speakers, and sold candy. The Administrative Secretary II toured Blue Cross, held a Christmas luncheon with a speaker at Timberlanes, typed numerous Good Teen Day letters, and participated in Work Week as well as selling boxes of candy and wrapping paper. So, learning the tricks of the trade through one of the many programs available provides an edge on today's competitive job market.

Music To Our Ears

Choir through continued success has become one of the most popular classes in the Salem High School. This year Concert Choir, Chamber Choir, and Freshman Choir dazzled the crowds during every concert. The first concert this year was the Christmas Concert with the annual singing of "Silent Night." After that, the Pop's Concert was held in February. The Chamber Choir highlighted this concert with their hippie clothes and hairstyles singing a medley of songs from the late 60's and 70's. Their Spring Concert, the final concert of the season, was held in May. Finally, Mrs. Jeckavitch and the rest of the choir were given a banquet held at The Salem Golf Club for their outstanding year.

"Marching To A Different Beat"

The Salem High School band is known as "the pride of Salem." Every four years the band returns to Florida for national competition. This year's band left for Florida on November 12, 1992, and returned on November 17, 1992. With a lot of hard practicing and fundraising, the band returned proudly announcing that they received a Gold Medal. The selections played for competition were "Get Ready," "Can't Help Falling in Love with You," percussion feature—"Duke of Earl", and "My Girl." They visited many places including the Magic Kingdom, Epcot Center, MGM Studios, Medieval Times Dinner Theatre, and they also marched through and spent the day at the Magic Kingdom.

Focus In

As we put the finishing touches on the 1992-93 school yearbook, it is funny to see that with as much reporting we have done, the school year's almost over, and there's so much more to write about. I hope we have been able to report as much of it as we can — the way you remember it.

One of the most difficult tasks involving the yearbook is choosing the theme. Looking back, the theme for our annual couldn't be any other but the one we have chosen — "A Closer Look," because 1993 is about the student. This year's yearbook is meant to honor you, the student, and your endeavors at Salem High School. To do so, we have involved as many students as possible in the process. This year, we have an unprecedented number of students featured. We have provided you with more surveys and interviews than in previous years. Included also is a minimag, a new feature that focuses on student life at Salem High School.

I want to thank our advisor, Mrs. Hays, for her valuable advice and endless patience. I would also like to thank our fifth period aides especially for doing "the dirty work," which took a weight off my overloaded mind. Special thanks to Mr. McShane, teachers, and staff for their cooperation and support.

It's been a great year!

Laura Farkas, Ass't. Editor

It's time again to give credit where credit is due. We are all aware of the work that goes into putting a yearbook together, and I'm sure it has been for the best. I've found that no matter what I asked of my staff, there was always a soul willing to help, and I'm thankful for that generosity you've all shown. Through thick and thin we've pulled together to produce this book to the best of our ability. Thank you all for the encouragement and the great atmosphere you created to work in.

Thanks!
Sarah

Cheering Us On

Salem High School cheerleaders are the most enthusiastic and energetic students in school. They work very hard to make sure each and every team member gets the support that's deserved.

Starting the school off with good school spirit was the first job of the girls. Signs, banners, and colorful decorations were spread throughout the school, and were maintained all year through. At games the girls got both the crowd and team members pumped up to help win the game.

As always, no game would be complete without the highly spirited Salem High cheerleaders. They set good examples for the entire student body. Their enthusiasm is catching and helps keep momentum going throughout the year.

Putt And Stroke

This year's Salem golf team led by senior Tyler Minamyer survived a tough schedule and ended their 1992 season at 5-12. The team under the coaching of Coach Dye lost most of their opening matches, but ended up winning the last couple. This young talented group of golfers should be looking forward to the next year's golf season since the team is losing only one senior. Overall, the Salem golf team's future looks optimistic and many victories should occur.

Salem lost on Tie Breaker

Punt And Pass

The 1992 freshmen football team under the direction of Coach Paul "Stud" Headland and Coach Ken Campradt were M.V.C. champs. At a record of 4-2-3 the Quakers were a bit lucky to receive the M.V.C. title. Never-the-less, the Quakers were a good football team that got wins over Campbell, J.F.K., West Branch, and Struthers. The freshmen Quakers look to help out next year on varsity.

Salem Junior Varsity finished their season at 0-4-2. Even though they did not do well they had a great time while playing. The Quakers were ahead or tied at half time in all but one of their games. Salem had a lot of talent on the field such as: Jason Papic, Jake Cook, Todd Austin, Aaron Catlin, Bart Melody, Keith Stearns, Craig Faulkner, Nathan Walker, Matt Kunar, Tom Kugler, Ryan Pennell and Mark Ramunno. Look for most of these players to play a lot next year on varsity. There were a lot of good times for both the team and first year coaches Sean Kirkland and John Ebersbach. Aaron Catlin playing quarterback will be the best memory.

Block And Tackle

The Quakers of 1992 had a year full of hardship. Even though the team played with extreme effort, several games came down to the wire with our guys finishing on the short end. However, led by the elusive speed and trickery of senior quarterback Doug Exline, the Quakers managed to upset East Liverpool, and Poland who finished at 8-2 including a win over J.F.K.

The Quakers finished at 2-8, but many on the team believed that they could have been 8-2 with the two losses coming from J.F.K. and Louisville (even though Salem was winning 7-6 at halftime). Two of the most devastating losses came against Campbell and Struthers. In the Campbell game a long touchdown run by Campbell on the last play of the first half proved to be the deciding play of the game. While in the Struthers game, the Wildcats scored on the last play of the game to give them the win, despite help from junior Jason Papic, and sophomores Lonnie Kubankin, Sean McGrath, and Corey Belaney. Belaney was an excellent addition to the Quaker backfield and looks forward to responding with big numbers the next two years.

Several Quakers received post season honors including Exline, Andres, Aldom, Pitts, Keating, and Maniscalco. Exline was voted captain of the team which is a conglomerate of M.V.P. and emotional leader.

Salem looks forward to next year with next year's juniors carrying most of the burden.

Run And Finish

At the start of the season, it seemed as though the Boys Cross Country team would lose everything, but under the training of Coach Frank Parks, they improved faster than could be believed, winning almost every meet and eventually pulling the esteemed title of MVC champs. The school will look on this season as a fond memory, but for those on the team, 1992, like any great war battle or victory, will live on for them forever.

Julian, Nye, Zornick, Rea, Spanbauer, and Sommers - off to a great start - and a great season.

State . . .

November 2, 1992, will be a day that the Boys Cross Country team will never forget. After travelling to Scioto Downs, Ohio, they ran and pulled a third place victory over opposing teams and schools, proving once again that Salem will be either tops or near there every time. Jason Julian proved to be one of the top runners this year, and as a Sophomore has two more years to shoot Salem to the top and over. Dan Nye, Russ Zornick, and Mark Rea, as Juniors, would run to the finish line and past. Great season,

Run To The Finish . . . .

A steaming performance and season boiling over with talent are only two of the details that will be forever linked with the red hot 1992 Girls Cross Country team. Although it seemed that the girls were to simmer for a while and let the season evaporate, they soon exploded with expertise, making it extremely hot for the other teams in the area. They seared the competition as each individual fireball gave her part to lead the team to a blazing 9th place in regionals and a scorching record of 12-1. The two seniors — Jennifer Greenamyre and Jennifer Rice — scalded the opposition and freshman Jenni Brown set the school on fire. To say the girls were hot is an understatement. They were molten, and they have branded SHS with their marks forever.

Ranked second in Division II, the Salem Varsity volleyball team had an outstanding season. To begin with, they were able to take the District Title only after defeating Hubbard 15-8, 15-5 in the semi-finals. Then Salem defeated West Branch 15-12, 15-7 for the District Title. However, Salem was defeated by state champion, Akron Hoban, in the regionals at Midpark High School.

Many players on the team received high honors. Valerie Scott was named most valuable player of MVC, First Team in Division II, MVP of All County, and Second Team All State. Shannon Hollister earned MVP of the MVC, First Team in Division II, Honorable Mention All State, and First Team All County. Other members of the team receiving honors were Megan Alix and Stephanie Sadlowski. Megan Alix was named to Second Team MVC, Second Team Division II, and Second Team All County. Stephanie Sadlowski received Second Team MVC, and All County Honorable Mention.

This year's Salem Junior Varsity volleyball team had a perfect season with a record of 20-0. The team was led by Monika Conrad, Jaime Jeffries, Elizabeth Winch, Tarran Turvey, and Danielle Conser. The team was coached by Molly Copacia.

Serve And Volley

The 1992 girl's tennis team started off their season knowing this would be a good year full of learning and experience. Coach Joe Judge was expecting a year of trial and error, considering this is only his second year as coach.

With a record of 5 wins and 16 losses, the girls have left room for improvement. But, that can be expected from such a young team. Only six seniors played this year. All others who dedicated their time will be returning next year.

All of the girls who participated this year worked very hard and put in good practices. Good job girls!

Winning the MVC was not enough this year for the Salem Varsity soccer team coached by Coach Bowdler and Assistant Coach Wright. Two members of the team broke the scoring record for the number of goals scored in one game. Joel Stewart and Jamie Ostarchvic each scored four goals to break the school record. The soccer team ended their incredible season with a record of 14-3. Their only losses were to Niles (3-2), Canfield (3-1), and Boardman (6-0) in the Districts. In the Boardman game, the last game of the season, goalie Daren Walker ended his high school soccer career with ten saves. The other seniors on the team were Charlie Straub, Ross Ramunno, Jason Smith, Rick Hoffmaster, Mike Ruple, and foreign exchange student Emil Eckerstein. The captain of the team, Charlie Straub, said, "The season fulfilled all of our pre-season expectations. For instance, the MVC, Tri-County League, and the Sectional championships. It was a perfect season for my senior year."

On that note, this year's Salem soccer team will always stand out as a year of great achievements.

Junior Varsity Soccer also had a season to be proud of. They had an undefeated season led by Steve Harrold.

This year's freshman boys basketball team ended up with a record of 6 wins and 11 losses. Coached by Mr. Ken Campradt, the boys earned a few memorable victories. The most memorable came at the end of the West Branch game. With seconds left, Jim Martin threw a half-court - and made it - which won the game for Salem!! They may not have had a winning season, but experience is vital as the freshman team moves on.

The Salem High wrestling team doubled their last season's record even though their team consisted of mostly freshman and sophomores. Most of the team's success had to do with their 112 pound wrestler, Nelson Cope. Nelson was runner up in the state meet, the second highest finisher ever in school history, and the only wrestler to place twice at State. The team was also helped out by the new additions, such as Corey Belaney, Mark Ramunno, Bob Pitts, and Jim Stockton. Other Salem wrestlers that did well this year were Brian McCaslin, Wes Calvin, and Matt Kunar. Matt Kunar came on at the end of the season to qualify for districts.

The girls team did quite well, losing only one dual meet and tying one. The girls beat Struthers, 92-27, but lost to Poland, 69 1/3-57 2/3. They finished second in the MVC behind Poland. In the district meet, the following individuals qualified for regionals: Jenny Greenamyre, senior, 110 and 300 hurdles; Angie Adams, sophomore, 800 meter and 1600 meter; Jenni Brown, freshman, 1600 meter and 3200 meter; the 4 by 800 relay team (Errin Shasteen, junior, Lisa Stewart, sophomore, Adams and Brown). "We did very well this year," said Coach Laut. "The girls worked hard, and it showed off toward the end of the season," she added. Laut said, "I'm looking forward to a good year next year. We need to improve our field events. We need more people doing that."

The team was led by seniors Emil Eckerstein, Mike Ruple, Jeff Spatz, Bob Pitts, Mike Huzyak, Ross Ramunno, Jason Smith, Jeff Holenchick, Jason Aldom, and Eric Sweitzer. The 3,200 meter relay team consisting of Russ Zornick, Dan Nye, Jason Julian, and Mark Rea qualified for state. Qualifying in individual events were Nye (1600 meter run), Zornick (800 meter run), and Rea (3200 meter run). Overall the boy's track team had a very successful season.

The boy's tennis team has gotten better over the last few seasons. Last year, they were 11-10, the first season over 500 in a while. This year, with a few rained-out matches, Salem finished 13-6.

The team finished second in Columbiana County, behind East Liverpool. Ken Lee, junior, finished first in the county in the first singles position. Garret Hecking, senior, finished third at the second singles. Curt Conser and Jacob Bails, seniors, finished second in the doubles. Matt Price and Ernie Wukotich finished first in the second doubles position. The team also competed in the sectionals. Fourth-seeded Lee was upset in the second round. Hecking advanced to the second day of the tournament, but was beaten in the third round. The team went on to beat West Branch in match play, 4-1. The next two matches were rained out. Coach Judge said that the team's record this year was the best in the last ten years, and possibly the best in Salem boy's tennis ever. "It was a good season," he said. "Next year will be interesting, since we only lose three seniors (Conser, Bails, and Hecking)", Judge said. Only time will tell if the team can equal or surpass its great season of '93.

Jump And Spike

The Salem boys volleyball team topped off a great season with a trip to State. The Quakers went 12-6 during the regular season and 2-4 at State. The team was lead by eight seniors who were Curt Conser, Eric Switzer, Bill Garlock, Joe Rea, Stuart Poagge, Brett Switzer, and Emil Eckerstein. The others who contributed greatly were Dan Palmer and Ben Hettinga.

Even though the Salem High Baseball team ended up 11-13 they always thought they could win and always stayed in the game until the end. "With a few breaks the team could have easily been 20-4," expressed senior player Chad Rhodes. In all sports the team leaders are usually seniors. This year's seniors were Jeff Andres, Doug Exline, Chad Rhodes, Brad Heim, Mike Bigham, Darren Walker, Brock Lesko, Mike Ruple, and Ben Citino. Other players that contributed were junior Eric Weikart and sophomores Nate Hendricks, Brock Engle, and Nate Walker.

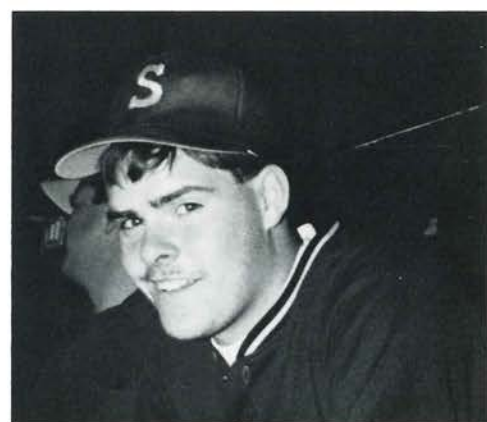

The Salem Jayvee's team ended the year with 5 wins. The leaders of the team were junior Phil McElfresh, sophomores Ryan Drake, Marco Nicotera, Matt Backus, and Dennis Charnesky and Freshman George Duko

Events Of 1975

Elections for the 94th U.S. Congress resulted in Democratic party landslide as Republicans suffered a net loss of about 47 seats in the House and Senate. The Democratic victory was attributed to voter's anger over inflation and Watergate.

Turkey invaded Cyprus after Greek army officers attached to the Cypriot national guard brought down the government of Archbishop Makarios. Discredited by Turkey's successful invasion, the military junta which had ruled Greece since 1967 returned the Greek government to civilian control.

Egypt, Syria and Israel, led by the indefatigable diplomacy of U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger signed disengagement agreements requiring a partial Israeli pullback along the Syrian border and in Sinai. International teams began to clear debris from the Suez Canal, blocked since 1967.

British and Canadian elections, the kidnapping and conversion of Patricia Hearst by political terrorists in California, India's explosion of an atomic device, the resignation of West German Chancellor Willy Brandt, and the exile of Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn were among other top news stories of 1974.

Kristie Stewart

TACT:

One Last Weekend

As graduation day approaches and the school year comes to an end, Salem seniors treasure their last moments together and hold on to each other for as long as they can. Beginning on Friday, May 21, TACT members were given the opportunity to share each other's company and make some more memories for one last weekend.

On Friday, May 21, at 7:00 PM, TACT members met at the Salem Golf Club for a dinner dance planned by Mrs. Cozza and the TACT parents. The banquet hall, decorated with elementary school photographs and life-size crayons and school supplies, was transformed into memory lane for many students as they laughed and cried over baby pictures of themselves and their friends. They kindergarten teachers of the students were also invited that night as honored guests as they reminisced with their former students (You're so big and tall now, I hardly recognized you!" was frequently heard.). After a delicious dinner, the seniors hit the dance floor and danced allnight to music supplied by K-105 FM. T-shirts, mugs, and other free prizes were also won through a raffle, and it wasn't long before every student won one souvenir of the evening. At 11 PM, the students went home, and with sleeping bags and camping gear, returned back to the Golf Club to travel in a caravan to the Cozza's residence. That night, the seniors camped out, played games, and listened to music until the early hours of the morning. In the morning, they were treated to a wonderful home-cooked breakfast made by the TACT parents. Afterwards, the students set off for a day of hiking and canoeing. For those students they had never canoed before, they spent a lot of time getting wet, though they were also helped by their other friends who have a little more experience.

The students that attended the TACT WEEKEND believes that they had the best time of their lives. That weekend, memories were made that will stay with them for a lifetime.

THE SENIOR GUYS OF THE ROUND TABLE From counter-clockwise: Brad Heim, Daren Walker, Ross Ramunno, and Bartu Ulgur share a private joke.

Bill Schneider, Manal Masry, Jeremy Board, and Stuart Poage enjoy their dinners, judging by the smiles on their faces.

STRILE A POSE! Tricia Stone, Krissy Milazzo, and Mike Bigham show us how it's done.

Baccalaureate

First Annual Baccalaureate

This year a new aspect of an old tradition was started to take the place of the combined annual Commencement and Baccalaureate. Because of the U.S. Supreme Court ruling in 1992, which divided church and state, prayer is no longer allowed at graduation. Thus, a group of seniors organized their own Baccalaureate service that was held at the Salem First Friends Church. Senior Jason Smith was the chief organizer of the service and got his help from his Sunday School teacher Bob Hodgson.

Youth Pastor Quint Bryan opened the service, and state representative Sean Logan made remarks on the supreme court ruling. A Salem High Men's Quartet consisting of Dominic Ferreri, Mrkanda Fitch, Jeremy Tausch, and Jeremy Pruitt sang "Amazing Grace" with beautiful harmony, and the First Friends Youth Choir, O.T.J., led by Annie Hubbard sang two songs. Mrs. Jeckavitch led the audience in two hymns accompanied by Michelle Wolf. The main speaker was George Lilja, an eight year NFL veteran. Lilja played for the Cleveland Browns and the New York Jets. He is also an alumnus of the University of Michigan. Other seniors involved in the organization were Joe Rea, Jacob Bails, and Sarah Lieder. Athena Bodkins attended the afterwards expressed her disappointment that the service could not be held at the school with the Commencement. The service was very successful for the first year. There were 230 attenders with approximately 30 of those being seniors.

State Representative Sean Logan thanks the Seniors for their ambition in preparing the service.

Good Teen Day

National Good Teen Day on January 16 was established by Mr. Viencek in 1992. This year marked the second annual Good Teen Day festivities. Mr. Viecek created this day so that teens could be recognized as a valuable part of society. Speakers at this year's assembly were State Representative Sean Logan, Mr. McShane, James Trafficant, U.S. Congressman from the 17th District, and Mr. Lesch, President of City Council.

The festivities were further expanded this year to include an essay contest and an art contest. The theme of the contests was "why goodness is a valued trait among today's teenagers". Next year, the program will be expanded even further to include more aspects.
